LBJ Asks Record $135 Billion Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called on the nation today for "a measure of sacrifice" - higher taxes, higher postal rates, higher paycheck deductions—to help finance history's biggest budget.

Budget In Brief

For fiscal year Ending June 30	1967	1968
Spending	$126.7	$135.0
Income	117.0	126.9
Deficit	9.7	8.1
Federal Debt, yearend	327.3	335.4

Along with a $135 - billion spending blueprint for fiscal 1968, the year starting next July 1, the President sent a hands-off warning to Congress members who are grumbling loudly at rising deficits.

The spending loomed much larger, and the deficit smaller, in two less familiar budget yardsticks mentioned by Johnson. The "cash budget" adds up to $172.4 billion; the "national income accounts" show $167.1 billion with a deficit of only $2.1 billion. Both include Social Security and other trust fund payments along with the regular budget appropriations on which Congress acts.

Deep budget cuts could cause a recession instead of the expected seventh successive year of record prosperity, Johnson's annual budget message said.

He told Capitol Hill: "The economy, the budget, and the aims of our society could be jeopardized by either a larger tax increase than his proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge, or by large slashes in military or civilian programs.

★ ★ ★ Calls On Nation To 'Sacrifice' ★ ★ ★

"I have reviewed these programs carefully. Waste and nonessentials have been cut out," he said.

Th budget bears what Johnson called "the deep imprint" of Vietnam. Acknowledeging that the war is beginning to pinch, Johnson asked $19.4 billion for Vietnam alone in this year's expanded $67-billion defense Department budget and $21.9 billion in ths $72.3-billion Defense Department budget for fiscal 1968. Roughly another $500 million in each year would be spent for economic aid in Vietnam through the agency for international development.

The President requested $375 million for start of production of the Nike X antiballistic missile defense "for such purposes as defense of our offensive weapon systems," pending arms limitation talks with the Soviet Union.

The deployment of the defenses—which could cost up to $40 billion — will be deferred, Johnson said.

But he added in the event discussion with Moscow "prove unsuccessful, we will reconsider our deployment decision."

The "sacrifice" asked by Johnson includes the 6 per cent succharge on corporation and most personal income proposed in his State of the Union address —and widely criticized in Congress — as well as a further speedup in corporation tax payon transportation. Successive stepups in Social Security taxes in 1968 and 1969 would be required to pay for the benefit increases Johnson proposed to Congress Monday.

Johnson's revised budget for 1967 shows a $9.7 billion federal deficit, the second biggest since World War II. It was exceeded in "peacetime" only by President Dwight D. Eisenhower's $12.4 billion of red ink in 1959.

Comparisons in billions of the revised 1967 budget and the proproposed 1968 budget: spending $126.7 and $135.03; receipts $117 and $126.9; deficit $9.7 and $8.1.

The budget carried few surprises, although it called for "an unmanned landing on Mars in 1973 and early - stage construction of a third nuclear aircraft carrier."

Among the biggest, in spending terms, were $135 million to extend Project Head Start into the elementary grades with followup work, $160 million to help create jobs for slum youths and adults, and $150 million for the "model cities" slum-eradication program.

Ths downhold was visible also in Johnson recommendations that:

—Space outlays be cut $300 million, to $5.3 billion, without delaying the effort to place a man on the moon by 1969.

—The decision to build a supersonic airliner, with Uncle Sam footing nine-tenths of an estimated $4-billion bill, be delayed further while design work goes ahead. A $450 million allowance for contingencies would cover the starting costs, Johnson said, "should an affirmative decision be made to proceed."

—A prospective $618-million postal deficit be erased by mail rate increases totaling $700 million. The proposed new rates would include a one-cent hike for first class and air mail letters and a 20 to 30 per cent increase for second and third class mail. Parcel post would not be affected.

—Up to $5.75 billion of government-held assets be sold to investors. Republicans have attacked the asset sales as "budget gimmickry."

To indulge in heavy-handed budget cutting, the president warned Congress, "could depress economic activity, reduce the incomes of individuals and corporations, and thereby fail to secure the revenues it was designed to achieve."

500 Feared Drowned In Brazil Flood

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — About 150 bodies have been recovered following disastrous floods around Rio de Janeiro, and one police estimate said as many as 500 may have died.

With hundreds reported missing, rescue workers combed through mud and debris. No exact casualty figures were available.

Torrential rains Sunday night fed the raging waters and set off landslides which swept one crowded bus off a highway into the swollen Paraiba River 33 miles west of Rio and buried another under mud and rocks. Fifty bodies were recovered.

A construction camp in the same area was engulfed by a tributary of the Paraiba. At least 300 persons were reported living in the area before the floods hits.

Luiz Eduardo Braga, who escaped through a rear window of a bus before it was buried in a landslide, said: "I tried to convince the others to get out of the bus after I left. It was fruitless. After I ran away from the bus, the mud came down and covered it."

A few miles away, Ataide de Oliveira lost his entire family as a hillside collapsed.

"I went out through the roof with my small girl in my arms," he said. "My wife and my brothers-in-law were with me. Soon they disappeared, dragged by the stream coming down the hill. When I saw all that water falling, I threw my girl over a landbank and managed to seize a branch. When I came back she was gone."

The Itaguai region about 30 miles west of Rio de Janeiro was among the hardest hit. An estimated 800 were homeless and 200 were reported missing.

The Rio-Sao Paulo highway, which runs parallel to the Paraiba River, was impassable for more than 90 miles. Police said a number of persons in private cars may have been swept to their deaths. Witnesses reported at least a dozen cars in the swollen waters.

At least 10 persons died in Rio de Janeiro as a result of the rains, including three who drowned when a bus with 10 passengers fell into a canal. Four persons were known to have died in Sao Paulo.

In Volta Redonda, a steel town in Minas Gerais State, a raft ferrying 26 passengers across the Paraiba River flipped over Sunday, killing 13 persons, including 9 children.

B52s Bomb Middle Of Buffer Zone

2 Other Sites Hit; North Air War And South Are Quiet

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. B52s rained bombs in the middle of the demilitarized zone today while the air war in North Vietnam and the ground war in the south quieted down.

The B52s made two other raids during the day, both in Tay Ninh Province northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

In the Iron Triangle, also north of Saigon, Brig. Gen. Richard T. Knowles, 51, of Columbus, Ga., commander of the U.S. 196th Light Infantry Brigade, escaped unhurt when his helicopter was hit by Viet Cong ground fire Monday for the second time in five weeks. A soldier aboard the helicopter was wounded.

The chopper made a forced landing after it was hit by automatic weapons fire 200 feet off the ground over the Ho Bo Woods, 25 miles northwest of Saigon. Knowles also escaped injury Dec. 19 when his helicopter was hit eight times by enemy ground fire.

Bad weather closed in over North Vietnam again and U.S. pilots were limited to 42 missions Monday, the first time after a week that the missions fell below 50.

One plane, an Air Force F4C Phantom jet, was shot down by Communist ground fire and the two-man crew is missing, U.S. headquarters announced. It was the 466th announced U.S. plane loss over the north.

Among the raids, Navy fliers from the carrier Kitty Hawk attacked the Thanh Hoa railroad yard 80 miles south of Hanoi and reported a large secondary explosion. Air Force pilots reported cutting up highways in four places in the western part of North Vietnam near Dien Bien Phu and the Mu Gia Pass.

Both the U.S. and South Vietnamese military commands reported only minor ground action in South Vietnam. Operation

Okay Looms For Old Age Aid Increase

Congress Divided On Whether LBJ's Plans Too Costly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress starts work in three weeks on a Social Security bill, apparently in a mood to increase benefits but divided as to whether President Johnson's proposal is too costly.

Johnson's message Monday recommended benefit increases of 15 to 59 per cent. But these would be financed by several major increases in the payroll tax so that by 1974 some earners would be paying $599.40 a year, more than twice the present maximum.

Republicans have already introduced legislation calling for an 8 per cent increase in benefits and automatic future increases if living costs rise appreciably. They said such an improvement could be financed out of surpluses being produced by the existing tax and that a payroll levy increase would not be needed.

But Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, where Social Security legislation originates, said Republicans based these assumptions on a national economic future so favorable that it would not be safe to rely on them.

Without saying so publicly, key figures on both sides indicated they expect a compromise.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., senior minority member of the Ways and Means Committee, said the Republican bill he introduced "is the basis we start from."

He said Republicans would weigh special feature elements of the President's proposal against the tax cost.

One they particularly tend to favor, he said, is relaxing the rules on the amount of money a retired person may earn without cutting his Social Security pension.

Mills said Ways and Means hearings will begin probably Feb. 15, with government officials testifying at least for the first three days.

'Slow Time' Bill To Face Rough Going

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A hurry - up bill to put Ohio on Eastern Standard Time the year around appeared today to be heading toward a speedy defeat in the state legislature.

Hearings on the proposal began only Monday night before a joint Senate - House committee, but reliable sources said it would never get to the Senate floor.

Ohio must have a standard time law on its books by the last Sunday in April or it will automatically go on Daylight Savings Time under the new federal Uniform Time Act. Under ordinary circumstances, it takes 90 days for a bill to become law.

That means the legislature must act by Monday or try to adopt a standard time bill as an emergency measure, which takes a two-thirds vote. Even supporters of standard time said it appeared unlikely action could be completed before Monday — or that standard time could muster a two-thirds vote.

In other actions Monday, administration leaders presented a bill to continue the existing 99 representative and 33 senate seats which the present legislators hold. This action is necessary to keep the districts intact for the 1968 and 1970 elections. The 1966 elections were held under a federal court order.

Four members of the Senate Agriculture-State Agencies Committee, which began hearings along with the House Committee on State Government, were reported ready to block the standard time bill. Only one other Senate committee member—Chairman Tennyson Guyer R - 2 Hancock, the sponsor—could be counted as a definite yes vote. The other three members were said to be fence straddling.

It would take five Senate votes to get the bill out of committee.

Reported lined up against the standard time measure were Sens. Anthony O. Calabrese, D 8 22 Cleveland, Cuyahoga; Charles J. Carney D-33 Youngstown, Mahoning; John Longsworth R - 30 Columbiana, and Ralph S. Regula R-29 Navarre, Stark.

Guyer opened the unprecedented joint hearing before a crowd estimated at various times at 150 or more, including spokesmen for several farm and theater groups favoring standard time.

The Findlay Republican began with a short speech in which he

Hearing Slated In Shooting Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today scheduled a preliminary hearing Friday for a 22-year-old East Liverpool man charged with assault with a deadly weapon after he allegedly fired a .22-caliber revolver three times at his stepfather as the climax of an argument early this morning in their home.

Ronald Egnor of 931 Dresden Ave. was taken into custody by three officers in the 800 block of Lincoln Ave. a short time after the incident in which his stepfather, Hugh Thorne, escaped uninjured, police said.

The .22-caliber shots crashed into the lath and plaster of a wall between the kitchen and the diningroom of the Thorne home, police explained. Two spent bullets were recovered and a third was believed embedded in the wall, officers said.

POLICE SAID Egnor was standing in the kitchen of the home and looking at his stepfather in the adjoining room through a hole which had been cut in the wall as a pass-through for food. Virtually all the force of the bullets was spent in penetrating the wall, officers explained.

Egnor has had two prior brushes with the law in recent months in bizarre escapades.

He escaped injury in a leap into the Ohio River off the Chester Bridge. He also crash-

2 More Seek Council Seats In Primaries

Two more candidates filed today with the County Election Board to seek nomination for East Liverpool Council seats, boosting to 40 the total now entered for the May 2 primaries in seven county communities.

The new local candidates are:

Victor Lee Smith of 414 Blackmore St., for the Republican nomination for one of three Council - at - large seats.

Two Wellsville aspirants also entered.

Appeals For Assembly's Aid

Shafer Sets Up Leadership Goal

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer asked the General Assembly today to join him in his quest for excellence as he bared a program blanketing the many state needs ranging from constitutional and legislative reform to increased urban assistance.

"...Our Commonwealth is at one of those rare moments in time when enlightened and creative citizens need only provide leadership to pluck us from the common flow of history and thrust us into an exciting era of greatness," Shafer said in a speech prepared for an appearance before a joint session of the legislature.

"Let us vow here today — in this hallowed hall where the people govern themselves — that you and I will provide the excellence of leadership they demand," Shafer implored in his First State of the Commonwealth message since his inauguration a week ago.

Shafer's program, specific in a number of respects, general in a number of others, ran the gamut of state government concerns: Constitutional revision; modernization of state government; education; employment and industrial development; transportation; conservation; crime; urban affairs.

But he continued to shy away from what is considered the most important decision confronting his new administration in its earliest days — the budget and new taxes that might be required to meet expenses.

He said: "...There are decisions on certain programs that must await the outcome of our current examination of the state's revenue needs.

"The last session of the legislature mandated programs that will increase our spending substantially, without including costs of new programs.

"I pledge to you ... that our

Hancock Gets U.S. Okay On Food Stamps

Hancock County has been approved for participation in the federal food stamp.

The announcement was made today at Washington by Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd.

Seven other West Virginia counties also were approved for the program, meaning an additional 6,600 persons will take part. They are Brooke, Marshall, Ohio, Wetzel, Tyler, Ritchie and Pleasants.

W.Va. Liquor Bill Legal, Ruling States

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia Attorney General C. Donald Robertson said today liquor in private clubs would not violate the State Constitution.

In an opinion directed to House Speaker H. Laban White, D-Harrison, Robertson said "the legislature may constitutionally and legally approve a bill of the type introduced in the House Friday by Dels. Ivor F. Boiarsky, D-Kanawha, and Fred A. Grewe Jr., R-Ohio.

Their bill would permit licensing of private clubs with restaurant facilities to sell liquor by the drink to members and their guests.

Military Leaders Vow To Aid Mao

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's official news agency said today that the nation's military commanders have vowed to help Mao Tse- tung seize "party, state, financial and other power from the persons in authority who are taking the capitalist road."

It was a rare admission that such broad power had slipped from Mao's hands.

Japanese correspondents in Peking quoted wall posters as saying the army had gone into action over the weekend to crush an uprising in the Peking suburb of Fangshan. Wall posters also reported clashes in Tientsin, 100 miles southeast of Peking, and in Paoting, 80 miles southwest of the capital.

Red Guard wall bulletins said army troops moved into Fangshan and seized control of the Communist party's county headquarters and the Security Bureau. The bulletins said a handful of counterrevolutionary elements" had "arrested several hundred revolutionaries and subjected them to fascist torture."

Mao's New China News Agency reported pledges of support from "commanders and fighters of the three services of the Chinese People's Liberation Army" in Kunming, Lanchow, Shenyang, Canton, Foochow, Nanking, Wuhan, Peking, Changtu, Tsinan, Tibet, Sinkiang and Inner Mongolia.

It did not mention Kiangsi,

Legislation Would 'Split' 7th District Appeals Unit

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A move to cut the 13-county Seventh District Court of Appeals into two districts was made under a bipartisan banner in the Ohio General Assembly Monday night.

The House bill would create a new northern district — the 11th — from the present district, which ranges 160 miles along the Ohio River.

Under the proposal, Mahoning County would be retained as the seat of the present 7th District. Other counties in the proposed southern district would include Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison, Belmont, Noble and Monroe.

The new 11th District would be made up of Lake, Ashtabula, Geauga, Trumbell and Portage counties.

Ohio Assembly Bills Set On Air Pollution Compact

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A proposed Ohio - West Virginia air pollution abatement compact was presented Monday night in the 107th Ohio General Assembly.

Identical bills with bipartisan support were introduced in the House and Senate as the legislative pace quickened in the fourth week of the session.

In the Senate the bill will be guided by Sens. John Longsworth, R-Salem, Oakley C. Collins, R-Ironton, and Charles J. Carney, D-Youngstown.

Hearings on the proposal began only Monday night before a joint Senate - House committee, but reliable sources said it would never get to the Senate floor.

Ohio must have a standard time law on its books by the last Sunday in April or it will automatically go on Daylight Savings Time under the new federal Uniform Time Act. Under ordinary circumstances, it takes 90 days for a bill to become law.

That means the legislature must act by Monday or try to adopt a standard time bill as an emergency measure, which takes a two-thirds vote. Even supporters of standard time said it appeared unlikely action could be completed before Monday — or that standard time could muster a two-thirds vote.

In other actions Monday, administration leaders presented a bill to continue the existing 99 representative and 33 senate seats which the present legislators hold. This action is necessary to keep the districts intact for the 1968 and 1970 elections. The 1966 elections were held under a federal court order.

Four members of the Senate Agriculture-State Agencies Committee, which began hearings along with the House Committee on State Government, were reported ready to block the standard time bill. Only one other Senate committee member—Chairman Tennyson Guyer R - 2 Hancock, the sponsor—could be counted as a definite yes vote. The other three members were said to be fence straddling.

It would take five Senate votes to get the bill out of committee.

Reported lined up against the standard time measure were Sens. Anthony O. Calabrese, D 8 22 Cleveland, Cuyahoga; Charles J. Carney D-33 Youngstown, Mahoning; John Longsworth R - 30 Columbiana, and Ralph S. Regula R-29 Navarre, Stark.

Guyer opened the unprecedented joint hearing before a crowd estimated at various times at 150 or more, including spokesmen for several farm and theater groups favoring standard time.

The Findlay Republican began with a short speech in which he

Hearing Slated In Shooting Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today scheduled a preliminary hearing Friday for a 22-year-old East Liverpool man charged with assault with a deadly weapon after he allegedly fired a .22-caliber revolver three times at his stepfather as the climax of an argument early this morning in their home.

Ronald Egnor of 931 Dresden Ave. was taken into custody by three officers in the 800 block of Lincoln Ave. a short time after the incident in which his stepfather, Hugh Thorne, escaped uninjured, police said.

The .22-caliber shots crashed into the lath and plaster of a wall between the kitchen and the diningroom of the Thorne home, police explained. Two spent bullets were recovered and a third was believed embedded in the wall, officers said.

POLICE SAID Egnor was standing in the kitchen of the home and looking at his stepfather in the adjoining room through a hole which had been cut in the wall as a pass-through for food. Virtually all the force of the bullets was spent in penetrating the wall, officers explained.

Egnor has had two prior brushes with the law in recent months in bizarre escapades.

He escaped injury in a leap into the Ohio River off the Chester Bridge. He also crash-

Shafer Sets Up Leadership Goal

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer asked the General Assembly today to join him in his quest for excellence as he bared a program blanketing the many state needs ranging from constitutional and legislative reform to increased urban assistance.

"...Our Commonwealth is at one of those rare moments in time when enlightened and creative citizens need only provide leadership to pluck us from the common flow of history and thrust us into an exciting era of greatness," Shafer said in a speech prepared for an appearance before a joint session of the legislature.

"Let us vow here today — in this hallowed hall where the people govern themselves — that you and I will provide the excellence of leadership they demand," Shafer implored in his First State of the Commonwealth message since his inauguration a week ago.

Shafer's program, specific in a number of respects, general in a number of others, ran the gamut of state government concerns: Constitutional revision; modernization of state government; education; employment and industrial development; transportation; conservation; crime; urban affairs.

But he continued to shy away from what is considered the most important decision confronting his new administration in its earliest days — the budget and new taxes that might be required to meet expenses.

He said: "...There are decisions on certain programs that must await the outcome of our current examination of the state's revenue needs.

"The last session of the legislature mandated programs that will increase our spending substantially, without including costs of new programs.

"I pledge to you ... that our

2 More Seek Council Seats In Primaries

Two more candidates filed today with the County Election Board to seek nomination for East Liverpool Council seats, boosting to 40 the total now entered for the May 2 primaries in seven county communities.

The new local candidates are: Edward B. Massey of 218 W. 4th St., for the Democratic nomination for Fourth Ward councilman.

Victor Lee Smith of 414 Blackmore St., for the Republican nomination for one of three Council - at - large seats.

Two Wellsville aspirants also entered.

Council President Allen C. Baldwin, a Democrat, filed yesterday afternoon to seek nomination for a second term.

Hancock County has been approved for participation in the federal food stamp.

The announcement was made today at Washington by Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd.

Seven other West Virginia counties also were approved for the program, meaning an additional 6,600 persons will take part. They are Brooke, Marshall, Ohio, Wetzel, Tyler, Ritchie and Pleasants.

W.Va. Liquor Bill Legal, Ruling States

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia Attorney General C. Donald Robertson said today liquor in private clubs would not violate the State Constitution.

In an opinion directed to House Speaker H. Laban White, D-Harrison, Robertson said "the legislature may constitutionally and legally approve a bill of the type introduced in the House Friday by Dels. Ivor F. Boiarsky, D-Kanawha, and Fred A. Grewe Jr., R-Ohio.

Military Leaders Vow To Aid Mao

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's official news agency said today that the nation's military commanders have vowed to help Mao Tse- tung seize "party, state, financial and other power from the persons in authority who are taking the capitalist road."

It was a rare admission that such broad power had slipped from Mao's hands.

Japanese correspondents in Peking quoted wall posters as saying the army had gone into action over the weekend to crush an uprising in the Peking suburb of Fangshan. Wall posters also reported clashes in Tientsin, 100 miles southeast of Peking, and in Paoting, 80 miles southwest of the capital.

Red Guard wall bulletins said army troops moved into Fangshan and seized control of the Communist party's county headquarters and the Security Bureau. The bulletins said a handful of counterrevolutionary elements" had "arrested several hundred revolutionaries and subjected them to fascist torture."

Mao's New China News Agency reported pledges of support from "commanders and fighters of the three services of the Chinese People's Liberation Army" in Kunming, Lanchow, Shenyang, Canton, Foochow, Nanking, Wuhan, Peking, Changtu, Tsinan, Tibet, Sinkiang and Inner Mongolia.

It did not mention Kiangsi,

Legislation Would 'Split' 7th District Appeals Unit

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A move to cut the 13-county Seventh District Court of Appeals into two districts was made under a bipartisan banner in the Ohio General Assembly Monday night.

The House bill would create a new northern district — the 11th — from the present district, which ranges 160 miles along the Ohio River.

Under the proposal, Mahoning County would be retained as the seat of the present 7th District. Other counties in the proposed southern district would include Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson, Harrison, Belmont, Noble and Monroe.

The new 11th District would be made up of Lake, Ashtabula, Geauga, Trumbell and Portage counties.

Ohio Assembly Bills Set On Air Pollution Compact

COLUMBUS, Ohio — A proposed Ohio - West Virginia air pollution abatement compact was presented Monday night in the 107th Ohio General Assembly.

Identical bills with bipartisan support were introduced in the House and Senate as the legislative pace quickened in the fourth week of the session.

In the Senate the bill will be guided by Sens. John Longsworth, R-Salem, Oakley C. Collins, R-Ironton, and Charles J. Carney, D-Youngstown.

The legislators said the proposed measure is designed to control air pollution originating in Ohio or West Virginia which crosses the Ohio River into the other state. It would create a commission having powers to

Chester Council Discusses Needs At City Building

Problems relating to the City Building and complaints of improper parking on the city's streets received major attention when Chester Council met Monday night.

Mayor Burton G. Ward explained the proper use of the communications system in the City Building, including police phones and radios. He requested firemen not to use the police phone in the fire department clubroom and also warned "unauthorized persons" not to use the radios for any reason.

COUNCILMAN Charles Kology submitted recommendations for repairing the damaged floor in the fire department garage. He said he had contacted a steel company official, and that a steel constructed base was suggested.

Councilmen Thomas Bowen and Robert Kincaid, members of the building committee, reported leakage from the upstairs kitchen in the City Building into the fire hall downstairs. The leakage will be checked for needed repairs.

Bowen, committee chairman, said some damage has been caused to the gymnasium on the second floor of the City Building by youths using the facilities for basketball practice.

Council warned that the gymnasium may be closed to basketball if supervisors do not maintain adequate control over those responsible for the incidents.

Bowen further complained of improper use of the downstairs restrooms in the building. He primarily blamed teen-agers attending dances on weekends.

Closer police supervision during the dances was proposed as a corrective measure. Other actions, such as locking the building or the restroom doors during night - time hours, were considered.

KINCAID requested the installation of tow-away signs on the street alongside Ray Zorzi's Garage of 601 Carolina Ave. after receiving continued complaints of automobiles being parked in front of the garage doors.

He pointed out that a tow truck might be blocked in case of an emergency.

Clerk - Treasurer Donald Hood was instructed to order the appropriate signs.

Kology reported additional parking problems at bus stops, particularly at 1st St. and Carolina Ave. There is inadequate space for buses to pull alongside the curb and the traffic flow is interrupted, he explained.

Council will contact the bus company for suggestions to alleviate the situation.

William Schladen and James Fox, representing the Lawrenceville Public Service District, addressed Council on the matter of additional applications for water service from 29 families residing on the border of the district.

A tentative agreement was made for the purchase of water for the proposed distribution system from the city of Chester at a meeting Jan. 13.

Schladen, who is chairman of the board of trustees, said he will contact D. E. Cerrone of Wheeling, consulting engineer, and a representative of the Farmers Home Administration relative to the request of the residents.

He and Fox, a trustee, said they will attend the next meeting of the Chester Water and Sewage Board Feb. 6. Ward agreed to set up a special meeting before that time if it should be necessary.

Bids from contractors for construction of the system are scheduled to be opened Feb. 1 at 7:30 p. m. at the Lawrenceville Community Center.

WARD REPORTED that officials of the Hancock County Board of Education have agreed to investigate the problem of disposing of the burned - out Central School building.

He headed a delegation which attended the board meeting Jan. 16 in New Cumberland to seek action in the matter of razing or repairing the structure.

The hazardous condition of the building entered by children on numerous occasions despite precautions taken to prevent this, was emphasized.

Ward announced that Irwin Higgs, Hancock County dog warden, had delivered copies of West Virginia laws governing dogs to the City Building for distribution. He added that Higgs had offered full cooperation with city officials.

He also reported on the use of radar the last two Saturday nights to cut down on traffic violations, particularly speeding.

He said the closing hour of midnight is being enforced at the Holiday Lounge on Route 66 in lower Chester. The report followed continued complaints of after-hours operation at the establishment.

IT WAS reported that a siren on private property on 2nd St. has been disconnected after complaints were received over the noise in regard to nightly use for the 10 juvenile curfew.

Modifications are being made to permit use of the siren for emergency fire calls only.

Remittances of $1,763.97 were ordered turned into the city treasury. Included in the total was $1,264.08 tax revenue from Sheriff Joseph Rodak.

Bills of $1,878.36 were approved for payment. They included an installment of $500 on the new police cruiser.

All Councilmen were present last night.

Nominating Unit Selected During Meeting Of MD

The committee is comprised of Mrs. T. W. Hawk of East Palestine, chairman, Mrs. Harry Martin and Mrs. Florence Drew, both of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Rudy Novak of Lisbon. The committee will present a slate at the April meeting.

The chapter approved payment of $14 in the patient service account and $22.18 in the campaign account. It discussed a district meeting scheduled in August at Columbus. Mrs. Ruth Jenkins of Rogers, patient service chairman, reported four Christmas baskets were distributed to patients. She said two patients have moved from the county and two new patients have been added to the rolls.

Aliens Reminded Of Report Date

Thomas M. Pederson, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, reminds aliens in Ohio and Kentucky they have only one more week in which to comply with the federal law requiring that aliens report their addresses to the government during January of each year.

The immigration official urged all aliens who have not yet complied to go as soon as possible to the nearest post office or Immigration and Naturalization Service office to file the report.

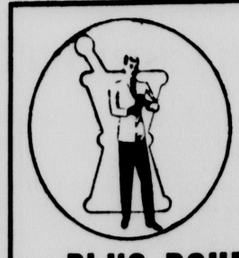

Parents or guardians must file the report for alien children under 14.

Pederson said the address report is required each year from all aliens except those in diplomatic status and representatives of certain international organizations.

He pointed out willful failure to comply carries serious penalties.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Mickey Rooney agreed Monday to contribute to the support of his sixth wife, Margaret, who asked for $845 a month. The amount was not disclosed.

Mrs. Rooney, 45, agreed to reconciliation talks but Rooney, 46, said he thought the marriage was beyond salvage.

Mrs. Rooney has filed a divorce suit on grounds of cruelty. He countered with a petition for divorce or annulment.

BUDAPEST (AP) — For the first time since his fall from power, Nikita S. Khrushchev's image has appeared on the stage in Hungary.

A theater at Miskolc, in northern Hungary, staged a version of a novel by the noted 20th century Czechoslovak noveliet Karel Capek.

The theater version of "Fight with the Salamandras" was titled "Spot Report on the Destruction of the World." A satire against fascism and nuclear war, the play featured images of Presidents Charles de Gaulle and John F. Kennedy, Premier Khrushchev, and former British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The Inroads Of Delinquency

Ohio's Gov. James A. Rhodes has proclaimed Jan. 29-Feb. 4 "Delinquency and Crime Prevention Week."

This isn't just another "week." It's a period which carries a direct challenge to youngsters and adults alike.

With special emphasis on delinquency—which has been prevalent not only in Columbiana County, but in neighboring areas as well — the words last week of Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court at Lisbon come to mind.

In commenting on confessed burglaries at three churches by two East Liverpool youths, the judge said: "God help you, boys, if this is all you have learned in nearly 18 years of life! How could you rob the house of God?"

The parents were as concerned as the judge.

This is not to single out this one case, but it does serve to point up the problem.

Delinquency takes many forms — and will always be with us to some degree. But the vandalism, the petty thievery, the disrespect shown authority and the other thoughtless actions of some youngsters have mounted to the point where one can only assume that our moral fiber is going down hill at too fast a pace.

The fault, naturally, does not always lie with the youngster. In many, many instances the root of the problem can be found in the home itself.

Gov. Rhodes suggests that each person take positive steps to aid in the fight against crime and delinquency. He cited these four steps as most important in bringing a reduction in each category:

1.—Obey the law yourself as a citizen and parent. Set the proper example for your children.

2.—Re-assert authority with your own children. Know where they go and with whom.

3.—Report crime in time. If you see a crime being committed or have information about a crime, phone the police.

4.—Protect your home and property by taking proper precautions both when at home and away from home.

The advice is sound. Let's make next week a time for reappraisal by youngsters and adults alike.

The "week" should apply not only to Ohio, but to West Virginia and Pennsylvania where the need exists. Residents of the tri-state area can perform a tremendous service by doing their part to curb the inroads of delinquency.

Shopping List

Shoplifting isn't a haphazard matter any more. It's out-and-out planned thievery as the arrest in Cleveland of two Pennsylvania women illustrates. In their car was found a list with specific items to be taken from stores in 13 cities, including East Liverpool.

All of which points up the need for continued vigilance and continued prosecution.

With the "self-service" trend of modern business, the "pickings" are becoming more and more lucrative for the professional shoplifter.

Answers Available—For A Price

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is an outspoken critic of the administration's Vietnam policy.

He has been more than willing to tell policy-makers all about what is wrong with their formulas.

With their brick-wall head-butting tactics being more or less fruitless so far, Sen. Fulbright has had a lot of listeners.

The Johnson administration has chided Sen. Fulbright about being full of questions and doubts but having no answers or alternatives.

All that has changed with the publication of the senator's eight-point plan to solve the total problem in Southeast Asia.

One thing about his plan likely to gall administration policy-makers at the outset is the fact it has been published in book form and they will have to pay to look at it.

Whether there is real significance to the proposal is a matter for analysts to decide.

But the senator has formulated a new idea in high-level communications by putting it on a paying basis.

If the idea catches on, a new era will be upon us.

Congressmen will be publishing books right and left.

If one comes up with a real answer to problems of race, war, pollution, housing, welfare or economics, it will become an instant best seller.

But based on previous performance, it is unlikely that many of the efforts will be tapped as Book of the Month selections.

Suitable Memorials

By Truman Twill

On Jan. 30 this year, Franklin D. Roosevelt would have been 85 years old.

His admirers are pondering ideas for a suitable memorial.

Their first idea was killed in its cradle—a massive memorial rivaling the Washington Monument and the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials. That was too much.

The second was laughed out of credibility. It was a series of massive granite slabs. The laughers called it "Instant Stonehenge."

The newest idea also calls for granite but on a smaller scale. Its fate is indeterminate.

Could it be the admirers of Franklin Roosevelt are looking so hard for something that might be they're blind to what already is?

The Franklin D. Roosevelt home on U.S. Rt. 9 south of Hyde Park, N.Y., is one of the most visited spots in the United States.

The house itself, a library built by private subscription to house the presidential papers and the graves of Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt have become a magnet which draws visitors by the thousands.

Nothing that conceivably could be built in Washington, D.C., could match this already existing shrine in New York state.

The question of what constitutes a fitting memorial is touchy.

It comes up all the time, not only for the admirers of the great and the near-great but for the admirers of the not-so-great, the run-of-mine and the downright obscure.

What can be done to immortalize the lives of the mortal?

The answer is that nothing can be done which hasn't already been done by the deceased.

It isn't the Washington Monument that immortalizes George Washington, but the towering steadfastness of the man, himself.

Jefferson's principles give meaning to the memorial in his honor.

This country's parks and cemeteries are full of vainglorious memorials to people who did nothing memorable. These are monuments only to the love their survivors bore for them.

Nothing that might be done elsewhere could express more succinctly the memorable thing about Franklin Roosevelt than a simple grave in the rose garden of the estate where he was born.

His life was memorable because it moved from origins of wealth and Hudson River Valley aristocracy into the arena of public affairs, where it was expended in behalf of the least privileged segments of the U.S. population.

Admirers of Franklin Roosevelt would have to outdo themselves to match what already has been done to commemorate him. And by happy coincidence Eleanor Roosevelt's useful life has been commemorated at Hyde Park, with the same dramatic under-emphasis — a simple grave beside the grave of the man whose public career made her the First Lady of the United States.

If ever there was a time to let well enough alone, this is it.

A Roosevelt Memorial in Washington would be debatable. Those two simple graves at Hyde Park are immune to controversy.

Odd Facts

The distinction of being the world's driest continent belongs to Australia, where the average annual precipitation is only 16.5 inches, as compared with the world average of about 26 inches.

One of the smallest, if not the very smallest, fish in the world is a kind of goby found in the Philippines. It is less than half an inch long when fully grown.

'Maybe We Should Sit Down And Chat!'

On The Record

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

The news that Adam Clayton Powell is putting out a record titled "Keep the Faith, Baby," and will use the royalties to pay off a libel judgement in New York City is a great shot in the arm for the long-playing disk business. Every record company is looking for someone in the public eye to make an album that can compete with it.

Art Buchwald

I talked to the head of one of the largest record companies the other day and he was desperate to find an idea for a talk record.

"Sen. Dirkson started the whole thing," he said. "And now with Powell following up with his record we've got to come up with something to compete with them."

"Do you have any ideas?"

"We've been working on some dandies. We're trying to persuade J. Edgar Hoover to put out a record titled 'Voices of Famous People I have Bugged.' We'd like to use actual conversations that the FBI has picked up over the years."

"It sounds great. Has Hoover shown any interest?"

"HE CLAIMS Bobby Kennedy has all the tapes."

"Who else have you contacted about making a record?"

"Well, we've got one idea for a record called 'Sing Along With Joe Valachi.' The idea would be to use the tapes of Valachi singing to the police with a choir in the background."

"You could sub-title it 'Nongallant Men.'" I suggested.

"I've been on the phone to Alabama trying to get Lurleen Wallace to make a record for us."

"What did you have in mind for her?"

"We thought of something like 'Lureen Plays Music to Segregate By; with her husband George conducting the Alabama State Police Symphony Orchestra."

"It would sell better than 'Dixie.'"

"I'd also like to get Gov. Lester Maddox to make an LP titled 'Themes and Variations on Making Fried Chicken.'"

"How about Ronald Reagan reading his budget deficite on a long playing record?" I suggested.

"We're hoping to get him to do one titled 'Ronnie Reagan Swings at Berkeley.' I think he works better before a live audience."

"It should be a riot," I said.

"We hope so. You know there's so much to be done in this field. We want to do a record called 'Bob McNamara and His Pentagon Brass' and another one titled 'Dean Rusk Reads Humorous Hightlights From the Fulbright Hearings.'"

"I'd buy that one"

"ONE OF OUR people has suggested we make one called 'Sex and the Supreme Court.' Each Supreme Court justice could read a passage from his favorite book that has been condemned as pornographic because it appeals to prurient interests."

"The cover alone would sell it." I said excitedly. "Has anyone talked to Bobby Baker?"

"Someone is over at the courthouse right now. We want to title it 'Bobby Baker Pleads Innocent' and we've promised if he did it we'd back him with 200 violins."

"What about George Hamilton?"

"I've got a check in my drawer right now. As soon as he signs the contract, it's his."

"What title would you put on it?"

"'Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition.'"

More Buzz Than Bite

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Like Socrates of old, Sen. J. W. Fulbright tries to be a gadfly on the conscience of the community.

But sometimes there seems to be more buzz than bite.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, has been President Johnson's steadiest critic on foreign affairs. He flailed Johnson for his handling of the crisis in the Dominican Republic.

He has never let up on Johnson's handling of the war in Vietnam. Now he has put his ideas together in a just-published book, "The Arrogance of Power." It's an enlarged version of his lectures at Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies last year.

But Fulbright as a critic has been sometimes vague and, to this writer, unrealistic. This shows up in his book, too.

AS AN EXAMPLE of some of his past unrealism: More than a year ago the Red Chinese outlined a plan for the conquest of the world by communism: revolutionaries in underdeveloped countries could be used to encircle and defeat capitalist nations.

Nevertheless, Fulbright suggested trying to make a deal with Red China under which this country would withdraw its forces from Southeast Asia if the Chinese would let their neighbors alone.

The trouble with this is that the Chinese, while proclaiming innocence, could help in a concealed way the Communists in a backward country, particularly one bordering Red China, to take it over. And so on, step by step.

Now in his book Fulbright outlines a plan for restoring peace in Vietnam although, if you follow him to the end, it's a plan which could wind up solving nothing and leave the United States completely baffled.

Boiled down, this is his idea:

The United States, South Vietnam, the Viet Cong and Communist North Vietnam should try to work out peace. The American side would first seek a cease-fire and stop the bombing of North Vietnam.

In this arrangement Fulbright seems to put the Viet Cong on the same plane of power with North Vietnam, although the Johnson administration considers North Vietnam the main adversary.

And, Fulbright suggests, the United States should pledge to remove its forces from South Vietnam. That is what Johnson did at the Manila Conference last fall, provided peace was restored.

THEN THERE should be an international conference — which would have to include Red China — to guarantee an agreement on self-determination for the Vietnamese, plus a plan for a referendum and reunification of North and South Vietnam.

The Viet Cong, of course, would have to be part of any government in South Vietnam. They could hardly agree to any peace plan as Fulbright's that didn't include them. But, once they were part of such a government, how long would their opposition last?

The same international conference should try to work out arrangements for neutralizing all Southeast Asia. Would the Red Chinese agree to that? If they did, how much meaning would it have, in view of their program to communize the world?

Finally, if no peace agreement is reached, according to Fulbright, the United States should consolidate its forces in certain fortified areas, or enclaves. But that would leave the Viet Cong free to roam the rest of the country.

The largest chuch in the world is the basilica of St. Peter, in Rome. The length of the church, measured from the apse, is 611 feet 4 inches. The area is 18,110 square yards. The inner diameter of the famous dome is 137 feet 9 inches, and its center is 390 feet 5 inches high. The external height is 457 feet 9 inches.

In 1850, as much as $653 was paid for a single seat at the concerts given by the famous Swedish soprano, Jenny Lind (1820-87).

Oswald's Mind

By David Lawrence

Russia's Claims Unfounded

The Soviet press has been getting away with misleading comments about the motives of Lee Harvey Oswald. It has ignored the fact the assassin of President Kennedy was influenced by Marxism and Communism.

The Literary Gazette, published in Moscow, had the effrontery to charge that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California is "controlled by the forces which took John Kennedy's life."

This was reported in a UPI dispatch to newspapers in the United States.

American observers have been inclined for a long time to believe Oswald was a "crackpot."

But if there is to be a re-examination of what really influenced Oswald's life, the facts can be found in the Warren Commission Report. They show there was no Hitlerism or Fascism involved — as is now claimed by the Soviet newspaper.

The report says it could not make any "definitive determination" of Oswald's motives but mentions this factor:

"His avowed commitment to Marxism and Communism, as he understood the terms and developed his own interpretation of them; this was expressed by his antagonism toward the United States, by his defection to the Soviet Union, by his failure to be reconciled with life in the United States even after his disenchantment with the Soviet Union, and by his efforts, though frustrated, to go to Cuba."

LITTLE ATTENTION has been given in the American press to the impact on Oswald's mind which resulted from his identification with Communism.

The Warren Commission says he started to read about Communism when he was 15 years old and told his fellow marines later that he was a Communist, though he never formally joined a Communist party.

The Warren Commission adds:

"It seems clear that his (Oswald's) commitment to Marxism was an important factor influencing his conduct during his adult years. It was an obvious element in his decision to go to Russia and later to Cuba and it probably influenced his decision to shoot at Gen. Walker. It was a factor which contributed to his character and thereby might have influenced his decision to assassinate President Kennedy."

Oswald went to the Soviet Union in October 1959, at the age of 19 and wrote to his brother that he would fight for Communism. He lived there two years. When he came back to the United States in 1961, he said he was disillusioned with the Soviet system, but that he nevertheless maintained his belief in Communist ideology.

EARLY IN 1964 Oswald became active in promoting the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, and in September — two months before the assassination — went from New Orleans to Mexico City to apply at the Cuban embassy there for a visa to Cuba on his way to Russia once more. The Warren Commission comments on this.

"Oswald's attempt to go to Cuba was another act which expressed his hostility toward the United States and its institutions as well as a concomitant attachment to a country in which he must have thought were embodied the political principles to which he had been committed for so long."

Henry J. Taylor, who was U.S. ambassador to Switzerland under the Eisenhower administration, has published a series of articles which reported that Oswald had a key contract with an officer in the Soviet Intelligence Service and had written letters to Soviet Embassy officials as late as Nov. 9, 1963. Mr. Taylor pointed out that Oswald received preferential treatment in the Soviet Union and declared he was affiliated "with the Communist cause and its personnel up to the very moment he died." At the time Oswald was in Moscow he wrote to his brother:

"In event of war I would kill any American who put a uniform on in defense of the American government—any American....."

There is no doubt that Oswald had an unbalanced mind. But responsibility for unbalancing it rssts to some extent on the Communist philosophy in which he was indoctrinated during his two-year stay in Russia.

The Inroads Of Delinquency

Ohio's Gov. James A. Rhodes has proclaimed Jan. 29-Feb. 4 "Delinquency and Crime Prevention Week."

This isn't just another "week." It's a period which carries a direct challenge to youngsters and adults alike.

With special emphasis on delinquency—which has been prevalent not only in Columbiana County, but in neighboring areas as well — the words last week of Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court at Lisbon come to mind.

In commenting on confessed burglaries at three churches by two East Liverpool youths, the judge said: "God help you, boys, if this is all you have learned in nearly 18 years of life! How could you rob the house of God?"

The parents were as concerned as the judge.

This is not to single out this one case, but it does serve to point up the problem.

Delinquency takes many forms — and will always be with us to some degree. But the vandalism, the petty thievery, the disrespect shown authority and the other thoughtless actions of some youngsters have mounted to the point where one can only assume that our moral fiber is going down hill at too fast a pace.

The fault, naturally, does not always lie with the youngster. In many, many instances the root of the problem can be found in the home itself.

Gov. Rhodes suggests that each person take positive steps to aid in the fight against crime and delinquency. He cited these four steps as most important in bringing a reduction in each category:

1.—Obey the law yourself as a citizen and parent. Set the proper example for your children.

2.—Re-assert authority with your own children. Know where they go and with whom.

3.—Report crime in time. If you see a crime being committed or have information about a crime, phone the police.

4.—Protect your home and property by taking proper precautions both when at home and away from home.

The advice is sound. Let's make next week a time for reappraisal by youngsters and adults alike.

The "week" should apply not only to Ohio, but to West Virginia and Pennsylvania where the need exists. Residents of the tri-state area can perform a tremendous service by doing their part to curb the inroads of delinquency.

Shopping List

Shoplifting isn't a haphazard matter any more. It's out-and-out planned thievery as the arrest in Cleveland of two Pennsylvania women illustrates. In their car was found a list with specific items to be taken from stores in 13 cities, including East Liverpool.

All of which points up the need for continued vigilance and continued prosecution.

With the "self-service" trend of modern business, the "pickings" are becoming more and more lucrative for the professional shoplifter.

Answers Available—For A Price

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is an outspoken critic of the administration's Vietnam policy.

He has been more than willing to tell policy-makers all about what is wrong with their formulas.

With their brick-wall head-butting tactics being more or less fruitless so far, Sen. Fulbright has had a lot of listeners.

The Johnson administration has chided Sen. Fulbright about being full of questions and doubts but having no answers or alternatives.

All that has changed with the publication of the senator's eight-point plan to solve the total problem in Southeast Asia.

One thing about his plan likely to gall administration policy-makers at the outset is the fact it has been published in book form and they will have to pay to look at it.

Whether there is real significance to the proposal is a matter for analysts to decide.

But the senator has formulated a new idea in high-level communications by putting it on a paying basis.

If the idea catches on, a new era will be upon us.

Congressmen will be publishing books right and left.

If one comes up with a real answer to problems of race, war, pollution, housing, welfare or economics, it will become an instant best seller.

But based on previous performance, it is unlikely that many of the efforts will be tapped as Book of the Month selections.

Suitable Memorials

By Truman Twill

On Jan. 30 this year, Franklin D. Roosevelt would have been 85 years old.

His admirers are pondering ideas for a suitable memorial.

Their first idea was killed in its cradle—a massive memorial rivaling the Washington Monument and the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials. That was too much.

The second was laughed out of credibility. It was a series of massive granite slabs. The laughers called it "Instant Stonehenge."

The newest idea also calls for granite but on a smaller scale. Its fate is indeterminate.

Could it be the admirers of Franklin Roosevelt are looking so hard for something that might be they're blind to what already is?

The Franklin D. Roosevelt home on U.S. Rt. 9 south of Hyde Park, N.Y., is one of the most visited spots in the United States.

The house itself, a library built by private subscription to house the presidential papers and the graves of Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt have become a magnet which draws visitors by the thousands.

Nothing that conceivably could be built in Washington, D.C., could match this already existing shrine in New York state.

The question of what constitutes a fitting memorial is touchy.

It comes up all the time, not only for the admirers of the great and the near-great but for the admirers of the not-so-great, the run-of-mine and the downright obscure.

What can be done to immortalize the lives of the mortal?

The answer is that nothing can be done which hasn't already been done by the deceased.

It isn't the Washington Monument that immortalizes George Washington, but the towering steadfastness of the man, himself.

Jefferson's principles give meaning to the memorial in his honor.

This country's parks and cemeteries are full of vainglorious memorials to people who did nothing memorable. These are monuments only to the love their survivors bore for them.

Nothing that might be done elsewhere could express more succinctly the memorable thing about Franklin Roosevelt than a simple grave in the rose garden of the estate where he was born.

His life was memorable because it moved from origins of wealth and Hudson River Valley aristocracy into the arena of public affairs, where it was expended in behalf of the least privileged segments of the U.S. population.

Admirers of Franklin Roosevelt would have to outdo themselves to match what already has been done to commemorate him. And by happy coincidence Eleanor Roosevelt's useful life has been commemorated at Hyde Park, with the same dramatic under-emphasis — a simple grave beside the grave of the man whose public career made her the First Lady of the United States.

If ever there was a time to let well enough alone, this is it.

A Roosevelt Memorial in Washington would be debatable. Those two simple graves at Hyde Park are immune to controversy.

Odd Facts

The distinction of being the world's driest continent belongs to Australia, where the average annual precipitation is only 16.5 inches, as compared with the world average of about 26 inches.

One of the smallest, if not the very smallest, fish in the world is a kind of goby found in the Philippines. It is less than half an inch long when fully grown.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To keep a baby's bottle warm for quite a while, cut a hole the size of the bottle in an aluminum foil pie plate and fit it down over the bottle which has been heated in a pan of water.

Cover the top of the pan with the pie tin so the bottle is sticking through the hole.

The aluminum plate keeps the water warm and the bottle from cooling too quickly.

M. F. GOODMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: We have two small children and the polish on their shoes was always rubbing off on the upholstery of the car because their little legs are too short to hang over the edge of the seat. I thought of slipping a pair of clean, old socks over their shoes after they get into the car.

Now the upholstery and their shoes stay clean no matter how much they squirm around in the car.

BETH.

DEAR BETH: Your old nylon stockings are excellent for this. They slip over children's shoes beautifully and can be kept in the glove compartment.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For a perfect fitting garment, I baste the pieces together before sewing on the machine, but leave openings about one-half inch on each side of connecting seams or where there are darts and tucks.

By basting first, adjustments may be made easily. Darts and tucks can be taken in, or let out, so the dress or blouse will fit perfectly.

ANNE.

DEAR HELOISE: A shoe salesman gave me the following tips on buying shoes:

It's better to shop for shoes late in the day because your feet spread as the day goes on (especially during hot weather). Shoes bought early in the morning may be real "pinchers" after you have been on your feet several hours.

Also, one foot is often slightly larger than the other, so it is wise to buy your shoes to fit the larger foot. Then, buy a pair of inner soles and insert one in the shoe for the smaller foot.

IRENE.

Regarding the second tip.

A friend of mine broke a toe several years ago and when it healed, that foot was slightly larger than the other . . . so she used the "inner-sole-in-one-shoe" method.

Last year she broke a toe on the other foot, so her feet are the same size again!

HELOISE.

Tompos Offers School Bus Bill

Tsapis Bill Would Raise Beer-Drinking Age To 21

CHARLESTON (AP) — Bills to raise the minimum beer-drinking age from 18 to 21 and to levy a special 5 per cent tax on all Sunday sales to raise money for schools were introduced in the West Virginia Legislature today.

Tompos Urges Probe Of Tax Commissioner

Sen. William Tompos, D-Hancock, Monday introduced a resolution calling for a probe by the West Virginia Legislature into the "manner and method" that Tax Commissioner G. Thomas Battle is filling positions in the department.

Tompos charges that Battle was attempting to hire someone ranked 10th on the Civil Service register over persons ranked at the top.

The resolution would have to be approved by both houses before it could conduct the probe.

In addition, other proposed legislation called for creating an airport authority to oversee construction of a jetport somewhere in southern West Virginia and to require school bus transportation for all pupils living one mile from their school.

Del. Callie Tsapis, D-Hancock, introduced the House bill to raise the legal age to drink beer.

A companion measure also would make it a misdemeanor to show a false identification card to buy beer or to gain admittance to a "beer establishment."

Efforts to raise the beer-drinking age have been made in the past, especially at the urging of some neighboring states where the minimum age is 21.

Del. Kenneth M. Ranson, R-Putnam, proposes a levy the special 5 per cent tax on all Sunday sales, which he said would add some $12 million per year in revenue.

His bill would forbid elementary and secondary schools to levy any kind of fee or assessment, with costs being borne by the special tax.

Under this measure, schools could not charge for books, essential supplies, robes, gowns or caps.

A bill introduced in the Senate would require all public school boards to furnish transportation for pupils living more than one mile from the school they attend.

Currently, children are bused if they live more than two miles from school. Sponsoring the measure was Sen. William Tompos, D-Hancock.

Another of the so-called "good samaritan" bills also was introduced in the Senate today by Sen. David W. Mullins, D-Logan.

Baker Offers To Take Lie Detector Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bobby Baker, offering to take a lie detector test, neared the end today of cross-examination in his federal court trial.

The former secretary to Senate Democrats denied he pocketed $80,000 in campaign contributions intended for senators or that he evaded some $22,000 in income taxes in 1961 and 1962.

He is charged with income tax evasion, larceny and conspiracy.

His account is that he turned campaign funds over to the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., in 1962. And that Kerr loaned him $25,000.

Asked by prosecutor William O. Bittman about another $5,300, Baker said that over the years he and his wife, also a Senate employee, formed the habit of "taking $100 from each other's pay," and saving it in cash in a safe at their home.

Mention of a lie detector test came in Baker's response to earlier testimony from Wayne L. Bromley, friend of Baker.

Bromley has said that in 1964 he requested Baker to stop a practice whereby fees to Baker from business firms were received in Washington in the form of checks made out to Bromley.

Baker exclaimed to Bittman: "I'll let you hire the best lie detector you can find in the whole world and make that test. Mr. Bromley never made that statement."

U.S. Dist. Judge Oliver Gasch announced after a conference with lawyers that the case would go to the jury this week.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2% of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 527-D, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York.

It is sufficient to send your name and address. Just a postcard will do.

District Winners Are Listed In VFW Democracy Contest

The winner in the annual 1st District VFW and Auxiliary Voice of Democracy contest, held last week in Moundsville, has been announced by state headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of West Virginia, at South Charleston.

The first district, or Panhandle District, includes Hancock County.

Charla Buzzard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buzzard of Adaline, Marshall County, placed first. She is a sophomore at Cameron High School.

Competing against her were Robert Vukas of Newell, a senior at Oak Glen High School; Richard Pyle of Valley Grove, a student at Linsly High School, and Robert M. Soly of Bethany, Bethany High School student.

The contest was conducted in cooperation with the National Radio Broadcasters of America and tape recordings were made for judging in the district contest.

Each of the students previously had won in school and county competition to advance to the Panhandle District contest.

The theme this year is "Democracy — What It Means To Me."

Miss Buzzard will receive a scholarship to a state - sponsored college and a savings bond and a tape of her speech will be forwarded to Charleston for state judging.

Vukas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Vukas of 615 Harrison St., Newell.

Sanford Graham, commander of the Chester VFW post, earlier awarded Vukas a $25 cash prize as the winner at Oak Glen. Patty Kaminski, a sophomore at Oak Glen, received the $15 second prize and Kelsey Hayward, an Oak Glen senior, the $10 third prize.

Auckland Police Nip Brawl After Rioters Stop Ky's Car

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Policemen with police dogs broke up a wild brawl at Auckland Airport tonight after demonstrators stopped South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's car by throwing themselves on the roadway.

Women hurled themselves in front of the speeding black limousine, and men pounded on the windows with their fists as a shower of eggs splattered against the car.

Screaming and punching at policemen who tried to stop them, the demonstrators forced the driver of the car to brake quickly. Police dragged two women and several men from the road as the crowd of about 300 surged around the vehicle.

The car's interior light was on, and Ky appeared anxious as a burly New Zealander thumped the window and cursed him. The booing, jeering crowd chanted "Ky, go! Ky, go!" and "Fascist! Fascist!"

Placards and lumps of wood bounced off the car as it sped off after a delay of about three minutes.

The crowd tried to stop other cars in the motorcade, and fights between police and demonstrators continued for several minutes after Ky was on his way to a downtown Auckland hotel. There another crowd of about 200 hurled ink at policemen and kept up a continuous booing that could be heard for several blocks.

Security police surrounded Ky as he stepped from the limousine and walked briskly to an elevator.

The demonstrators at the airport waited more than an hour for Ky's plane to arrive from Wellington, the capital 450 miles to the south.

Coroner Reports On Investigation By Office In '66

A total of 159 deaths in Columbiana County — including two murders — was investigated by Dr. William Kolozsi, county coroner, and his staff in 1966, the annual report shows.

There were 91 deaths due to natural causes, 31 auto fatalities involving county residents, seven auto deaths of non-county residents, 14 accident deaths and 14 suicides. Autopsies were ordered in 36 cases.

A breakdown of the highway fatalities shows one the result of a car - sled mishap, two involving motorcycles, three pedestrians, 11 in which the vehicle was out-of-control and 14 direct collisions.

There were seven deaths resulting from auto mishaps out of the county — two each in Beaver, Hancock and Mahoning counties and one in Jefferson County.

Causes of the other accidental deaths were: asphyxiation, 1; Drowning, 3; crushing, 2; electrocution, 1; falls, 3; gunshot, 1; carbon monoxide, 1; hanging, 1, suffocation, 1.

The total number of accidents investigated, with traffic deaths listed in parentheses, in recent years shows: 1965 — 149 (34); 1965—125 (26); 1963 —155 (32), and 1962—133 (28).

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To keep a baby's bottle warm for quite a while, cut a hole the size of the bottle in an aluminum foil pie plate and fit it down over the bottle which has been heated in a pan of water.

Cover the top of the pan with the pie tin so the bottle is sticking through the hole.

The aluminum plate keeps the water warm and the bottle from cooling too quickly.

M. F. GOODMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: We have two small children and the polish on their shoes was always rubbing off on the upholstery of the car because their little legs are too short to hang over the edge of the seat. I thought of slipping a pair of clean, old socks over their shoes after they get into the car.

Now the upholstery and their shoes stay clean no matter how much they squirm around in the car.

BETH.

DEAR BETH: Your old nylon stockings are excellent for this. They slip over children's shoes beautifully and can be kept in the glove compartment.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For a perfect fitting garment, I baste the pieces together before sewing on the machine, but leave openings about one-half inch on each side of connecting seams or where there are darts and tucks.

By basting first, adjustments may be made easily. Darts and tucks can be taken in, or let out, so the dress or blouse will fit perfectly.

ANNE.

DEAR HELOISE: A shoe salesman gave me the following tips on buying shoes:

It's better to shop for shoes late in the day because your feet spread as the day goes on (especially during hot weather). Shoes bought early in the morning may be real "pinchers" after you have been on your feet several hours.

Also, one foot is often slightly larger than the other, so it is wise to buy your shoes to fit the larger foot. Then, buy a pair of inner soles and insert one in the shoe for the smaller foot.

IRENE.

Regarding the second tip. A friend of mine broke a toe several years ago and when it healed, that foot was slightly larger than the other . . . so she used the "inner-sole-in-one-shoe" method.

Last year she broke a toe on the other foot, so her feet are the same size again!

Of course, that's a rather drastic way to keep from buying inner soles!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Being a service wife, I do quite a bit of moving.

I found my cannister set didn't always match the color scheme of my kitchen, so I covered the set with adhesive backed plastic paper and used tape for labels.

It works wonders and when I move again, I remove the plastic paper and apply a new color if desired.

MRS. A. R. DiTULLEO.

Next time, Shug, don't remove the old plastic paper. Not only will it adhere better but will go on smoother over the old paper.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Try tying packages to be mailed with either nylon or orlon knitting yarn.

It will pull tighter, not stretch like mailing cord, cannot be broken by hand (must be cut with scissors) and it is a good way to use up odds and ends of yarn.

AGNES E.

DEAR HELOISE: I always keep a cellulose sponge on the floor of my car to wipe up puddles caused by wet shoes during rainy weather.

Southern Local Votes Again On School Levy

Voters in the 15 precincts of the Southern Local School District went to the polls today in a special election to decide the fate of a 4½-mill levy designed to produce $40,000 a year for school operations.

The polls opened at 6:30 this morning and will close at 6:30 tonight. The County Election Board will tabulate the returns at its office on W. 6th St. shortly after the polls close.

It is the district's third vote on the issue in a little over seven months. The same levy was rejected at the May primaries and the November general election last year. A 55 per cent affirmative vote is required for approval.

Tons Of Zinc

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil expects to produce 18 million tons of zinc during 1968, following the completion of a new plant to be built in the mining state of Minas Gerais. This year the production will hit 17 million tons, according to the Ministry of Mines and Energy.

Pollution

deal with interstate air pollution problems affecting counties bordering on the Ohio River between Cabell and Wayne counties in West Virginia and Lawrence County in Ohio on the south and Columbiana County in Ohio and Hancock County in West Virginia, on the north.

Legislation similar to that introduced in the Ohio assembly is being submitted to the West Virginia legislature. If both states pass a compact agreement in substantially the same language, signed by their respective governors, it would then go to the U. S. Congress for authorization, as required by the States. The Federal Clean Air Act, amended by Congress in 1965, encourages the making of such compacts.

The proposed Interstate Air Pollution Control Commission would have 10 members, five from each state, appointed by the governors of Ohio and West Virginia. Each Commissioner would serve a five - year term and would be entitled to one vote on any action. In the event of a tie, the secretary of health, education and welfare, or his representative, would cast the tie - breaking vote.

Financing of the commission's activities would be shared by the fedeal and two state governments. The Clean Air Act provides for federal grants of up to three - fourths of the total operating budgets of such commissions, with the remaining one - fourth to be shared equally by Ohio and West Virginia.

Under the proposed bill, the commission would be empowered to establish air pollution control standards consistent with those adopted by the number states. The commission would cooperate with state and local air pollution agencies to resolve air pollution problems and would be empowered to take action in appropriate state or federal courts to enforce compliance with its orders.

The proposed compact does not, however, limit or otherwise effect the powers of either state or their subdivisions to enact and enforce their own air pollution laws or ordinances. Rather, it supplements their powers and provides a means not otherwise available whereby air pollution problems between the states can be resolved.

Uprising Ends In Nicaragua; 89 Are Freed

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A 20-hour uprising in which at least 21 Nicaraguans were reported killed and more than 100 wounded ended Monday night with the freeing of 117 foreign hostages, including 89 North Americans.

The besieged rebels were released after they surrendered their arms.

The rebels against the Somoza family, which has ruled Nicaragua for more than 30 years, had holed up with their hostages in the Gran Hotel. They agreed to surrender their arms if allowed to go free.

National Guardsmen with tanks surrounded the hotel while insurgent leaders negotiated with representatives of President Lorenzo Guerrero in the presence of U.S. diplomats.

A cheer went up from a crowd outside as the first U.S. hostages emerged from the hotel. They included uniformed but unarmed members of the U.S. military mission. An American flag appeared over the second-floor balcony.

The hostages included a number of North American tourists and businessmen staying at the hotel. They were given shelter in the homes of U.S. diplomats and U.S. residents in Managua.

Inside the hotel, soldiers sorted out a small arsenal of rebel weapons, including 10 rifles and 25 pistols of ancient make, a quantity of ammunition, knives and saws.

Truck Damages Auto In Salineville Mishap

SALINEVILLE — A Wheeling man's car was damaged Monday afternoon when a truck backed into it at the intersection of Route 39 and W. Main St., Police Chief Bard Dietzel reported.

The 1962 truck was operated by Steve Sevek, 56, of Salineville R.D. 1, who had halted for the intersection, saw an approaching bus and decided to back up to allow the bus more space.

The truck's rear hit the hood of the 1963 auto immediately behind it operated by Clarence Hahne, 56, of Wheeling, damaging the hood and radiator.

Lisbon Kiwanis Club Will Present Awards

LISBON — The Kiwanis Club will present 1966 perfect attendance pins to several members at the weekly luncheon Thursday in the VFW McKinley Room.

A citation of service also will be presented to Cornell P. Monda, past president, and Jack Beck of Lisbon, lieutenant governor of the 19th Kiwanis Division, will present a new Kiwanis banner to his home club.

Injuries Linked To Fight Rather Than Car Mishap

LISBON — Nicholas Gologram, 23, of Leetonia was treated for contusions and abrasions of the knee and face Monday night at Salem City Hospital following a traffic accident here.

However, Lisbon police say Gologram received the injuries in a tavern fight rather than in the accident on N. Market St.

The incident began about 11 when a tavern owner called police to eject Gologram and his companion, John Bagley, 24, of Winona, for starting a fight.

Policeman Richard Koffel took the men to Village Hall and told them to wait upstairs while he went back to the tavern for information.

When the tavern owner would not file charges, the officer returned to village hall to release the men. They were gone, however.

Koffel began a search and found them standing beside a wrecked 1957 sedan at the rear of a Suwak Co. tractor-trailer.

The officer said he asked which one was driving and each pointed at the other. Clemith Green of Houston, Pa., the truck driver, said Bagley got out of the driver's side after the crash.

Green said he was traveling north about 20 miles an hour and was hit from behind.

Koffel said Bagley later admitted he was driving.

Indictment Approved Against Area Youth

BEAVER — The Beaver County Grand Jury Monday approved 17 indictments for the March term of court, including an assault and battery charge against Melvin Jones, 18, of Midland.

The charge was filed by John Buzzinotti, Midland high school teacher, as a result of an altercation at a basketball game in Midland last fall.

The Grand Jury is scheduled to consider Wednesday charges of involuntary manslaughter by auto and driving while under the influence of alcohol against Roy Bailey of Smiths Ferry. He was driver of a car which struck and fatally injured Morris (Sandy) Martin, 19, of Midland on Route 168 near Midland Heights in December.

Faulty Wires Blamed For Midland Fire

Faulty wiring in a french fryer has been pinpointed as the cause of a $125,000 fire which swept Deramo's Bar and Azure Room at Midland early Sunday.

Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri said a Pennsylvania state police fire investigator, Michael Motily, and Burt Cotith, assistant, of the Butler barracks Monday confirmed his evaluation of the cause of the blaze.

The investigators also agreed on the damage estimate.

The two men and Chief D'Itri visited the ruins of the two-story brick structure at 118 Midland Ave. yesterday afternoon.

The blaze, one of the worst in Midland's history, temporarily trapped Kenneth Caldabaugh, 22, his wife and son, 2, on a balcony at the front of the structure from which they were rescued by use of a fire truck ladder.

Firemen from Midland, Industry and Ohioville kept the flames from spreading to the adjacent Studen building and home of Gino Flara, but Chief D'Itri said today the Studen building was damaged and, because of the hazard, should either be razed or the walls reinforced.

D'Itri expressed special appreciation to the Ohioville police who arrived on the scene minutes after the alarm was sounded to give aid. Ohioville and Industry firemen were summoned at 4 a. m.

Rep. Bow Of Ohio Suffers Heart Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frank T. Bow, R - Ohio, was under observation today at Bethesda Naval Hospital for what aides said was a suspected heart attack.

The 65-year-old Ohioan was reported in good condition. He is senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee.

Courts

sors are Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, and Rep. Douglas Applegate, D-Jefferson.

Applegate said the division plan is supported by the Jefferson County Bar Association.

The bill calls for the election of three more judges, two in the proposed new district and one in the 7th District. One judge currently serving in the 7th would be transferred to the 11th.

Authors of the bill point to the increasing caseloads in the 7th District — 290 in 1965, said to be the largest per judge average in the state — as an indication the split is necessary.

Provisions for additional judges, they stated, would not be effective until 1969 because they could not be elected until 1968.

Rep. Wetzel also introduced a property conveyance bill in the opening session of the legislative week.

The measure would permit Donald L. Stoll of the H. K. Porter Co. to purchase from the state 30 acres leased to him in Middleton Township, Columbiana County.

Wetzel said appraisers would be hired, at Stoll's expense, to set a price on the land, a portion of Section 16 land deeded to the state for support of schools.

The U. S. imports about 46,000,000 bunches of bananas a year.

The rebels against the Somoza family, which has ruled Nicaragua for more than 30 years, had holed up with their hostages in the Gran Hotel. They agreed to surrender their arms if allowed to go free.

A cheer went up from a crowd outside as the first U.S. hostages emerged from the hotel. They included uniformed but unarmed members of the U.S. military mission. An American flag appeared over the second-floor balcony.

The hostages included a number of North American tourists and businessmen staying at the hotel. They were given shelter in the homes of U.S. diplomats and U.S. residents in Managua.

Inside the hotel, soldiers sorted out a small arsenal of rebel weapons, including 10 rifles and 25 pistols of ancient make, a quantity of ammunition, knives and saws.

Truck Damages Auto In Salineville Mishap

SALINEVILLE — A Wheeling man's car was damaged Monday afternoon when a truck backed into it at the intersection of Route 39 and W. Main St., Police Chief Bard Dietzel reported.

The 1962 truck was operated by Steve Sevek, 56, of Salineville R.D. 1, who had halted for the intersection, saw an approaching bus and decided to back up to allow the bus more space.

The truck's rear hit the hood of the 1963 auto immediately behind it operated by Clarence Hahne, 56, of Wheeling, damaging the hood and radiator.

Lisbon Kiwanis Club Will Present Awards

LISBON — The Kiwanis Club will present 1966 perfect attendance pins to several members at the weekly luncheon Thursday in the VFW McKinley Room.

A citation of service also will be presented to Cornell P. Monda, past president, and Jack Beck of Lisbon, lieutenant governor of the 19th Kiwanis Division, will present a new Kiwanis banner to his home club.

Injuries Linked To Fight Rather Than Car Mishap

LISBON — Nicholas Gologram, 23, of Leetonia was treated for contusions and abrasions of the knee and face Monday night at Salem City Hospital following a traffic accident here.

However, Lisbon police say Gologram received the injuries in a tavern fight rather than in the accident on N. Market St.

The incident began about 11 when a tavern owner called police to eject Gologram and his companion, John Bagley, 24, of Winona, for starting a fight.

Policeman Richard Koffel took the men to Village Hall and told them to wait upstairs while he went back to the tavern for information.

When the tavern owner would not file charges, the officer returned to village hall to release the men. They were gone, however.

The officer said he asked which one was driving and each pointed at the other. Clemith Green of Houston, Pa., the truck driver, said Bagley got out of the driver's side after the crash.

Green said he was traveling north about 20 miles an hour and was hit from behind.

Koffel said Bagley later admitted he was driving.

Indictment Approved Against Area Youth

BEAVER — The Beaver County Grand Jury Monday approved 17 indictments for the March term of court, including an assault and battery charge against Melvin Jones, 18, of Midland.

The charge was filed by John Buzzinotti, Midland high school teacher, as a result of an altercation at a basketball game in Midland last fall.

The Grand Jury is scheduled to consider Wednesday charges of involuntary manslaughter by auto and driving while under the influence of alcohol against Roy Bailey of Smiths Ferry. He was driver of a car which struck and fatally injured Morris (Sandy) Martin, 19, of Midland on Route 168 near Midland Heights in December.

Faulty Wires Blamed For Midland Fire

Faulty wiring in a french fryer has been pinpointed as the cause of a $125,000 fire which swept Deramo's Bar and Azure Room at Midland early Sunday.

Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri said a Pennsylvania state police fire investigator, Michael Motily, and Burt Cotith, assistant, of the Butler barracks Monday confirmed his evaluation of the cause of the blaze.

The investigators also agreed on the damage estimate.

The two men and Chief D'Itri visited the ruins of the two-story brick structure at 118 Midland Ave. yesterday afternoon.

The blaze, one of the worst in Midland's history, temporarily trapped Kenneth Caldabaugh, 22, his wife and son, 2, on a balcony at the front of the structure from which they were rescued by use of a fire truck ladder.

Firemen from Midland, Industry and Ohioville kept the flames from spreading to the adjacent Studen building and home of Gino Flara, but Chief D'Itri said today the Studen building was damaged and, because of the hazard, should either be razed or the walls reinforced.

D'Itri expressed special appreciation to the Ohioville police who arrived on the scene minutes after the alarm was sounded to give aid. Ohioville and Industry firemen were summoned at 4 a. m.

Rep. Bow Of Ohio Suffers Heart Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frank T. Bow, R - Ohio, was under observation today at Bethesda Naval Hospital for what aides said was a suspected heart attack.

The 65-year-old Ohioan was reported in good condition. He is senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee.

sors are Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, and Rep. Douglas Applegate, D-Jefferson.

Applegate said the division plan is supported by the Jefferson County Bar Association.

The bill calls for the election of three more judges, two in the proposed new district and one in the 7th District. One judge currently serving in the 7th would be transferred to the 11th.

Authors of the bill point to the increasing caseloads in the 7th District — 290 in 1965, said to be the largest per judge average in the state — as an indication the split is necessary.

Provisions for additional judges, they stated, would not be effective until 1969 because they could not be elected until 1968.

Rep. Wetzel also introduced a property conveyance bill in the opening session of the legislative week.

The measure would permit Donald L. Stoll of the H. K. Porter Co. to purchase from the state 30 acres leased to him in Middleton Township, Columbiana County.

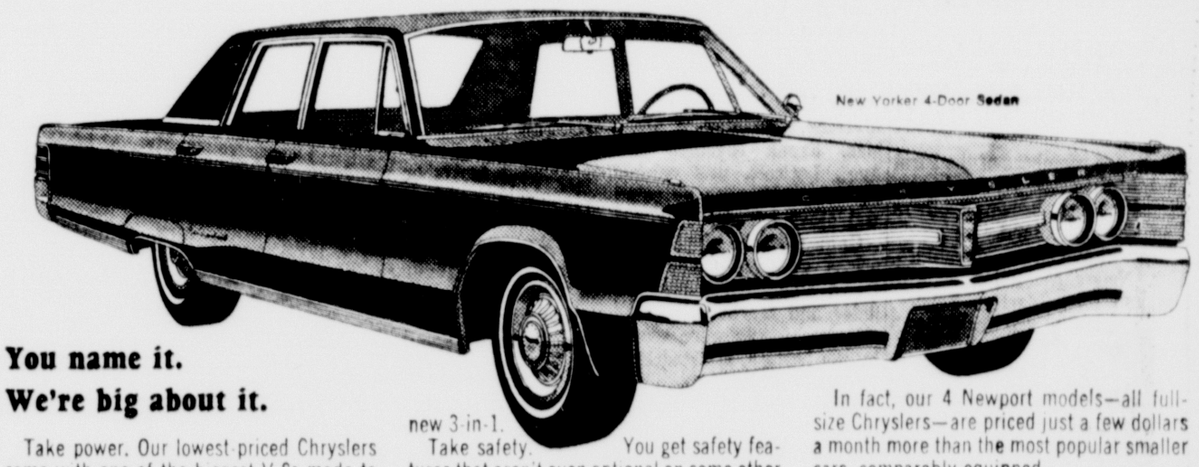

Wetzel said appraisers would be hired, at Stoll's expense, to set a price on the land, a portion of Section 16 land deeded to the state for support of schools.

Chief Advises Women To Carry Pin, Whistle

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) —Police Chief John S. Matijevich suggests women arm themselves with whistles and pins to ward off attackers.

"I would say that carrying a shrill whistle, an ordinary hat or stick pin and judicious use of teeth, fingernails, feet and voice in fighting off the assailant would be invaluable, both in staving off the man and in later identification," he said.

But the first precaution would be for a woman not to place herself in a situation where a potential attacker would see his way clear for an assault.

"Don't walk down dimly lit side-streets. Watch out for suspicious looking characters and never walk near cars parked in alleys or in unlighted areas," he said.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I make handy, utility wastebaskets?

A.—Take a paper bag and fit it on a wire hanger, bent so that the hook will hang on a drawer knob, inside a cabinet door, or on a bathroom or closet hook. The rest of the hanger will fit into a "V" to hold the bag out. It can be decorated with cutouts and made into an attractive, appealing wastebasket for children — to encourage them to pick up and throw bits of paper and scrap away.

Q.—Any tips on skin-bleaching?

A.—Buttermilk rubbed on the skin is an excellent skin bleach. Another is a tablespoon of grated horseradish stirred into a cupful of sour milk. This should stand 12 hours, and then be strained.

Q.—How can I remove an obstinately-stuck cork from a bottle?

A.—Dip a cloth into boiling water and wrap it around the neck of the bottle. The heat will expand the glass and the cork will come out.

Q.—How can I add an extra-delicious rich flavor to ground coffee?

A.—Try adding a teaspoonful of cocoa and mixing it with one pound of your ground coffee. And another trick for bringing out the flavor is to put a speck of salt in the water when you are making the coffee. Salt will also relieve the bitter taste of coffee that has been cooked too long.

80 View Movie At Beaver Local

"The Child Molester" was screened by Columbiana County Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis during a meeting of the Beaver Local Public School Parent - Teacher Association Monday night at the school.

Bettis reviewed accounts of local incidents of child molestation and stressed the importance of teaching children caution about "friendly" strangers.

An extra detail of patrolmen had to be added to cover area roadside parks during the summer because of increased attempts of molesting, Bettis said.

Mrs. Veronica Wolski, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Martha Souders led the devotions. Eighty attended.

'Homemaker' Named At High School Here

COWS EAT THE STRANGEST THINGS

. . . although top Milk producers, cows never will learn about diet.

NATURE did well to give us the Cow. We'd be in a sorry plight without Milk. But a Cow knows nothing about Milk, doesn't drink it. She just roams all day and munches anything that grows. She doesn't even know that the wild onions, walnut husks or weeds she nibbles can "flavor taint" her Milk. Nor does she realize that she could "flavor taint" an entire batch at the dairy by careless eating. Yet, she could sometimes cause Dad to "sniff" over his breakfast cereal, kids to skip their mealtime Milk quota, or Mom to grumble when a favorite recipe tastes "off".

● GOLDEN STAR solves this problem the Aro-Vac way. It's a process that "floats off" flavors and odors by jet action, like smoke from a chimney. It leaves only Sweet, Wholesome, Tasty Milk to enjoy. IT'S FLAVOR INSURED.

Chief Advises Women To Carry Pin, Whistle

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) —Police Chief John S. Matijevich suggests women arm themselves with whistles and pins to ward off attackers.

"I would say that carrying a shrill whistle, an ordinary hat or stick pin and judicious use of teeth, fingernails, feet and voice in fighting off the assailant would be invaluable, both in staving off the man and in later identification," he said.

But the first precaution would be for a woman not to place herself in a situation where a potential attacker would see his way clear for an assault.

"Don't walk down dimly lit side-streets. Watch out for suspicious looking characters and never walk near cars parked in alleys or in unlighted areas," he said.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I make handy, utility wastebaskets?

A.—Take a paper bag and fit it on a wire hanger, bent so that the hook will hang on a drawer knob, inside a cabinet door, or on a bathroom or closet hook. The rest of the hanger will fit into a "V" to hold the bag out. It can be decorated with cutouts and made into an attractive, appealing wastebasket for children — to encourage them to pick up and throw bits of paper and scrap away.

Q.—Any tips on skin-bleaching?

A.—Buttermilk rubbed on the skin is an excellent skin bleach. Another is a tablespoon of grated horseradish stirred into a cupful of sour milk. This should stand 12 hours, and then be strained.

Q.—How can I remove an obstinately-stuck cork from a bottle?

A.—Dip a cloth into boiling water and wrap it around the neck of the bottle. The heat will expand the glass and the cork will come out.

Q.—How can I add an extra-delicious rich flavor to ground coffee?

A.—Try adding a teaspoonful of cocoa and mixing it with one pound of your ground coffee. And another trick for bringing out the flavor is to put a speck of salt in the water when you are making the coffee. Salt will also relieve the bitter taste of coffee that has been cooked too long.

COWS EAT THE STRANGEST THINGS
NATURE did well to give us the Cow. We'd be in a sorry plight without Milk. But a Cow knows nothing about Milk, doesn't drink it. She just roams all day and munches anything that grows. She doesn't even know that the wild onions, walnut husks or weeds she nibbles can "flavor taint" her Milk. Nor does she realize that she could "flavor taint" an entire batch at the dairy by careless eating. Yet, she could sometimes cause Dad to "sniff" over his breakfast cereal, kids to skip their mealtime Milk quota, or Mom to grumble when a favorite recipe tastes "off".
• GOLDEN STAR solves this problem the Aro-Vac way. It's a process that "floats off" flavors and odors by jet action, like smoke from a chimney. It leaves only Sweet, Wholesome, Tasty Milk to enjoy. IT'S FLAVOR INSURED.

new Administration will do everything within our power to cut down on non - essential expenditures."

Thus, the Shafer speech concerned itself primarily with "priority items" that could be proposed before his first budget is completed.

Even here, the governor told the lawmakers that he would have something more to say, promising special messages on education, transportation, conservation, insurance and milk control.

But prime among his specific recommendations were proposals to:

— Require state employes and legislators to disclose financial interests in "business that deals with or is regulated by the state."

— Direct lobbyists to detail expenses made to influence legislation.

— Increase maximum weekly unemployment compensation benefits from $45 to $60 and the minimum wage from $1.25 to $1.50.

— "Eliminate discrimination in housing and unemployment."

— Increase the State Police force in each of the next four years.

Shafer also said the state's present financial pinch necessitated his requesting a transfer of $15 million from the State Employes Retirement Fund to the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

Shafer said "the foundation of a new era of greatness" in Pennsylvania was laid during the preceding four years by his Republican predecessor, William W. Scranton, but he admonished:

"Make no mistake. It is only a foundation — a beginning. On it must be built a new statehood..."

First among Shafer's list of priority objectives was a modern constitution for Pennsylvania as he renewed his plea for legislative support for a constitutional convention limited solely to new articles on the judiciary, reapportionment, taxation and local government.

"This is not a partisan proposal," Shafer said in referring to the legislation now before the Senate, but with no widespread support evident for it.

"It is a proposal to make state government work better for our citizens in this day of rapid change. I ask you to consider and support it in that light."

Shafer said he supported a resolution to be introduced by House Republicans Wednesday to have a bipartisan committee draft a "much-needed code of ethics" in state government.

He said his Administration would submit bills requiring state employes, legislators and lobbyists to disclose their financial interests and expenses.

Shafer's reference to education was prefixed by the fact that much of his specific proposals would be contained in a special message on that subject.

As a common goal, however, he said:

"Pennsylvania, if she is to lead the nation, must commit herself now to spending the money required to give all children a quality education from pre-school through post - graduate studies."

He explained that his special message would deal with the public and private colleges, increased college scholarship and loan funds and community college expansion.

But for starters, he suggested again that a single statewide board of regents be established for the 14 state colleges, a proposal that failed in 1965, and that the colleges be given more autonomy.

He also called for non - partisan election of school directors and asked for legislative authorization to have Pennsylvania become a member of the Education Commission of the states.

In the field of labor and industry, he said that the thrust of his Administration would be to attract industries with a future — "research and development industries, atomic energy, computer application..."

Shafer urged the legislators to subdue their partisan differences and "work together in an atmosphere of rational debate..."

He said: "The time has come to put our commitments on the line for the people of Pennsylvania. "The time has come for an excellence of leadership from all of us in state government.

"If we are unable to act responsibly and responsively to the needs of our people in the halls of Harrisburg in the next four years, then you and I will be held accountable for the demise of state government."

Ohio

Rep. Gordon M. Scherer R-71 Cincinnati, Hamilton, put a cloud of doubt over the proceedings with a contention the legislature has no authority to tell local communities what "time" regulations they can adopt.

The two-term representative and attorney cited an Ohio Supreme Court decision which he asserted gave political subdivisions authority to "set their own clocks" under the home rule amendment to the state constitutions.

Scherer insisted the only way Ohio could adopt statewide time would be by way of a constitutional amendment and offered the view that any legislative action at this time would be futile.

Witnesses at the hearing included farm groups which opposed daylight time on grounds it would hamper them in daily chores and all but make it impossible for them to participate in civic affairs often requiring attendance at evening meetings.

Ken Prickett of the Ohio Independent Theater Operators asserted statewide observance of daylight time would mean a loss of yearly income of 14 per cent for his people "taking $2.8 million out of the pockets of wage earners."

Monday night's hearing was for supporters only. Opponents of standard time will get their say when the Senate - House groups holds a second hearing tonight. It is expected to be the last before the committees meet separately to take votes.

The "time" hearing took the spotlight as the lawmakers returned from weekend recess to begin the fourth work week. But of perhaps from significance were two administration proposals introduced in separate chambers and designed to go before voters in the May 2 primary.

One would create an Ohio building authority which could bypass voter approval of bond issues for construction of capital improvements. Voters have approved $1 billion in four bond issues since Gov. James A. Rhodes took office in 1963.

The House received the building authority resolution while the administration's legislative reapportionment plan was offered in the Senate by Sen. Robin T. Turner R-14 Marion and two other Republicans.

One change would increase membership of the State Apportionment Board to include the state treasurer and attorney general. Present members include the governor, auditor, and secretary of state.

Vietnam

Cedar Falls in the Iron Triangle continued 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon. U.S. forces reported seven more Viet Cong killed, bringing their total to 678 since the drive started Jan. 8.

On the political front, informed sources reported another reshuffle in South Vietnam's government was in the making involving as many as eight high officials. The sources said the impending changes reflected in part shifting power in the ruling military junta, and the chief purpose appeared to be to shut out Lt. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co, the deputy premier, war minister, defense secretary and once one of the junta's most powerful members.

However, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who is touring New Zealand, denied at a news conference in Wellington today that a reshuffle was in the works. "If there were to be a reshuffle, I would be the one to decide," he said.

The B52 raid in the demilitarized zone was aimed at a North Vietnamese troop concentration in the center of the six mile wide buffer area between North and South Vietnam. The attack at noon was the second of three raids today.

At dawn, a wave of B52s struck at a Communist headquarters complex about 77 miles northwest of Saigon in Tay Ninh Province. In midafternoon another formation pounded a troop concentration some 86 miles northwest of the capital.

U.S. pilots flew 315 strike sorties over South Vietnam Monday against enemy troop concentrations, camps and fortifications. South Vietnamese pilots flew 67 strike sorties.

A U.S. military spokesman predicted a reduction in air raids against North Vietnam for the next six weeks. He said the northeast monsoon was moving into the area and poor flying weather was expected to continue through February.

U.S. military sources reported that only about 2,500 prisoners of war are being held in South Vietnam, far fewer than generally had been believed in view of the weekly casualty reports listing hundreds of enemy prisoners taken each week.

Six months ago it was reported that the South Vietnamese were holding an estimated 23,000 prisoners, but that number now is said to have included political detainees and persons rounded up in military sweeps.

Of the 2,500 POWs, the sources said, 1,834 are held in three South Vietnamese camps and the other are in medical or processing centers or still held in other places of detention. The number was reported to be about evenly divided between North Vietnamese soldiers and Viet Cong.

ed an allegedly stolen car into a utility pole in the downtown area, then fled on foot, finally being captured on the porch roof of a Dresden Ave. home.

Lt. Paul A. Burson signed the charges against Egnor this morning. The court set a $2,500 appearance bond for the defendant and appointed Donald E. Smith as his defense counsel.

THORNE TOLD police the shooting episode took place about 5 this morning. Egnor had been in and out of the house several times, the stepfather said. He said he had told Egnor if "he wanted to run around all night and sleep all day he would have to find some other place to stay."

After some more argument, Egnor pulled the gun and fired, Thorne said. While the stepfather tried to reason with him, he fired at least two more bullets, Thorne told police.

"I wondered why, with all the plaster flying around, I hadn't been hit," he told officers.

Egnor then left the house and the family notified police.

Lt. Burson and Patrolmen James Buckley and Dwight Garvey found Egnor on Lincoln Ave. They said the six-shot German-made revolver was found lying nearby. Egnor apparently discarded the gun at the approach of the police, tossing it over the top of a parked car, officers said.

"Pennsylvania, if she is to lead the nation, must commit herself now to spending the money required to give all children a quality education from pre-school through post - graduate studies."

He explained that his special message would deal with the public and private colleges, increased college scholarship and loan funds and community college expansion.

But for starters, he suggested again that a single statewide board of regents be established for the 14 state colleges, a proposal that failed in 1965, and that the colleges be given more autonomy.

He also called for non - partisan election of school directors and asked for legislative authorization to have Pennsylvania become a member of the Education Commission of the states.

In the field of labor and industry, he said that the thrust of his Administration would be to attract industries with a future — "research and development industries, atomic energy, computer application..."

Shafer urged the legislators to subdue their partisan differences and "work together in an atmosphere of rational debate..."

He said: "The time has come to put our commitments on the line for the people of Pennsylvania. "The time has come for an excellence of leadership from all of us in state government.

"If we are unable to act responsibly and responsively to the needs of our people in the halls of Harrisburg in the next four years, then you and I will be held accountable for the demise of state government."

Ohio

reported mail from his predominantly rural district opposed "fast" time by a margin of 700-10.

Rep. Gordon M. Scherer R-71 Cincinnati, Hamilton, put a cloud of doubt over the proceedings with a contention the legislature has no authority to tell local communities what "time" regulations they can adopt.

The two-term representative and attorney cited an Ohio Supreme Court decision which he asserted gave political subdivisions authority to "set their own clocks" under the home rule amendment to the state constitutions.

Scherer insisted the only way Ohio could adopt statewide time would be by way of a constitutional amendment and offered the view that any legislative action at this time would be futile.

Witnesses at the hearing included farm groups which opposed daylight time on grounds it would hamper them in daily chores and all but make it impossible for them to participate in civic affairs often requiring attendance at evening meetings.

Ken Prickett of the Ohio Independent Theater Operators asserted statewide observance of daylight time would mean a loss of yearly income of 14 per cent for his people "taking $2.8 million out of the pockets of wage earners."

Monday night's hearing was for supporters only. Opponents of standard time will get their say when the Senate - House groups holds a second hearing tonight. It is expected to be the last before the committees meet separately to take votes.

The "time" hearing took the spotlight as the lawmakers returned from weekend recess to begin the fourth work week. But of perhaps from significance were two administration proposals introduced in separate chambers and designed to go before voters in the May 2 primary.

One would create an Ohio building authority which could bypass voter approval of bond issues for construction of capital improvements. Voters have approved $1 billion in four bond issues since Gov. James A. Rhodes took office in 1963.

The House received the building authority resolution while the administration's legislative reapportionment plan was offered in the Senate by Sen. Robin T. Turner R-14 Marion and two other Republicans.

One change would increase membership of the State Apportionment Board to include the state treasurer and attorney general. Present members include the governor, auditor, and secretary of state.

Vietnam

Cedar Falls in the Iron Triangle continued 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon. U.S. forces reported seven more Viet Cong killed, bringing their total to 678 since the drive started Jan. 8.

On the political front, informed sources reported another reshuffle in South Vietnam's government was in the making involving as many as eight high officials. The sources said the impending changes reflected in part shifting power in the ruling military junta, and the chief purpose appeared to be to shut out Lt. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co, the deputy premier, war minister, defense secretary and once one of the junta's most powerful members.

However, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who is touring New Zealand, denied at a news conference in Wellington today that a reshuffle was in the works. "If there were to be a reshuffle, I would be the one to decide," he said.

The B52 raid in the demilitarized zone was aimed at a North Vietnamese troop concentration in the center of the six mile wide buffer area between North and South Vietnam. The attack at noon was the second of three raids today.

At dawn, a wave of B52s struck at a Communist headquarters complex about 77 miles northwest of Saigon in Tay Ninh Province. In midafternoon another formation pounded a troop concentration some 86 miles northwest of the capital.

U.S. pilots flew 315 strike sorties over South Vietnam Monday against enemy troop concentrations, camps and fortifications. South Vietnamese pilots flew 67 strike sorties.

A U.S. military spokesman predicted a reduction in air raids against North Vietnam for the next six weeks. He said the northeast monsoon was moving into the area and poor flying weather was expected to continue through February.

U.S. military sources reported that only about 2,500 prisoners of war are being held in South Vietnam, far fewer than generally had been believed in view of the weekly casualty reports listing hundreds of enemy prisoners taken each week.

Six months ago it was reported that the South Vietnamese were holding an estimated 23,000 prisoners, but that number now is said to have included political detainees and persons rounded up in military sweeps.

Of the 2,500 POWs, the sources said, 1,834 are held in three South Vietnamese camps and the other are in medical or processing centers or still held in other places of detention. The number was reported to be about evenly divided between North Vietnamese soldiers and Viet Cong.

Shooting

ed an allegedly stolen car into a utility pole in the downtown area, then fled on foot, finally being captured on the porch roof of a Dresden Ave. home.

Lt. Paul A. Burson signed the charges against Egnor this morning. The court set a $2,500 appearance bond for the defendant and appointed Donald E. Smith as his defense counsel.

THORNE TOLD police the shooting episode took place about 5 this morning. Egnor had been in and out of the house several times, the stepfather said. He said he had told Egnor if "he wanted to run around all night and sleep all day he would have to find some other place to stay."

After some more argument, Egnor pulled the gun and fired, Thorne said. While the stepfather tried to reason with him, he fired at least two more bullets, Thorne told police.

"I wondered why, with all the plaster flying around, I hadn't been hit," he told officers.

Egnor then left the house and the family notified police.

Lt. Burson and Patrolmen James Buckley and Dwight Garvey found Egnor on Lincoln Ave. They said the six-shot German-made revolver was found lying nearby. Egnor apparently discarded the gun at the approach of the police, tossing it over the top of a parked car, officers said.

Monday, clergymen attacked it as a violation of the constitutional provision which prohibits sale or consumption of liquor "in a saloon or other public place."

But Robertson wrote:

"A private club, to which the general public does not have access and where entrance there to is subject to bona fide restraint, would not fall in the category of being a 'public place'. . ."

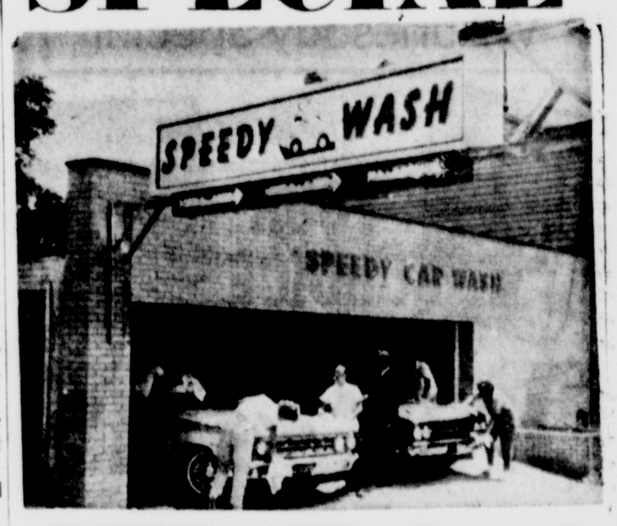

Police In Ambridge Hunt Bomb Thrower

AMBRIDGE, Pa. (AP) — Ambridge police pressed a search today for a bomb thrower.

Someone hurled a bomb Monday night outside Buffalini's Tavern in this Beaver County town, damaging a rear door and an awning, police said. The blast also shattered windows in nearby buildings and damaged a car parked in an alley.

No injuries were reported.

Report Given To GOP Unit

LISBON — State Sen. John Longsworth of Salem and State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon reported on activities on the Ohio legislature during the Columbiana County Republican advisory group's semi - monthly luncheon Monday at the Wick hotel. Thirty - three attended.

County Commissioners James W. Boyd of East Liverpool and Charles J. Gause of Hanoverton R. D. 1 also spoke briefly.

Gladys DeBolt of East Liverpool, county chairwoman, reported on arrangements for the Lincoln Day dinner Feb. 22 at St. Aloysius School in East Liverpool.

Miss DeBolt and G. William Brokaw, secretary of the GOP Central Committee, distributed dinner tickets. James Betts of Rocky River, a former East Liverpool resident, will be the principal speaker.

Mrs. Margaret Harrold, president of the East Palestine Women's Republican Club, announced its installation banquet will be held Wednesday evening at the Unity Grange hall.

Charles Pike of Lisbon, county GOP chairman, said the advisory group's next meeting will be Feb. 13 at the Wick.

He reminded representatives that Feb. 1 is the deadline for filing for city offices and urged local leaders to make sure each office is filled with a Republican candidate.

Budget

lower than many published predictions of economists.

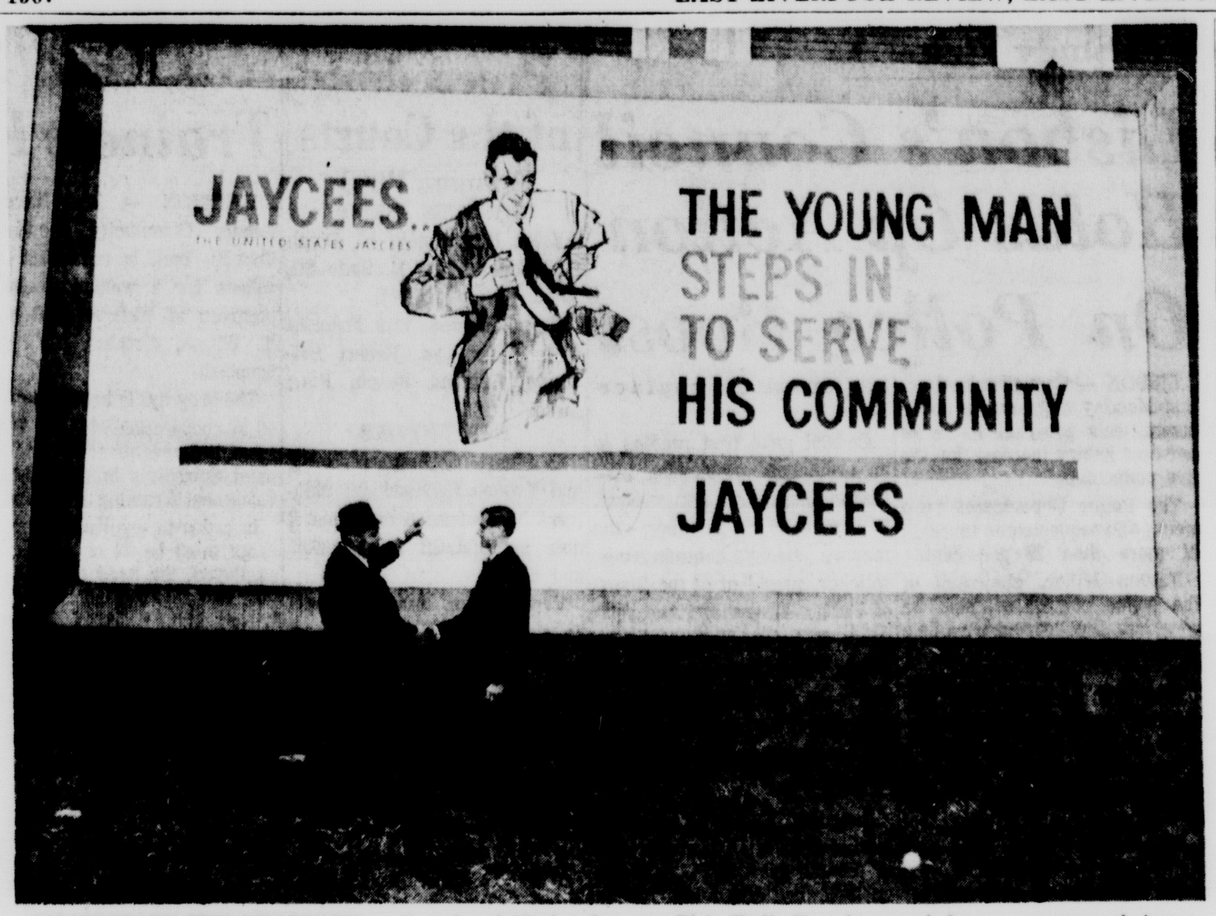

The outlook for record-breaking individual income tax collections is based on a projected $624-billion total of personal income, Johnson said, and a near-record corporation tax take will be generated by before-tax profits of $83 billion, up $1.2 billion from last year.

The budget went to Congress in a 478-page book, prefaced by the 10,000-word presidential message and backed up by separate "appendix" the size of a city telephone book.

The President described its contents as a careful balance between the nation's rich resources and its "awesome responsibilities."

He told Congress: "We cannot permit the defense of freedom abroad to sidetrack the struggle for individual growth and dignity at home. Under my budget proposals, we will move forward at a reasonable rate the programs to broaden opportunities for the poor or disadvantaged."

The Office of Economic opportunity, which directs the war on poverty, was budgeted for $1.9 billion in fiscal 1968, an increase or about $280 million from OEO's 1967 spending total after Congress finished cutting it last fall.

DWARFED BY THE BILLBOARD at E. 3rd and Market Sts. are Dick Shoff, East Liverpool Jaycee program chairman, and Ralph Fusco, Wellsville Jaycee president. The big sign also is being displayed at Silver Switch on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. to assist in the 30-day membership campaign now under way for the two clubs. It is hoped to boost the local membership to 130 and the Wellsville membership to 40. The signs were a joint effort, having been purchased by the East Liverpool Jaycees and mounted by the Wellsville club. The billboard space was donated by Dick Keller of Dover. The membership drive follows in the wake of National Jaycee Week.

Spring-Like Weather Brings Action On Signs

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners cited unseasonably warm weather Monday when authorizing County Engineer John Ursu to post reduced load signs on county highways effective Feb. 1.

The order came 10 days earlier than last year and followed a mild weekend which melted what little frost was in the ground.

Load limits are imposed under a so-called "frost law" designed to protect roads from the crushing action of heavy trucks when the ground is soft.

Commissioners said Ursu can erect the signs where he deems necessary and keep them up as long as necessary. They also recommended similar action to the boards of township trustees.

On recommendation of Donald P. Hepp, county welfare director, commissioners hired Harry Green of Hanoverton as a retarded school bus driver (child welfare aide) at $165 a month, and Madelon Bowser of Lisbon R. D. 1 as a substitute driver at $1.52 an hour. Green succeeds Herman Noling, who resigned to take other employment.

Tabled for further study was a letter from Michael Schuller, chairman of Salem City Council's planning committee, asking the county for financial assistance with the improvement of Franklin Ave. (State Route 558).

Commissioners turned down the request last year on grounds the financing of the proposed improvement is the responsibility of the city and state.

Commissioners approved payments to:

Joseph Cooper, East Liverpool solicitor, $300 for services rendered in connection with misdemeanors and felonies last year in East Liverpool Municipal Court;

Soldiers Relief Commission, $990 mileage for three officers for the first three months of this year, and $206.50 mileage and hotel for three representatives to attend the Ohio State Association of Soldiers Relief Commissions convention Feb. 17-19 in Columbus;

The auditor's office, $9 for three employes to attend a personal property tax instruction school today at Smithville, and

The County Welfare Department, $255 for transporting a juvenile to Columbus, sending a new employe to an orientation course in public assistance, sending an employe to the Ohio Conference on Delinquency Prevention and sending an employe to a child welfare service seminar.

Exam Set At Warren For Patrolmen Posts

The Ohio Highway Patrol is accepting applications for patrolmen.

Sgt. R. J. Rizzo of the Lisbon post says examinations will be given at district headquarters in Warren Feb. 4 at 9 a.m.

Qualifications: High school graduate, at least 21 years old, minimum height 5 feet, 9 inches and weight 160 pounds.

Those interested are to contact the patrol barracks at Lisbon for applications.

Motorist Fined $20 In Traffic Violation

He was cited by the Hancock County sheriff's department.

David Lee Andrews, 19, of New Cumberland was assessed $10 and costs after being charged with speeding by West Virginia state police.

In 1866, Christopher Latham Sholes demonstrated a machine that he had invented to print consecutive numbers on tickets and book pages.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Ninety - nine million Americans had motor - vehicle operators' licenses at the end of 1965. This meant that there were 1.11 licensed drivers per registered vehicle. California led the nation with 9.9 million licensed operators, followed by New York State with 7.4 million. Nine states accounted for 51 per cent of the national total of licensed drivers.

Chairmen Set For Wellsville Jaycee Projects

Chairman for the remaining six projects this year were named Monday night during a meeting of the Wellsville Jaycees.

The membership drive, which is beginning at once, will be headed by Ralph Fusco, president. Other projects and their chairmen are: Bosses Night, William Telzrow; basketball tournament, William Saracco; "Road-e-o," Mike Cook; scholastic awards, Jerry Russell, and inaugural ball, Dr. Frank Rivelle.

New members inducted into the Jaycees last night were Rivelle, a dentist; Cook, an agent with the Equitable Insurance Co., and Willis Murray Jr.

Dr. Watson Returned By Ohioville Authority

Dr. V. S. Watson was re-elected chairman during the annual meeting of the Ohio Township Municipal Authority Thursday at the Borough Building.

Family Hurt In Collision

A Hanoverton family of four was injured in a two - car collision on Route 30 near Lisbon Monday night in one of three mishaps investigated by the Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Cars driven by Edward J. Stankewitz, 47, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 and James Daneman, 50, of Troy collided about four miles west of Lisbon at 8:40.

Officers said there was severe damage to the left side of both vehicles.

Larry Grimble 18, of Lisbon R. D. 4 escaped injury when his 1964 sedan veered off Route 172 and overturned on Route 172 about four miles west of Route 30 at 7:45 p. m.

Officers said he was headed east when the car went off the right side for 150 feet, came back on the road then overturned. He was charged with speeding.

A 1960 station wagon driven by Roy W. Young, 65, of Lisbon R. D. 1 and a pickup truck operated by Paul B. Queen, 35, of Beloit R.D. were damaged in a collision on Route 62 about a mile west of Route 173 yesterday afternoon.

Both attempted to stop for other vehicles ahead, skidded off the roadway and Young's station wagon struck Queen's truck.

Red For Safety?

IDAHO FALLS, Colo. (AP) — Rodney Sorell's hunting trip didn't last long. He parked his red automobile on the Fall River Road and began hiking up the mountainside when he heard a shot. Hurrying back to the car, he found a bullet had pierced one door. He got in and drove home.

Budget Set For Beaver's New College

BEAVER — A budget of $934,000 for the new Beaver County Community College for 1967-68 was set by the board of directors Monday night.

A tax assessment of 1.5-mills was tentatively established for the participating school districts to help raise funds for the program.

The operating budget was set at $620,120 — including $178,678 from students, $190,000 from the state and $190,000 from the local sponsors.

The capital budget for buildings and a permanent campus was established at $314,600, including $157,000 from the state, $118,000 from local sponsors and $38,599 from federal sources.

The operating budget is predicated on 400 students registered for the fall term with a staff of 34.

In other action, Dr. Milton Eger, Aliquippa dentist, was named chairman, replacing Dr. L. D. Smith, whose resignation was announced last week. Harry Frye of Beaver Falls was appointed vice chairman.

Report Given To GOP Unit

LISBON — State Sen. John Longsworth of Salem and State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon reported on activities on the Ohio legislature during the Columbiana County Republican advisory group's semi - monthly luncheon Monday at the Wick hotel. Thirty - three attended.

County Commissioners James W. Boyd of East Liverpool and Charles J. Gause of Hanoverton R. D. 1 also spoke briefly.

Gladys DeBolt of East Liverpool, county chairwoman, reported on arrangements for the Lincoln Day dinner Feb. 22 at St. Aloysius School in East Liverpool.

Miss DeBolt and G. William Brokaw, secretary of the GOP Central Committee, distributed dinner tickets. James Betts of Rocky River, a former East Liverpool resident, will be the principal speaker.

Mrs. Margaret Harrold, president of the East Palestine Women's Republican Club, announced its installation banquet will be held Wednesday evening at the Unity Grange hall.

Charles Pike of Lisbon, county GOP chairman, said the advisory group's next meeting will be Feb. 13 at the Wick.

He reminded representatives that Feb. 1 is the deadline for filing for city offices and urged local leaders to make sure each office is filled with a Republican candidate.

DWARFED BY THE BILLBOARD at E. 3rd and Market Sts. are Dick Shoff, East Liverpool Jaycee program chairman, and Ralph Fusco, Wellsville Jaycee president. The big sign also is being displayed at Silver Switch on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. to assist in the 30-day membership campaign now under way for the two clubs. It is hoped to boost the local membership to 130 and the Wellsville membership to 40. The signs were a joint effort, having been purchased by the East Liverpool Jaycees and mounted by the Wellsville club. The billboard space was donated by Dick Keller of Dover. The membership drive follows in the wake of National Jaycee Week.

Family Hurt In Collision

A Hanoverton family of four was injured in a two - car collision on Route 30 near Lisbon Monday night in one of three mishaps investigated by the Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Cars driven by Edward J. Stankewitz, 47, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 and James Daneman, 50, of Troy collided about four miles west of Lisbon at 8:40.

Officers said there was severe damage to the left side of both vehicles.

Larry Grimble 18, of Lisbon R. D. 4 escaped injury when his 1964 sedan veered off Route 172 and overturned on Route 172 about four miles west of Route 30 at 7:45 p. m.

Officers said he was headed east when the car went off the right side for 150 feet, came back on the road then overturned. He was charged with speeding.

A 1960 station wagon driven by Roy W. Young, 65, of Lisbon R. D. 1 and a pickup truck operated by Paul B. Queen, 35, of Beloit R.D. were damaged in a collision on Route 62 about a mile west of Route 173 yesterday afternoon.

Both attempted to stop for other vehicles ahead, skidded off the roadway and Young's station wagon struck Queen's truck.

Red For Safety?

IDAHO FALLS, Colo. (AP) — Rodney Sorell's hunting trip didn't last long. He parked his red automobile on the Fall River Road and began hiking up the mountainside when he heard a shot. Hurrying back to the car, he found a bullet had pierced one door. He got in and drove home.

Budget Set For Beaver's New College

BEAVER — A budget of $934,000 for the new Beaver County Community College for 1967-68 was set by the board of directors Monday night.

A tax assessment of 1.5-mills was tentatively established for the participating school districts to help raise funds for the program.

The operating budget was set at $620,120 — including $178,678 from students, $190,000 from the state and $190,000 from the local sponsors.

The capital budget for buildings and a permanent campus was established at $314,600, including $157,000 from the state, $118,000 from local sponsors and $38,599 from federal sources.

In other action, Dr. Milton Eger, Aliquippa dentist, was named chairman, replacing Dr. L. D. Smith, whose resignation was announced last week. Harry Frye of Beaver Falls was appointed vice chairman.

lower than many published predictions of economists.

The outlook for record-breaking individual income tax collections is based on a projected $624-billion total of personal income, Johnson said, and a near-record corporation tax take will be generated by before-tax profits of $83 billion, up $1.2 billion from last year.

The budget went to Congress in a 478-page book, prefaced by the 10,000-word presidential message and backed up by separate "appendix" the size of a city telephone book.

The President described its contents as a careful balance between the nation's rich resources and its "awesome responsibilities."

He told Congress: "We cannot permit the defense of freedom abroad to sidetrack the struggle for individual growth and dignity at home. Under my budget proposals, we will move forward at a reasonable rate the programs to broaden opportunities for the poor or disadvantaged."

The Office of Economic opportunity, which directs the war on poverty, was budgeted for $1.9 billion in fiscal 1968, an increase or about $280 million from OEO's 1967 spending total after Congress finished cutting it last fall.

Spring-Like Weather Brings Action On Signs

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners cited unseasonably warm weather Monday when authorizing County Engineer John Ursu to post reduced load signs on county highways effective Feb. 1.

The order came 10 days earlier than last year and followed a mild weekend which melted what little frost was in the ground.

Load limits are imposed under a so-called "frost law" designed to protect roads from the crushing action of heavy trucks when the ground is soft.

Commissioners said Ursu can erect the signs where he deems necessary and keep them up as long as necessary. They also recommended similar action to the boards of township trustees.

On recommendation of Donald P. Hepp, county welfare director, commissioners hired Harry Green of Hanoverton as a retarded school bus driver (child welfare aide) at $165 a month, and Madelon Bowser of Lisbon R. D. 1 as a substitute driver at $1.52 an hour. Green succeeds Herman Noling, who resigned to take other employment.

Tabled for further study was a letter from Michael Schuller, chairman of Salem City Council's planning committee, asking the county for financial assistance with the improvement of Franklin Ave. (State Route 558).

Commissioners turned down the request last year on grounds the financing of the proposed improvement is the responsibility of the city and state.

Commissioners approved payments to:

Joseph Cooper, East Liverpool solicitor, $300 for services rendered in connection with misdemeanors and felonies last year in East Liverpool Municipal Court;

Soldiers Relief Commission, $990 mileage for three officers for the first three months of this year, and $206.50 mileage and hotel for three representatives to attend the Ohio State Association of Soldiers Relief Commissions convention Feb. 17-19 in Columbus;

The auditor's office, $9 for three employes to attend a personal property tax instruction school today at Smithville, and

The County Welfare Department, $255 for transporting a juvenile to Columbus, sending a new employe to an orientation course in public assistance, sending an employe to the Ohio Conference on Delinquency Prevention and sending an employe to a child welfare service seminar.

Exam Set At Warren For Patrolmen Posts

The Ohio Highway Patrol is accepting applications for patrolmen.

Sgt. R. J. Rizzo of the Lisbon post says examinations will be given at district headquarters in Warren Feb. 4 at 9 a.m.

Qualifications: High school graduate, at least 21 years old, minimum height 5 feet, 9 inches and weight 160 pounds.

Those interested are to contact the patrol barracks at Lisbon for applications.

Motorist Fined $20 In Traffic Violation

He was cited by the Hancock County sheriff's department.

David Lee Andrews, 19, of New Cumberland was assessed $10 and costs after being charged with speeding by West Virginia state police.

In 1866, Christopher Latham Sholes demonstrated a machine that he had invented to print consecutive numbers on tickets and book pages.

Chairmen Set For Wellsville Jaycee Projects

Chairman for the remaining six projects this year were named Monday night during a meeting of the Wellsville Jaycees.

The membership drive, which is beginning at once, will be headed by Ralph Fusco, president. Other projects and their chairmen are: Bosses Night, William Telzrow; basketball tournament, William Saracco; "Road-e-o," Mike Cook; scholastic awards, Jerry Russell, and inaugural ball, Dr. Frank Rivelle.

New members inducted into the Jaycees last night were Rivelle, a dentist; Cook, an agent with the Equitable Insurance Co., and Willis Murray Jr.

Dr. Watson Returned By Ohioville Authority

Out Of The Air

By JOHN HORN

Andy Williams Tussle

Although a contract may be signed by the time you read this, the tug o' war between Andy Williams and NBC could leave bitter memories.

At renewal time, Williams asked for more money than the network was willing to pay. About the same time someone in the singer's camp hinted that CBS, which has Andy's signature for Columbia Records, was interested.

NBC, applying pressure, responded by scheduling "The Saint," starring Roger Moore, in Williams' spot beginning May 21. Last year Williams repeats played through summer.

Meanwhile, CBS denied interest.

BISHOP Fulton J. Sheen, whose "Life Is Worth Living" series opposed and outlasted Milton Berle (1951-1957), has been back on the air with a simila informal-lecture program about life, not religion, since September.

He doesn't have as large a station lineup as when he was carried by Dumont over 118 stations.

But his 30 stations, all of which telecast the bishop in prime time, include the big cities of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Kansas City, Chicago and Los Angeles. The series is syndicated by Metromedia.

The hypnotic speaker still speaks extemporaneously, still has an anonymous angel who erases his blackboard off camera.

But a member of the Propagation of Faith Society says the bishop — now dressed in official robes for color television — is currently nicknamed "Batman From Heaven."

All 26 of this season's weekly programs have been taped.

THE STOCK of Harry Reasoner, CBS News correspondent, former White House reporter, sometime Walter Cronkite substitute, essayist on doors, bridges and women and general all-around man with the light touch, will take a sharp turn upward next fall.

He has been packaged into a series of 10 half-hour and 4 one-hour reports, placed within the CBS News prime-time hour Tuesday nights.

Evidently somebody is wild about Harry, who recently published a volume of his writings under the title, "The Reasoner Report."

The programs will be done in color and titled "Who, What, Why, When and Where With Harry Reasoner."

The newsman currently is seen regularly only on a Sunday night report.

SPREAD OUT over next sea son, the new series further will change the image of the Tuesday actuality hour.

Once dominated by "CBS Reports," the time period is now a mix of that series, specials and test shows.

Only six "CBS Reports" programs have been telecast this season, and only two more are upcoming: "The Farthest Frontier" (on LSD and other mind-changing drugs) and a documentary on homosexuals.

The latter was begun by William Peters, a producer now with ABC. It is being completed by Harry Morgan, who produced "Mystery of Stonehenge."

For the rest of this season, the hour also will present, besides specials and topicals, two more "Vietnam Perspectives," two more test shows and one Town Meeting of the World.

9 Fire Truck And Highlift Bids Studied

The Board of Control, comprised of Acting Mayor Ernest Lowe and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, took under advisement nine bids filed early Monday afternoon on a new emergency truck for the fire department and a new highlift for the street department.

Two firms submitted bids on a chassis and cab for use in the fire department, while two more concerns filed offers on the emergency equipment, including a custom body, a high-pressure pump and 250-gallon water tank for use in battling small fires.

Five concerns submitted offers on the street department highlift.

Wimmer Motor Sales of Dresden Ave. offered a 1967 GMC cab and chassis for $2,935. O. S. Hill & Co. filed two offers on a 1967 International cab and chassis. It priced one at $3,583.25, less a $685.25 discount and a $450 trade-in for a net of $2,648 and offered another at $3,481.50, a trade-in of $250 and a discount of $684.50, for a net price of $2,547.

The Sutphen Co. of Columbus filed the apparent low bid of $8,100 on the emergency equipment. It offered a gross price of $8,271 and a $171 discount for a net of $8,100.

A bid of $9,641 was filed on the emergency equipment by the John Bean Division of the Food Machinery & Chemical Co. at Lansing, Mich.

The Gibson - Stewart Co. of Cleveland submitted the apparent low bid of $13,500 for the highlift. It filed a gross price of $17,000, less a $2,600 trade-in for the highlift now used by the street department.

The Ohio Machinery Co. of Cleveland filed a bid of $18,765 less a $1,065 trade for a net price of $17,700. Marks Tractor Equipment Co. of Youngstown bid $21,659 with a $2,000 trade-in for a net price of $19,659.

Allied Equipment Co. of Carnegie, Pa., filed a $14,000 bid. Its gross price was $16,883, less a $2,883 trade-in. The same company's North Canton office submitted prices on three models — $14,807, $15,888 and $16,225.

Council appropriated $26,300 for the two pieces of equipment in legislation approved Dec. 29. Council set up $12,000 for the emergency truck and $14,300 for the highlift.

Neighborhood Group Will Meet At Weirton

WEIRTON — Carl W. Glatt, executive director of the West Virginia Human Rights Commission, will speak during the meeting of the North Weirton - Weir Ave. Neighborhood Association Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Morning Star Baptist Church, 3210 Weir Ave.

His topic will be "Responsibility for Civil Rights Progress."

The association is sponsored by the Hancock County Community Action Council. Ronald E. Wilson is director.

Lisbon's Council Holds Up Action On Police Boost

LISBON — Council tabled action Monday night on its police committee's proposal for a 10 per cent salary increase for the five policemen.

The Police Department two weeks ago requested an increase of more than 20 per cent.

Fayson Miller, chairman of the police committee, said he considers the proposed raise "fair and realistic."

COUNCIL figured the new pay schedule would cost an additional $2,646 annually without overtime, which last year totaled 420 hours. The department is on a 40-hour week.

When Councilman Robert Kelm reported other village employes plan to seek raises, Council decided to have a meeting next Monday with Clerk-Treasurer John Ebert to determine how far the community can go with a general increase.

The schedule proposed for police last night would pay the chief $467.50 a month, the captain $434.50 and the three patrolmen $424.50.

Council authorized the volunteer fire department to order equipment requested through Fireman Harold Adams, who furnished prices.

Seven coats with glow strips, three pairs of boots, one helmet and four badges are to be purchased from A. J. Mannweiler of Massillon, Council said, since the firm is represented by Ralph Rose, a Lisbon resident. The equipment cost is $350.20.

COUNCIL told Adams firemen could purchase a new nozzle from the Warren Fire Equipment Co. for $101.20, since that firm supplied a similar nozzle last year and firemen want to match it.

Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi was directed to prepare a resolution asking the Highway Department to participate in the complete rebuilding of Lincoln Way (U.S. Route 30) through Lisbon.

Kelm, chairman of the streets committee, reported on a meeting last week with Division 11 engineers at New Philadelphia. He said the Lincoln Way project is three or four years in the future, but prospects are good for state and federal participation.

Floyd Lower, chairman of the Kiwanis Club's agriculture and conservation committee, reported on a meeting here this month with Oliver Diller, chief forester of the Ohio Agricultural Development and Research Center at Wooster.

Lower said Kiwanis will sponsor a planting program on a limited basis this year, promote the sale of backyard trees, organize a tour to Wooster in May and work out a master plan for tree removals and replacements.

Council gave first reading to an ordinance establishing the Lisbon Shade Tree Commission, to consist of six members—the mayor, street commissioner, solicitor, president of the Board of Public Affairs and two residents to be appointed by the mayor with Council's approval. Members would serve without pay, but would be reimbursed for expenses on commission business.

COUNCIL agreed to have Columbia Gas of Ohio run a line to the old city of Philadelphia gaslight by the fountain on the Square. The operating cost will be approximately $1.50 a month, according to Miller, who met with William Hochradel, Salem district manager for the utility.

Miller said gaslights of the Philadelphia design are available at approximately $130 each. Council earlier this month discussed buying two more of the lights — one for the music court and the other for the park north of the Courthouse.

Street Commissioner Richard Roberts was authorized to purchase a cab protector for the new dump truck at a cost of $88.

Councilman Bill Mattix reported Contractor Dean Rose estimates it will cost $350 to $365 to put a concrete floor in the Village Hall garage, where the Fire Department ambulance and a tanker are kept. Council authorized Rose to proceed with the work.

The Council chambers were remodeled last week by Contractor Harry Lederle. He finished the dropped ceiling, put chair-height paneling around the room and laid a tile floor. A representative of Ohio penal institutions will meet with a Council committee soon regarding new prison-made furniture for the room.

2 Sandusky Boys Drown In Bay; Third Is Saved

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Three boys were walking along the Sandusky Bay shore when one of them thought he saw a pocket knife about 35 feet out on the ice.

Lloyd W. Bonderer Jr., 9, spotted the object and went out to get it. He crashed through the two-inch thick ice.

John Sartor, 9, and Craig Bonderer, 6, Lloyd's brother, went out to help. They fell through the ice, too.

Two of the boys drowned Monday and no one knows if the object they sought really was a knife.

James L. Singer, 40, was in a garage nearby. Someone yelled three boys had fallen through the ice. Singler slashed his way through the ice and grabbed Craig.

He handed the youngster to a fireman. One of the other youths slipped from his grasp.

An hour later scuba diver Ray Zahniser recovered the bodies of Lloyd Bonderer, and the Asrtor youth.

Craig was hospitalized in good condition.

Rhodes Gets Award

NEW ORLANS, La. (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio formally accepted an award Monday honoring his state for its industrial development program, especially in providing jobs.

Hancock CAC Recruits Trainees For Welding

WEIRTON — The Hancok County Community Action Council, Inc., is recruiting enrollees for a welding training program at Wellsburg, Ronald E. Wilson, director, has announced.

The program is being conducted in cooperation with the West Virginia Department of Employment Security's Manpower Development Training Program.

In order to qualify, the applicants must be 22 or older, unemployed, the head of a household and able to read and write, Wilson said.

The training program will last for 17 weeks and enrollees will receive a small subsistence allowance during this period. Upon successful completion of the course, the trainees will be placed in local jobs paying up to $4 per hour, Wilson said.

All qualified, interested residents of the area should contact the Community Action Agency, 418 Cove Rd., Weirton, today or Wednesday to arrange for an interview with a representative from the Department of Employment Security on Thursday, the director said.

Enrollees may pick up application forms at the office of the agency or contact Steve Yurka, secretary.

An additional date for interviews may be scheduled if the number of applicants warrants.

Missouri's official tree is the flowering dogwood.

By JOHN HORN

Andy Williams Tussle

Although a contract may be signed by the time you read this, the tug o' war between Andy Williams and NBC could leave bitter memories.

At renewal time, Williams asked for more money than the network was willing to pay. About the same time someone in the singer's camp hinted that CBS, which has Andy's signature for Columbia Records, was interested.

NBC, applying pressure, responded by scheduling "The Saint," starring Roger Moore, in Williams' spot beginning May 21. Last year Williams repeats played through summer.

Meanwhile, CBS denied interest.

BISHOP Fulton J. Sheen, whose "Life Is Worth Living" series opposed and outlasted Milton Berle (1951-1957), has been back on the air with a simila informal-lecture program about life, not religion, since September.

He doesn't have as large a station lineup as when he was carried by Dumont over 118 stations.

But his 30 stations, all of which telecast the bishop in prime time, include the big cities of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Kansas City, Chicago and Los Angeles. The series is syndicated by Metromedia.

But a member of the Propagation of Faith Society says the bishop — now dressed in official robes for color television — is currently nicknamed "Batman From Heaven."

All 26 of this season's weekly programs have been taped.

THE STOCK of Harry Reasoner, CBS News correspondent, former White House reporter, sometime Walter Cronkite substitute, essayist on doors, bridges and women and general all-around man with the light touch, will take a sharp turn upward next fall.

He has been packaged into a series of 10 half-hour and 4 one-hour reports, placed within the CBS News prime-time hour Tuesday nights.

Evidently somebody is wild about Harry, who recently published a volume of his writings under the title, "The Reasoner Report."

The programs will be done in color and titled "Who, What, Why, When and Where With Harry Reasoner."

The newsman currently is seen regularly only on a Sunday night report.

SPREAD OUT over next season, the new series further will change the image of the Tuesday actuality hour.

Once dominated by "CBS Reports," the time period is now a mix of that series, specials and test shows.

Only six "CBS Reports" programs have been telecast this season, and only two more are upcoming: "The Farthest Frontier" (on LSD and other mind-changing drugs) and a documentary on homosexuals.

The latter was begun by William Peters, a producer now with ABC. It is being completed by Harry Morgan, who produced "Mystery of Stonehenge."

For the rest of this season, the hour also will present, besides specials and topicals, two more "Vietnam Perspectives," two more test shows and one Town Meeting of the World.

9 Fire Truck And Highlift Bids Studied

The Board of Control, comprised of Acting Mayor Ernest Lowe and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, took under advisement nine bids filed early Monday afternoon on a new emergency truck for the fire department and a new highlift for the street department.

Two firms submitted bids on a chassis and cab for use in the fire department, while two more concerns filed offers on the emergency equipment, including a custom body, a high-pressure pump and 250 gallon water tank for use in battling small fires.

Five concerns submitted offers on the street department highlift.

Wimmer Motor Sales of Dresden Ave. offered a 1967 GMC cab and chassis for $2,935. O. S. Hill & Co. filed two offers on a 1967 International cab and chassis. It priced one at $3,583.25, less a $685.25 discount and a $450 trade-in for a net of $2,648 and offered another at $3,481.50, a trade-in of $250 and a discount of $684.50, for a net price of $2,547.

The Sutphen Co. of Columbus filed the apparent low bid of $8,100 on the emergency equipment. It offered a gross price of $8,271 and a $171 discount for a net of $8,100.

A bid of $9,641 was filed on the emergency equipment by the John Bean Division of the Food Machinery & Chemical Co. at Lansing, Mich.

The Gibson - Stewart Co. of Cleveland submitted the apparent low bid of $13,500 for the highlift. It filed a gross price of $17,000, less a $2,600 trade-in for the highlift now used by the street department.

The Ohio Machinery Co. of Cleveland filed a bid of $18,765 less a $1,065 trade for a net price of $17,700. Marks Tractor Equipment Co. of Youngstown bid $21,659 with a $2,000 trade-in for a net price of $19,659.

Allied Equipment Co. of Carnegie, Pa., filed a $14,000 bid. Its gross price was $16,883, less a $2,883 trade-in. The same company's North Canton office submitted prices on three models — $14,807, $15,888 and $16,225.

Council appropriated $26,300 for the two pieces of equipment in legislation approved Dec. 29. Council set up $12,000 for the emergency truck and $14,300 for the highlift.

Neighborhood Group Will Meet At Weirton

WEIRTON — Carl W. Glatt, executive director of the West Virginia Human Rights Commission, will speak during the meeting of the North Weirton - Weir Ave. Neighborhood Association Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Morning Star Baptist Church, 3210 Weir Ave.

His topic will be "Responsibility for Civil Rights Progress."

The association is sponsored by the Hancock County Community Action Council. Ronald E. Wilson is director.

Lisbon's Council Holds Up Action On Police Boost

LISBON — Council tabled action Monday night on its police committee's proposal for a 10 per cent salary increase for the five policemen.

The Police Department two weeks ago requested an increase of more than 20 per cent.

Fayson Miller, chairman of the police committee, said he considers the proposed raise "fair and realistic."

COUNCIL figured the new pay schedule would cost an additional $2,646 annually without overtime, which last year totaled 420 hours. The department is on a 40-hour week.

When Councilman Robert Kelm reported other village employes plan to seek raises, Council decided to have a meeting next Monday with Clerk-Treasurer John Ebert to determine how far the community can go with a general increase.

The schedule proposed for police last night would pay the chief $467.50 a month, the captain $434.50 and the three patrolmen $424.50.

Council authorized the volunteer fire department to order equipment requested through Fireman Harold Adams, who furnished prices.

Seven coats with glow strips, three pairs of boots, one helmet and four badges are to be purchased from A. J. Mannweiler of Massillon, Council said, since the firm is represented by Ralph Rose, a Lisbon resident. The equipment cost is $350.20.

COUNCIL told Adams firemen could purchase a new nozzle from the Warren Fire Equipment Co. for $101.20, since that firm supplied a similar nozzle last year and firemen want to match it.

Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi was directed to prepare a resolution asking the Highway Department to participate in the complete rebuilding of Lincoln Way (U.S. Route 30) through Lisbon.

Kelm, chairman of the streets committee, reported on a meeting last week with Division 11 engineers at New Philadelphia. He said the Lincoln Way project is three or four years in the future, but prospects are good for state and federal participation.

Floyd Lower, chairman of the Kiwanis Club's agriculture and conservation committee, reported on a meeting here this month with Oliver Diller, chief forester of the Ohio Agricultural Development and Research Center at Wooster.

Lower said Kiwanis will sponsor a planting program on a limited basis this year, promote the sale of backyard trees, organize a tour to Wooster in May and work out a master plan for tree removals and replacements.

Council gave first reading to an ordinance establishing the Lisbon Shade Tree Commission, to consist of six members—the mayor, street commissioner, solicitor, president of the Board of Public Affairs and two residents to be appointed by the mayor with Council's approval. Members would serve without pay, but would be reimbursed for expenses on commission business.

COUNCIL agreed to have Columbia Gas of Ohio run a line to the old city of Philadelphia gaslight by the fountain on the Square. The operating cost will be approximately $1.50 a month, according to Miller, who met with William Hochradel, Salem district manager for the utility.

Miller said gaslights of the Philadelphia design are available at approximately $130 each. Council earlier this month discussed buying two more of the lights — one for the music court and the other for the park north of the Courthouse.

Street Commissioner Richard Roberts was authorized to purchase a cab protector for the new dump truck at a cost of $88.

Councilman Bill Mattix reported Contractor Dean Rose estimates it will cost $350 to $365 to put a concrete floor in the Village Hall garage, where the Fire Department ambulance and a tanker are kept. Council authorized Rose to proceed with the work.

The Council chambers were remodeled last week by Contractor Harry Lederle. He finished the dropped ceiling, put chair-height paneling around the room and laid a tile floor. A representative of Ohio penal institutions will meet with a Council committee soon regarding new prison-made furniture for the room.

2 Sandusky Boys Drown In Bay; Third Is Saved

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Three boys were walking along the Sandusky Bay shore when one of them thought he saw a pocket knife about 35 feet out on the ice.

Lloyd W. Bonderer Jr., 9, spotted the object and went out to get it. He crashed through the two-inch thick ice.

John Sartor, 9, and Craig Bonderer, 6, Lloyd's brother, went out to help. They fell through the ice, too.

Two of the boys drowned Monday and no one knows if the object they sought really was a knife.

James L. Singer, 40, was in a garage nearby. Someone yelled three boys had fallen through the ice. Singler slashed his way through the ice and grabbed Craig.

He handed the youngster to a fireman. One of the other youths slipped from his grasp.

An hour later scuba diver Ray Zahniser recovered the bodies of Lloyd Bonderer, and the Asrtor youth.

Craig was hospitalized in good condition.

Rhodes Gets Award

NEW ORLANS, La. (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio formally accepted an award Monday honoring his state for its industrial development program, especially in providing jobs.

Hancock CAC Recruits Trainees For Welding

WEIRTON — The Hancok County Community Action Council, Inc., is recruiting enrollees for a welding training program at Wellsburg, Ronald E. Wilson, director, has announced.

The program is being conducted in cooperation with the West Virginia Department of Employment Security's Manpower Development Training Program.

In order to qualify, the applicants must be 22 or older, unemployed, the head of a household and able to read and write, Wilson said.

The training program will last for 17 weeks and enrollees will receive a small subsistence allowance during this period. Upon successful completion of the course, the trainees will be placed in local jobs paying up to $4 per hour, Wilson said.

All qualified, interested residents of the area should contact the Community Action Agency, 418 Cove Rd., Weirton, today or Wednesday to arrange for an interview with a representative from the Department of Employment Security on Thursday, the director said.

Enrollees may pick up application forms at the office of the agency or contact Steve Yurka, secretary.

An additional date for interviews may be scheduled if the number of applicants warrants.

Missouri's official tree is the flowering dogwood.

House Panel Meets

Guidelines Due In Powell Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of nine House members meets today to lay down guidelines for an inquiry into whether Rep. Adam Clayton Powell should be seated.

The select committee headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, has until Feb. 23 to decide whether Powell, a New York Democrat, should be barred for defying New York courts and assertedly mishandling funds of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Powell was stripped of his Education and Labor Committee chairmanship by House Democrats two weeks ago. Then he was denied his seat by the full House until Celler's committee makes a recommendation and the House takes further action.

Powell is receiving the pay and other benefits of a congressman but has no committee assignment and cannot vote or speak in the House.

The five Democrats and four Republicans on the committee hope to agree at their late afternoon meeting today on such procedures as whether to hold open or closed hearings and what kind of staff to use.

In New York, Raymond Rubin, an attorney for Esther James, who holds the defamation judgment against Powell which led to his court troubles, said his client would settle for nothing less than the full amount of the judgment — presently $161,000—and a public apology from Powell.

Rubin met Monday in New York with representatives of a recording firm, Jubilee Records, which produced an album by Powell called "Keep the Faith, Baby."

Powell has said he will use the profits from the recording to pay off "all existing court judgments against me." The album sells for $4.79 and Powell will receive 22 cents on each album.

Public Airing Slated Monday On City Zoning Regulations

Council will conduct a public hearing Monday night at 7 on proposed zoning regulations for East Liverpool, a bulky, 58-page document which weighs more than a half-pound.

State law requires that Council must conduct the public hearing before taking any action to vote the suggested ordinance into law. The zoning regulations were approved by the City Planning Commission Dec. 18 and then referred to Council.

The hearing also will cover a "zoning district map," a map of East Liverpool showing the purposes for which land would be reserved if the regulations are adopted.

THE REGULATIONS would set aside land areas for 13 general uses, ranging from agricultural purposes to heavy industrial plants.

The districts, as defined in the proposed ordinance, are:

"S-1-Special: Large public or semi - public land holdings, land which is suitable for non - commercial recreation, areas to be kept open for highway interchanges or take - off or landing of aircraft, low - lying land subject to periodic flooding or land to be kept open to protect the source of municipal water supply.

"A-1-Agriculture: Land which is level or gently rolling and is best reserved for agricultural and other rural purposes.

"R-1-Low Density Residential: For relatively low density residential development which has or logically will have group water and sewage facilities developed.

"R-2-Medium Density Residential: For medium density residential development which has ready access to most community facilities. Community water and sewage facilities are required.

"R-3-Medium - High Density Residential: For moderately high density residential development conveniently accessible to all community facilities and major traffic arteries. Compensating open areas must be included in the site plan or located in close proximity.

"B-1-Neighborhood Business: Areas for small local business with convenience type goods such as are handled in small drug stores, plus personal services such as barber shops and beauty salons. Uses in these areas must be compatible with surrounding residential uses and not be large generators of traffic.

"B - 2 - Community Shopping Center: Shopping centers of an integrated design which provide adequate parking and servicing areas. They must be located along major thoroughfares, have restricted points of access and be screened or fenced from surrounding residential areas.

"B-3-INSTITUTIONS and Offices: Areas for business offices, professional offices, laboratories and scientific research facilities and institutions of a religious, charitable or philanthropic nature.

"B-4-Highway or General Business: Areas along major highways or thoroughfares which provide sales and services oriented to highway travelers, or general businesses including sale and services for automotive, farm machinery and building trades.

"B-5—Central Business District: The existing central business district, plus additional areas which are logical for the extension of the business district.

"M-1—Restricted Industrial: Areas for industries, research facilities and offices of a restricted nature which will have little or no detrimental effect on neighboring urban land uses.

"M-2—Limited Industrial: Areas for limited processing and storage of agricultural supplies, grain, building materials, oil and gas well equipment storage and sales, plus sand and gravel extraction.

"M-3—General Industrial: Areas which because of their access to transportation and community services and relative isolation from other urban uses provide good sites for most types of heavier industries."

Zoning regulations cannot be made "retroactive." Changes in land use will be required only in future developments. The Planning Commission held three public hearings on the same set of regulations late in 1966 before adopting them.

Mongolia, 626,000 - square - mile republic, has a population of only 1,019,000.

Chester PTA Has Meeting

Mrs. Chester Simmons, vice president, presided during the meeting of the Chester Junior High and Intermediate Parent-Teacher Association Monday night at the school.

Mrs. Richard Aaron, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced the PTA will sponsor a skating party Feb. 9 at the Melody Lane Skating Rink, near Hookstown.

It will be held from 8 to 11 p.m., with the public invited. Proceeds will be used for PTA projects.

Miss Masako Ochi, Japanese student at OAK Glen High School, discussed "Education In Japan."

The attendance banner was awarded the fifth grade, taught by Mrs. Ruth Cater.

The next meeting will be Feb. 27 at the school.

Post Reminded Of Convention At Local Meeting

Members were reminded of the mid - winter convention at Columbus Sunday when American Legion Post 4 met Monday night in the Siff building on the Diamond.

Four area youths will represent the post during the annual Buckeye Boys State at Athens in June.

In other business, George E. Grafton was named post adjutant by the executive committee. He succeeds Harold E. Taylor, who resigned because of illness.

Members announced ill at various hospitals include Walter Campbell, Rochester General; John McCune, Veterans Administration, Aspinwall; John Hart, VA, Pittsburgh; William Gerber, Chillicothe, and Isaac Jones, East Liverpool Osteopathic.

Emmett Blake reported the delivery of some paperback books to the Veterans Hospital at Aspinwall.

Comdr. Glenn Poling announced the post is collecting discarded but repairable cigarette lighters for distribution to veterans in hospitals. Poling asked public support on the venture.

A joint meeting with the Auxiliary will be held soon.

I. J. Vorndran gave the financial report.

Mishap Involves Girl Taking Test

Police Capt. John Varner said Lynn Marie Conrad, 16, was driving north, accompanied by a driver examiner, and struck the right rear fender of a parked 1965 pickup truck owned by Ray E. Lewis, 42, of 490 S. Lincoln Ave., Salem.

The mishap occurred in front of the Lewis Chevrolet Garage. Police made no citations. They said Lewis was parked headed south on the east side of the street and the right rear corner of his truck extended into the northbound lane.

The examination center said Miss Conrad will have to apply for another test.

Post 374 Enrolls 2 New Members

Denzil McKinney, first vice commander, said the post needs 43 more members to meet its 1967 quota.

Thirty - one attended. Vince McGeehan, commander, conducted business. Robert Poynter, finance officer, and James Cregar, 10th District first vice commander, will attend the commander - adjutant meeting at Columbus Sunday. John Davis, national commander, will be the speaker.

George Hamilton and his orchestra will play for a dance Saturday night.

Cornell's Ron Gervase set an Ivy League record for yardage gained in pass catching last season. He caught 30 passes for 478 yards.

Church Gets New Minister

LISBON — The Rev. Paul Haney, 37, of Greenwich, Ohio, was unanimously accepted by the congregation of the First Christian Church following a "trial" sermon during Sunday morning worship.

He will move to Lisbon with his family June 11.

The Haneys, both natives of Paulding, are the parents of five children, Connie, a high school senior who will attend Hiram College next fall, Kathy, Gray, Mark and Julie.

Rev. Haney is a graduate of Bluffton College, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in elementary education; Defiance College; the Christian Theological Seminary in Indiana; the Lexington Theological Seminary in Kentucky, and in June will receive his degree from graduate theology school of Oberlin College.

He began preaching at the Bluffton Beaver Dam Church of Christ from 1960 to 1963 and since then has served as pastor of the Shenandoah Christian Church near Greenwich.

Area Private Serves At Guantanamo Bay

LISBON — Pfc. James McLaughlin, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McLaughlin of R.D. 5, is serving as a radio technician at Guantanamo Bay. He arrived in Cuba Jan. 9.

McLaughlin enlisted in the Marine Corps last March, took basic training at San Diego, Calif., and special training at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

He was an outstanding athlete at Beaver Local High School, where he was graduated in 1964.

Fall Injures City Teacher

A Westgate School teacher, injured in a fall at school, was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where five area residents were treated Monday and today and released.

Mrs. Dorothy Lynch of Fisher Ave. suffered a fractured hip in a fall on a slippery floor at the school and was taken to the hospital by ambulance about 2 p. m.

Mrs. Leli Clutter of 222 W. Center Ln. was treated early this morning for a laceration of the arm received on a window.

Edward Plum, son of Lloyd Plum of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., suffered a cut on the forehead from a pair of scissors.

Debra Todd, daughter of Robert Todd of 1027 Florence St., received a cut on the back of the leg from a saw.

In a fall down a step, Byron Allison, son of Byron Allison of 628 Florida Ave., Chester, suffered a fractured knee.

House Panel Meets

Guidelines Due In Powell Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of nine House members meets today to lay down guidelines for an inquiry into whether Rep. Adam Clayton Powell should be seated.

The select committee headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, has until Feb. 23 to decide whether Powell, a New York Democrat, should be barred for defying New York courts and assertedly mishandling funds of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Powell was stripped of his Education and Labor Committee chairmanship by House Democrats two weeks ago. Then he was denied his seat by the full House until Celler's committee makes a recommendation and the House takes further action.

Powell is receiving the pay and other benefits of a congressman but has no committee assignment and cannot vote or speak in the House.

The five Democrats and four Republicans on the committee hope to agree at their late afternoon meeting today on such procedures as whether to hold open or closed hearings and what kind of staff to use.

In New York, Raymond Rubin, an attorney for Esther James, who holds the defamation judgment against Powell which led to his court troubles, said his client would settle for nothing less than the full amount of the judgment — presently $161,000—and a public apology from Powell.

Rubin met Monday in New York with representatives of a recording firm, Jubilee Records, which produced an album by Powell called "Keep the Faith, Baby."

Powell has said he will use the proceeds from the recording to pay off "all existing court judgments against me." The album sells for $4.79 and Powell will receive 22 cents on each album.

Public Airing Slated Monday On City Zoning Regulations

Council will conduct a public hearing Monday night at 7 on proposed zoning regulations for East Liverpool, a bulky, 58-page document which weighs more than a half-pound.

State law requires that Council must conduct the public hearing before taking any action to vote the suggested ordinance into law. The zoning regulations were approved by the City Planning Commission Dec. 18 and then referred to Council.

The hearing also will cover a "zoning district map," a map of East Liverpool showing the purposes for which land would be reserved if the regulations are adopted.

THE REGULATIONS would set aside land areas for 13 general uses, ranging from agricultural purposes to heavy industrial plants.

The districts, as defined in the proposed ordinance, are:

"S-1-Special: Large public or semi - public land holdings, land which is suitable for non - commercial recreation, areas to be kept open for highway interchanges or take - off or landing of aircraft, low - lying land subject to periodic flooding or land to be kept open to protect the source of municipal water supply.

"A-1-Agriculture: Land which is level or gently rolling and is best reserved for agricultural and other rural purposes.

"R-1-Low Density Residential: For relatively low density residential development which has or logically will have group water and sewage facilities developed.

"R-2-Medium Density Residential: For medium density residential development which has ready access to most community facilities. Community water and sewage facilities are required.

"R-3-Medium - High Density Residential: For moderately high density residential development conveniently accessible to all community facilities and major traffic arteries. Compensating open areas must be included in the site plan or located in close proximity.

"B-1-Neighborhood Business: Areas for small local business with convenience type goods such as are handled in small drug stores, plus personal services such as barber shops and beauty salons. Uses in these areas must be compatible with surrounding residential uses and not be large generators of traffic.

"B-2-Community Shopping Center: Shopping centers of an integrated design which provide adequate parking and servicing areas. They must be located along major thoroughfares, have restricted points of access and be screened or fenced from surrounding residential areas.

"B-3-INSTITUTIONS and Offices: Areas for business offices, professional offices, laboratories and scientific research facilities and institutions of a religious, charitable or philanthropic nature.

"B-4-Highway or General Business: Areas along major highways or thoroughfares which provide sales and services oriented to highway travelers, or general businesses including sale and services for automotive, farm machinery and building trades.

"B-5—Central Business District: The existing central business district, plus additional areas which are logical for the extension of the business district.

"M-1—Restricted Industrial: Areas for industries, research facilities and offices of a restricted nature which will have little or no detrimental effect on neighboring urban land uses.

"M-2—Limited Industrial: Areas for limited processing and storage of agricultural supplies, grain, building materials, oil and gas well equipment storage and sales, plus sand and gravel extraction.

"M-3—General Industrial: Areas which because of their access to transportation and community services and relative isolation from other urban uses provide good sites for most types of heavier industries."

Zoning regulations cannot be made "retroactive." Changes in land use will be required only in future developments. The Planning Commission held three public hearings on the same set of regulations late in 1966 before adopting them.

Mongolia, 626,000 - square - mile republic, has a population of only 1,019,000.

Chester PTA Has Meeting

Mrs. Chester Simmons, vice president, presided during the meeting of the Chester Junior High and Intermediate Parent-Teacher Association Monday night at the school.

Mrs. Richard Aaron, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced the PTA will sponsor a skating party Feb. 9 at the Melody Lane Skating Rink, near Hookstown.

It will be held from 8 to 11 p.m., with the public invited. Proceeds will be used for PTA projects.

Miss Masako Ochi, Japanese student at OAK Glen High School, discussed "Education In Japan."

The attendance banner was awarded the fifth grade, taught by Mrs. Ruth Cater.

The next meeting will be Feb. 27 at the school.

Post Reminded Of Convention At Local Meeting

Members were reminded of the mid - winter convention at Columbus Sunday when American Legion Post 4 met Monday night in the Siff building on the Diamond.

Four area youths will represent the post during the annual Buckeye Boys State at Athens in June.

In other business, George E. Grafton was named post adjutant by the executive committee. He succeeds Harold E. Taylor, who resigned because of illness.

Members announced ill at various hospitals include Walter Campbell, Rochester General; John McCune, Veterans Administration, Aspinwall; John Hart, VA, Pittsburgh; William Gerber, Chillicothe, and Isaac Jones, East Liverpool Osteopathic.

Emmett Blake reported the delivery of some paperback books to the Veterans Hospital at Aspinwall.

Comdr. Glenn Poling announced the post is collecting discarded but repairable cigarette lighters for distribution to veterans in hospitals. Poling asked public support on the venture.

A joint meeting with the Auxiliary will be held soon.

I. J. Vorndran gave the financial report.

Mishap Involves Girl Taking Test

Police Capt. John Varner said Lynn Marie Conrad, 16, was driving north, accompanied by a driver examiner, and struck the right rear fender of a parked 1965 pickup truck owned by Ray E. Lewis, 42, of 490 S. Lincoln Ave., Salem.

The mishap occurred in front of the Lewis Chevrolet Garage. Police made no citations. They said Lewis was parked headed south on the east side of the street and the right rear corner of his truck extended into the northbound lane.

The examination center said Miss Conrad will have to apply for another test.

Post 374 Enrolls 2 New Members

Denzil McKinney, first vice commander, said the post needs 43 more members to meet its 1967 quota.

Thirty - one attended. Vince McGeehan, commander, conducted business. Robert Poynter, finance officer, and James Cregar, 10th District first vice commander, will attend the commander - adjutant meeting at Columbus Sunday. John Davis, national commander, will be the speaker.

George Hamilton and his orchestra will play for a dance Saturday night.

Cornell's Ron Gervase set an Ivy League record for yardage gained in pass catching last season. He caught 30 passes for 478 yards.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

DEAR READERS: Somewhere out there is a 15-year-old girl who is doing all the ironing for a family of eight. When she wrote recently I told her to quit beefing, that one thing was certain — when she got married she would know how to iron, which was more than I could say for most teen-age girls.

I'm changing my advice. The avalanche of mail from irate readers has persuaded me that I was wrong. Here's a sampling:

FROM LOUISVILLE: When was the last time you did all the ironing for eight people? Check with someone who has and you will reverse yourself. Your advice is usually solid, but this time you goofed.

FROM EUREKA, CALIF.: You gotta be kidding. My daughter is 15 and does her share of work in the house, but I certainly would not expect her to do ALL the ironing — and we are four, not eight.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO: There are seven in our family and I do a washing every day. Our 15-year-old daughter irons the towels and sheets and her own blouses. I wouldn't ask her to do any more. I'm thankful I don't have to do her homework. Have you been inside a high school lately?

FROM MEMPHIS: If there are eight in the family there must be other girls who are old enough to help with the ironing. Why should the 15-year-old be stuck with all of it? A girl of 11 can iron handkerchiefs and pillowcases and towels. Please change your advice.

The readers have proven once again that everybody knows better than anybody. I now take the position that a 15-year-old girl should do part of the ironing, but not all of it, and I'm ready to take my punishment. (How about 10 lashes with the electric cord?).

Thirty Years War

Dear Ann: My mother-in-law is a wonderful woman. She has lived with an abusive, alcoholic husband for 30 years and raised a fine family despite her terrible problems.

Two years ago my father-in-law got so mean she couldn't take it any more so she left him and moved in with us. One month later the drunken bum showed up and he moved in, too. When I came home and found him here I took my husband aside and told him to get the guy out. His answer was, "He is my father. I can't."

Now, Ann Landers, our marriage is in danger. The fighting and flying crockery have made my husband a nervous wreck. Last night he said, "If you don't get them out of this house I'm leaving."

They are his parents, Ann. Isn't it up to him to tell them to go? I also worry about what will happen to my mother-in-law if we throw them out. Please give me some advice and fast. — SMACK DAB IN THE MIDDLE.

Dear Dab: It's your husband's place to invite his parents to continue the "30-Year War" elsewhere, but obviously he is not equal to the task so you'll have to help him.

A few weeks after they leave, when your-father-in-law has rearranged your mother-in-law's bridgework for the 50th time, she'll be back. Welcome her. But don't let the old man move in again or you'll have a rerun of the nightmare you've lived with for the last two years.

Confidentially

To If You Were in My Shoes: I would throw them out and buy another pair. And if you can't afford another pair right now, throw them out anyway and go barefooted. You'll be more comfortable and you'll look better, too.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Fatal To Six More

By The Associated Press

Among Ohio's latest traffic dead are three teen-agers, two of them killed in the Cincinnati area.

The victims:

Dennis Michael Seaver, 18, Bridgetown, Hamilton County.

Bruce Van Winkle, 18, Norwood, Hamilton County.

Mrs. Desmond G. Miller, 41, Cridersville, Auglaize County.

Edger A. Sanders, 57, Perrysburg, Wood County.

Paul Eugene Long Jr., 19, Celina.

Edward Dennison, 39, Columbus.

Seaver was injured fatally Monday when his car and a truck collided headon in Greater Cincinnati.

Van Winkle died in a Cincinnati-area crash Monday when the car he was riding in rammed two utility poles.

Mrs. Miller was killed Monday in a two-car crash south of Lima.

Sanders was injured fatally Monday night when struck by a car as he crossed a street in Perrysburg.

Long died about two hours after the car he was riding in crashed on Ohio 118 north of Greenville Monday night.

Dennison was killed Monday when his car struck the rear of another auto which had stopped at a Columbus intersection.

The coroner will rule in the death of Otto Miller, 71, of rural West Attica who appeared to have suffered only minor injuries in a one car crash south of Belleview, Seneca County Monday.

Pastor Demands Equal Treatment For Rep. Powell

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Equal treatment for Rep. Adam Clayton Powell was demanded by a leading clergyman Monday night in a speech before 2,500 Ohio pastors.

"No, I don't justify the conduct of Powell, but in the name of justice let's reform all of Congress," the Rev. Dr. Benjamin F. Payton, head of the Commission on Religion and Race for the National Council of Churches, told the 48th annual Ohio Pastors Convocation.

"Powell, a man who, like many men, has the frailties of mankind and, while never once justifying the personal conduct of that man or any other politician, I demand that equal treatment be given," Dr. Payton added.

Powell, a Democrat from New York's Harlem, has been refused his seat in Congress while an investigation of his activities is being made. He has lost his chairmanship of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Ohioan Among 6 Cited In Alleged Mortgage Fraud

NEW YORK (AP)—A Cleveland, Ohio restaurant owner and five other men were indicted Monday in an alleged coast-to-coast mortgage swindle.

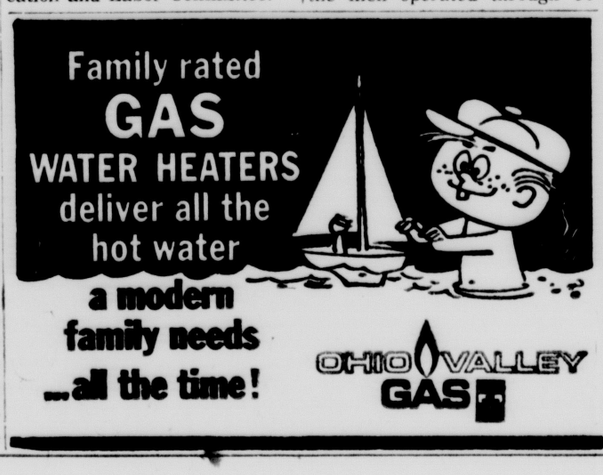

U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said they were accused of taking more than $250,000 in advance payments from mortgage applicants for commitments "in the millions of dollars" although this money did not materialize.

Those indicted included Dominick C. Lonardo, 47, of University Heights, Ohio, owner of the Highlander Restaurant in Cleveland, and Frank J. Crisona, 46, a brother of New York Supreme Court Justice James J. Crisaona.

Morgenthau said the scheme was pulled off in several cities, including Cleveland.

The 30-count indictment said the men operated through Colombia Resources, Ltd., New York, pretended that the firm had more than $17 million in assets, listed fictitious officers and directors and induced Dun and Bradstreet to give Colombia credit ratings based on the false information.

The defendants were released on bond. A hearing was scheduled for Jan. 31 in Federal Court.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

DEAR READERS: Somewhere out there is a 15-year-old girl who is doing all the ironing for a family of eight. When she wrote recently I told her to quit beefing, that one thing was certain — when she got married she would know how to iron, which was more than I could say for most teen-age girls.

I'm changing my advice. The avalanche of mail from irate readers has persuaded me that I was wrong. Here's a sampling:

FROM LOUISVILLE: When was the last time you did all the ironing for eight people? Check with someone who has and you will reverse yourself. Your advice is usually solid, but this time you goofed.

FROM EUREKA, CALIF.: You gotta be kidding. My daughter is 15 and does her share of work in the house, but I certainly would not expect her to do ALL the ironing — and we are four, not eight.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO: There are seven in our family and I do a washing every day. Our 15-year-old daughter irons the towels and sheets and her own blouses. I wouldn't ask her to do any more. I'm thankful I don't have to do her homework. Have you been inside a high school lately?

FROM MEMPHIS: If there are eight in the family there must be other girls who are old enough to help with the ironing. Why should the 15-year-old be stuck with all of it? A girl of 11 can iron handkerchiefs and pillowcases and towels. Please change your advice.

The readers have proven once again that everybody knows better than anybody. I now take the position that a 15-year-old girl should do part of the ironing, but not all of it, and I'm ready to take my punishment. (How about 10 lashes with the electric cord?).

Thirty Years War

Dear Ann: My mother-in-law is a wonderful woman. She has lived with an abusive, alcoholic husband for 30 years and raised a fine family despite her terrible problems.

Two years ago my father-in-law got so mean she couldn't take it any more so she left him and moved in with us. One month later the drunken bum showed up and he moved in, too. When I came home and found him here I took my husband aside and told him to get the guy out. His answer was, "He is my father. I can't."

Now, Ann Landers, our marriage is in danger. The fighting and flying crockery have made my husband a nervous wreck. Last night he said, "If you don't get them out of this house I'm leaving."

They are his parents, Ann. Isn't it up to him to tell them to go? I also worry about what will happen to my mother-in-law if we throw them out. Please give me some advice and fast. — SMACK DAB IN THE MIDDLE.

Dear Dab: It's your husband's place to invite his parents to continue the "30-Year War" elsewhere, but obviously he is not equal to the task so you'll have to help him.

A few weeks after they leave, when your father-in-law has rearranged your mother-in-law's bridgework for the 50th time, she'll be back. Welcome her. But don't let the old man move in again or you'll have a rerun of the nightmare you've lived with for the last two years.

Confidentially

To If You Were in My Shoes: I would throw them out and buy another pair. And if you can't afford another pair right now, throw them out anyway and go barefooted. You'll be more comfortable and you'll look better, too.

State Ratings Remain Unchanged

East Holds First Spot, Lorain 2nd

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Unbeaten Columbus East, the No. 1 ranked high school basketball team in the state, continues to hold its lofty position in the weekly Associated Press ratings.

Coach Bob Hart's Tigers added two more victims last weekend, boosting their record to 12-0.

The sportswriters and sportscasters who vote in the poll gave East a whopping 246 points, some 46 more than collected by No. 2 Lorain Admiral King, sporting a perfect 15-0 mark.

East disposed of a tough opponent last Friday, tripping Columbus Linden 79-75, but held leads of 18 points on several occasions before the losers rallied to make it close.

Rounding out the Class AA elite list were Lima Shawnee (12-1); Canton Lincoln (11 - 2); Linden (10-2); Dayton Belmont (12 - 0); Cleveland East Tech (11-2); Dayton Roosevelt (11-2); Cuyahoga Falls (11-2) and Newark (11-3).

East Tech, which has lost only by forfeit because of an over-age player, and Dayton Roosevelt crashed into the top ten as Harding and Miamisburg dropped out.

Harding was a 64-57 victim of Lorain Admiral King Friday and Miamisburg dropped a decision to Hamilton Badin the same night.

Fort Recovery and Ames-Bern, both boasting unblemished 15-0 records, continue to run 1-2 in the Class A competition, as they have all season. Fort Recovery garnered 170 points to Ames-Bern's 145.

Strasburg (14 - 0) moved up from fourth to third while Bloomville (14-1) dropped from third to fourth.

Northwestern of Wayne County (13-1) was fifth followed by Woodsfield (11-0); St. Henry (11-2) and Dalton (13-1), tied for seventh; Crestview of Richland County (12-1) and Sandusky St. Mary (12-1).

Cardington, No. 8 last week, lost to Buckeye Valley 76-54 and fell to 14th while Convoy Crestview, No. 10 last week, slipped to 12th spot.

Scholastic sidelights:

Linden's loss to East was only its third setback at home in the last five years.

Miami Trace hit 29 of 29 free throws against Pleasant View Saturday night.

No. 10 Sandusky St. Mary stopped Clyde Friday night for its 30th straight regular season triumph, tying a school mark. But the school's bid for the record-breaker Saturday was spoiled by Gibsonburg, 73-56.

Here Are Ohio's Top 10 Teams

Class AA

School	W	L	Pts.
1. Columbus East	12	0	246
2. Lorain King	15	0	200
3. Lima Shawnee	12	1	150

North Carolina Jumps To 2nd

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It looks as though nothing will stop UCLA's torrid basketball team except, maybe, some cold weather.

The top-ranked Bruins make their first appearance of the season away from the West Coast this weekend when they meet Illinois Friday and Loyola of Illinois Saturday, both games in Chicago Stadium.

Illinois has won eight games and lost four while Loyola is 7-6. Each figures to provide stronger resistance than the Bruins' opponents of last week, Portland and the University of California at Santa Barbara. UCLA trampled Portland 122-57 and UC at Santa Barbara 119-75.

The Bruins are unanimous choices for first place in The Associated Press' major college poll for the second straight week today. They collected all 39 votes for the top position in the balloting by a national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

North Carolina advanced to second place while Houston held the No. 3 spot and Louisville slipped two notches to fourth. Princeton held fifth place.

North Carolina, Houston and Princeton were not scheduled last week. Louisville dropped its second game of the year, 59-58 to Cincinnati, after scoring its 15th victory, 66-50 over Dayton.

Texas Western, Kansas, Western Kentucky, Vanderbilt and Providence round out the first 10.

Western Kentucky and Vanderbilt are the new teams in the rankings. They replaced Florida and New Mexico, eighth and ninth, respectively, a week ago.

The Gators were beaten twice by Tennessee while New Mexico lost to Utah and Brigham Young.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-etc. basis:

1.	UCLA (39)	390
2.	North Carolina	279
3.	Houston	269
4.	Louisville	255
5.	Princeton	223
6.	Texas Western	206
7.	Kansas	93
8.	Western Kentucky	70
9.	Vanderbilt	67
10.	Providence	50

Vandy, Vols Tied In SEC

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama may not be No. 1 but because of the Crimson Tide, neither is Mississippi State.

State and Tennessee were poised to join idle Vanderbilt at the top of the Southeastern Conference basketball race Monday but only the Volunteers made it, and then just barely.

Tennessee needed two overtimes to squeeze past Kentucky 52-50 but Alabama demolished Mississippi State's ambitions with a 91-74 thrashing.

That left Vandy and Tennessee on top with 6-1 records with State now a full game behind at 5-2. Florida, 7-3, kept pace with the leaders by nipping Georgia 63-61.

Alabama got balanced scoring from Tom Jones, Gary Elliot, Mike Nordholz and Guy Turner in its romp over Mississippi State. Jones and Elliot scored 17 each and Nordholz and Turner had 16 apiece for the Tide, which is 9-5 over-all but only 2-4 in the SEC.

State, 11-2 over-all, got 21 points from Dave Williams, who was high man in the game.

Kentucky hung on gamely against Tennessee, forcing the game into two extra periods before finally bowing. Tom Hendriz dropped in two free throws with four seconds left in the second overtime for the victory.

Dave Miller scored Florida's last seven points and the Gators went without a point in the final two minutes, just hanging on to beat Georgia.

The top shooting performance of the night was turned in by Toledo sophomore Steve Mix, who hit on 15 of 18 field goal attempts, leading the Rockets to a 100-90 victory over Evansville.

Mix also was 5-for-5 from the foul line for a total of 35 points. He pulled down 16 rebounds. Herb Williams led the losers with 23.

Musial Is Cards' General Manager

By BEN BROWN

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan Musial, who is the third general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals in four years, feels the National League club is in good shape for the 1967 baseball campaign.

The 46-year-old Musial, who played 22 years with the Cardinals, became general manager Monday succeeding Robert Howsam, who resigned Sunday to accept a similar post with the Cincinnati Reds.

Howsam replaced Bing Devine as general manager during the 1964 season.

"We have a good, well balanced ball club," Musial said after his selection was announced. "We plan no major player changes or trades at this time," he added.

Musial, who will hold the titles of general manager and vice president, became the ball club's No. 1 administrative official less than a month before the first Cardinals report to spring training in St. Petersburg, Fla.

With only 15 players on the 40-man roster signed, Musial's first job will be to get the players to agree to 1967 terms.

Among those still to be signed is Roger Maris, who hit 61 homers for the New York Yankees in 1961. Maris came to the Cardinals in a winter trade that sent third baseman Charlie Smith to the Yanks.

Musial said he planned to talk with Howsam about Maris and other players still unsigned.

Musial, who retired as an active player in 1963, took over as general manager of the Cardinals 25 years after he reported to the club as a rookie for the 1942 season. He appeared briefly at the tailend of the 1941 season with the Cardinals.

During his playing career, Musial collected over 3,000 hits, had a lifetime batting average of .331 and hit 475 home runs. He set 16 major league records during his career.

Baylor, West Scored But Lakers Lost 4

NEW YORK (AP) — Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers scored a total of 225 points last week, but the Lakers didn't take advantage of the production — losing all four games they played.

Baylor scored 115 to boost his total to 1,083, good for fifth place in the National Basketball Association scoring race, and West threw in 110 for a total of 1,161, good for fourth place, according to league statistics released today.

Oscar Robertson, in second place, raised his average to over 30 points a game — 30.2, by scoring 107 points for 1,268.

Wilt Chamberlain, third in scoring with 1,172 points, continues to lead in field goal percentage, .693, and rebounds, 1,193, and is third in assists, 355.

Local Cage Officials To Meet Wednesday

An election of officers will be held when the Columbiana County Basketball Officials Association holds its final meeting of the season Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the high school.

Wilt Misses But Philly Downs Hawks

By The Associated Press

Wilt Chamberlain finally missed, but the Philadelphia 76ers scored another hit in the victory column.

The 76ers collected the last eight points of the game Monday night for a 112-105 National Basketball Association victory over the St. Louis Hawks at Memphis, Tenn.

The triumph, in the only league action of the night, gave the Eastern Division leading 76ers a 46-4 record.

With 5:54 remaining in the second quarter, Chamberlain drove in for a reverse lay-up, but the ball rolled off the rim, snapping his string of field goals made at 32. He entered the game with a streak of 28 and dunked his first four against the Hawks. The old record was 19, by Chamberlain.

St. Louis rallied from a 12-point deficit in the last quarter to tie the score at 100-100 with 3:42 remaining.

Then with a minute left and the Hawks leading 105-104, Chet Walker put the 76ers ahead 106-105 with a basket. Walker then came through with two foul shots, and Chamberlain added a pair and Billy Cunningham put in a lay-up.

Lisbon Freshmen Top Beaver Local

Lisbon held an 18-14 halftime lead and was on top 34-24 after three periods. Ieropoli led Lisbon with 15 points while Courtney added 10.

Scott Dubberly scored 10 and Rick McBurney eight for Beaver Local.

Toronto plays Thursday at Beaver Local.

Louisiana Gridder Signed By Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins announced today the signing of Dick Redding of Northwestern State College of Louisiana, their 11th round draft pick a year ago.

Redding, 6-foot and 200 pounds, from Natchitoches, La., was used as a tight end in college but the Redskins said he will be tried at split end.

Looks For New Opponents

Griffith Gains Another Narrow Win Over Archer

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight champion Emile Griffith apparently has ended his series with Joey Archer on a second straight close decision and now it may be the turn of Italy's Nino Benvenuti.

After the 28-year-old Griffith had scraped out his narrow but unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden Monday night matchmaker Teddy Brenner said that Benvenuti, the European 160-pound champion had agreed to terms for a March 22 title fight at the Garden.

"If the price is right, Emile will be ready," said Gil Clancy, Griffith's trainer and comanager. "Emile is a fighting champion. He ducks nobody."

Benvenuti, the former world junior middleweight king and beaten only once in his career, was an interested spectator of the return Griffith-Archer fight.

"I wasn't impressed," the handsome, 28-year-old Italian said. "I think I can beat both of them. I just hope I can get the chance with Griffith."

Griffith received $75,000 and Archer about $25,000 on his 15 per cent of the gross gate of $127,119 paid by 14,838 customers and the television receipts.

As in the first fight last July 13, there were no knockdowns. Griffith came close to scoring one in the second round when he clipped Archer with a short right to the jaw and the challenger's right knee dipped to the canvas. Referee Art Mercante didn't count, thus ruling it was not a knockdown.

Outside of the second, the big round was the eighth, won by Griffith as he kept the pressure on for the full three minutes. The champ opened up with left jabs followed by left hooks to the head and body and solid rights to the head.

Referee Art Mercante and judge Joe Dran each scored it 8-6-1 in rounds for Griffith. Judge Joe Eppy had Griffith ahead, 8-7. The Associated Press had Griffith ahead on one card, 7-6-2, and Archer the winner on a second writer's card, 8-6-1.

Price, Lowther Capture OVAC Wrestling Crowns

Two Oak Glen wrestlers captured championships in the OVAC meet which concluded Saturday at Martins Ferry.

Rick Price won the 105-pound title with a 7-6 decision over Mike Deaton of Martins Ferry and Dave Lowther captured the 147-pound title when he pinned Tom Schnupp of Wheeling Central in 3:30.

Oak Glen finished fifth in the field of 17 teams with Martins Ferry capturing the team championship for the seventh straight time. The champions scored 74 points while Bridgeport finished second with 66, Weirton was third with 57, Moundsville had 55 and Oak Glen 51.

Three other Oak Glenn wrestlers took third place in the meet, including Randy Hobbs (114), Ralph Louk (129) and Fred Miller (133).

Oak Glen will host Bellaire St. John's Wednesday at 7 p.m.

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Unbeaten Columbus East, the No. 1 ranked high school basketball team in the state, continues to hold its lofty position in the weekly Associated Press ratings.

Coach Bob Hart's Tigers added two more victims last weekend, boosting their record to 12-0.

The sportswriters and sportscasters who vote in the poll gave East a whopping 246 points, some 46 more than collected by No. 2 Lorain Admiral King, sporting a perfect 15-0 mark.

East disposed of a tough opponent last Friday, tripping Columbus Linden 79-75, but held leads of 18 points on several occasions before the losers rallied to make it close.

Rounding out the Class AA elite list were Lima Shawnee (12-1); Canton Lincoln (11 - 2); Linden (10-2); Dayton Belmont (12 - 0); Cleveland East Tech (11-2); Dayton Roosevelt (11-2); Cuyahoga Falls (11-2) and Newark (11-3).

East Tech, which has lost only by forfeit because of an over-age player, and Dayton Roosevelt crashed into the top ten as Harding and Miamisburg dropped out.

Harding was a 64-57 victim of Lorain Admiral King Friday and Miamisburg dropped a decision to Hamilton Badin the same night.

Fort Recovery and Ames-Bern, both boasting unblemished 15-0 records, continue to run 1-2 in the Class A competition, as they have all season. Fort Recovery garnered 170 points to Ames-Bern's 145.

Strasburg (14 - 0) moved up from fourth to third while Bloomville (14-1) dropped from third to fourth.

Northwestern of Wayne County (13-1) was fifth followed by Woodsfield (11-0); St. Henry (11-2) and Dalton (13-1), tied for seventh; Crestview of Richland County (12-1) and Sandusky St. Mary (12-1).

Cardington, No. 8 last week, lost to Buckeye Valley 76-54 and fell to 14th while Convoy Crestview, No. 10 last week, slipped to 12th spot.

Scholastic sidelights:

Linden's loss to East was only its third setback at home in the last five years.

Miami Trace hit 29 of 29 free throws against Pleasant View Saturday night.

No. 10 Sandusky St. Mary stopped Clyde Friday night for its 30th straight regular season triumph, tying a school mark. But the school's bid for the record-breaker Saturday was spoiled by Gibsonburg, 73-56.

Here Are Ohio's Top 10 Teams

North Carolina Jumps To 2nd

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It looks as though nothing will stop UCLA's torrid basketball team except, maybe, some cold weather.

The top-ranked Bruins make their first appearance of the season away from the West Coast this weekend when they meet Illinois Friday and Loyola of Illinois Saturday, both games in Chicago Stadium.

Illinois has won eight games and lost four while Loyola is 7-6. Each figures to provide stronger resistance than the Bruins' opponents of last week, Portland and the University of California at Santa Barbara. UCLA trampled Portland 122-57 and UC at Santa Barbara 119-75.

The Bruins are unanimous choices for first place in The Associated Press' major college poll for the second straight week today. They collected all 39 votes for the top position in the balloting by a national panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

North Carolina advanced to second place while Houston held the No. 3 spot and Louisville slipped two notches to fourth. Princeton held fifth place.

North Carolina, Houston and Princeton were not scheduled last week. Louisville dropped its second game of the year, 59-58 to Cincinnati, after scoring its 15th victory, 66-50 over Dayton.

Texas Western, Kansas, Western Kentucky, Vanderbilt and Providence round out the first 10.

Western Kentucky and Vanderbilt are the new teams in the rankings. They replaced Florida and New Mexico, eighth and ninth, respectively, a week ago.

The Gators were beaten twice by Tennessee while New Mexico lost to Utah and Brigham Young.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-etc. basis:

1.	UCLA (39)	390
2.	North Carolina	279
3.	Houston	269
4.	Louisville	255
5.	Princeton	223
6.	Texas Western	206
7.	Kansas	93
8.	Western Kentucky	70
9.	Vanderbilt	67
10.	Providence	50

Vandy, Vols Tied In SEC

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama may not be No. 1 but because of the Crimson Tide, neither is Mississippi State.

State and Tennessee were poised to join idle Vanderbilt at the top of the Southeastern Conference basketball race Monday but only the Volunteers made it, and then just barely.

Tennessee needed two overtimes to squeeze past Kentucky 52-50 but Alabama demolished Mississippi State's ambitions with a 91-74 thrashing.

That left Vandy and Tennessee on top with 6-1 records with State now a full game behind at 5-2. Florida, 7-3, kept pace with the leaders by nipping Georgia 63-61.

Alabama got balanced scoring from Tom Jones, Gary Elliot, Mike Nordholz and Guy Turner in its romp over Mississippi State. Jones and Elliot scored 17 each and Nordholz and Turner had 16 apiece for the Tide, which is 9-5 over-all but only 2-4 in the SEC.

State, 11-2 over-all, got 21 points from Dave Williams, who was high man in the game.

Kentucky hung on gamely against Tennessee, forcing the game into two extra periods before finally bowing. Tom Hendriz dropped in two free throws with four seconds left in the second overtime for the victory.

Dave Miller scored Florida's last seven points and the Gators went without a point in the final two minutes, just hanging on to beat Georgia.

The top shooting performance of the night was turned in by Toledo sophomore Steve Mix, who hit on 15 of 18 field goal attempts, leading the Rockets to a 100-90 victory over Evansville.

Mix also was 5-for-5 from the foul line for a total of 35 points. He pulled down 16 rebounds. Herb Williams led the losers with 23.

Musial Is Cards' General Manager

By BEN BROWN

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan Musial, who is the third general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals in four years, feels the National League club is in good shape for the 1967 baseball campaign.

The 46-year-old Musial, who played 22 years with the Cardinals, became general manager Monday succeeding Robert Howsam who resigned Sunday to accept a similar post with the Cincinnati Reds.

"We have a good, well balanced ball club," Musial said after his selection was announced. "We plan no major player changes or trades at this time," he added.

Musial, who will hold the titles of general manager and vice president, became the ball club's No. 1 administrative official less than a month before the first Cardinals report to spring training in St. Petersburg, Fla.

With only 15 players on the 40-man roster signed, Musial's first job will be to get the players to agree to 1967 terms.

Among those still to be signed is Roger Maris, who hit 61 homers for the New York Yankees in 1961. Maris came to the Cardinals in a winter trade that sent third baseman Charlie Smith to the Yanks.

Musial said he planned to talk with Howsam about Maris and other players still unsigned.

Musial, who retired as an active player in 1963, took over as general manager of the Cardinals 25 years after he reported to the club as a rookie for the 1942 season. He appeared briefly at the tailend of the 1941 season with the Cardinals.

During his playing career, Musial collected over 3,000 hits, had a lifetime batting average of .331 and hit 475 home runs. He set 16 major league records during his career.

Baylor, West Scored But Lakers Lost 4

NEW YORK (AP) — Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers scored a total of 225 points last week, but the Lakers didn't take advantage of the production — losing all four games they played.

Baylor scored 115 to boost his total to 1,083, good for fifth place in the National Basketball Association scoring race, and West threw in 110 for a total of 1,161, good for fourth place, according to league statistics released today.

Oscar Robertson, in second place, raised his average to over 30 points a game — 30.2, by scoring 107 points for 1,268.

Wilt Chamberlain, third in scoring with 1,172 points, continues to lead in field goal percentage, .693, and rebounds, 1,193, and is third in assists, 355.

Local Cage Officials To Meet Wednesday

An election of officers will be held when the Columbiana County Basketball Officials Association holds its final meeting of the season Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the high school.

Wilt Misses But Philly Downs Hawks

By The Associated Press

Wilt Chamberlain finally missed, but the Philadelphia 76ers scored another hit in the victory column.

The 76ers collected the last eight points of the game Monday night for a 112-105 National Basketball Association victory over the St. Louis Hawks at Memphis, Tenn.

The triumph, in the only league action of the night, gave the Eastern Division leading 76ers a 46-4 record.

With 5:54 remaining in the second quarter, Chamberlain drove in for a reverse lay-up, but the ball rolled off the rim, snapping his string of field goals made at 32. He entered the game with a streak of 28 and dunked his first four against the Hawks. The old record was 19, by Chamberlain.

St. Louis rallied from a 12-point deficit in the last quarter to tie the score at 100-100 with 3:42 remaining.

Then with a minute left and the Hawks leading 105-104, Chet Walker put the 76ers ahead 106-105 with a basket. Walker then came through with two foul shots, and Chamberlain added a pair and Billy Cunningham put in a lay-up.

Lisbon Freshmen Top Beaver Local

The loss leaves the young Beavers with a 7-7 record.

Lisbon held an 18-14 halftime lead and was on top 34-24 after three periods. Ieropoli led Lisbon with 15 points while Courtney added 10.

Scott Dubberly scored 10 and Rick McBurney eight for Beaver Local.

Toronto plays Thursday at Beaver Local.

Louisiana Gridder Signed By Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins announced today the signing of Dick Redding of Northwestern State College of Louisiana, their 11th round draft pick a year ago.

Redding, 6-foot and 200 pounds, from Natchitoches, La., was used as a tight end in college but the Redskins said he will be tried at split end.

Griffith Gains Another Narrow Win Over Archer

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight champion Emile Griffith apparently has ended his series with Joey Archer on a second straight close decision and now it may be the turn of Italy's Nino Benvenuti.

After the 28-year-old Griffith had scraped out his narrow but unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden Monday night matchmaker Teddy Brenner said that Benvenuti, the European 160-pound champion had agreed to terms for a March 22 title fight at the Garden.

"If the price is right, Emile will be ready," said Gil Clancy, Griffith's trainer and comanager. "Emile is a fighting champion. He ducks nobody."

Benvenuti, the former world junior middleweight king and beaten only once in his career, was an interested spectator of the return Griffith-Archer fight.

"I wasn't impressed," the handsome, 28-year-old Italian said. "I think I can beat both of them. I just hope I can get the chance with Griffith."

Griffith received $75,000 and Archer about $25,000 on his 15 per cent of the gross gate of $127,119 paid by 14,838 customers and the television receipts.

As in the first fight last July 13, there were no knockdowns. Griffith came close to scoring one in the second round when he clipped Archer with a short right to the jaw and the challenger's right knee dipped to the canvas. Referee Art Mercante didn't count, thus ruling it was not a knockdown.

Outside of the second, the big round was the eighth, won by Griffith as he kept the pressure on for the full three minutes. The champ opened up with left jabs followed by left hooks to the head and body and solid rights to the head.

Referee Art Mercante and judge Joe Dran each scored it 8-6-1 in rounds for Griffith. Judge Joe Eppy had Griffith ahead, 8-7. The Associated Press had Griffith ahead on one card, 7-6-2, and Archer the winner on a second writer's card, 8-6-1.

Price, Lowther Capture OVAC Wrestling Crowns

Two Oak Glen wrestlers captured championships in the OVAC meet which concluded Saturday at Martins Ferry.

Rick Price won the 105-pound title with a 7-6 decision over Mike Deaton of Martins Ferry and Dave Lowther captured the 147-pound title when he pinned Tom Schnupp of Wheeling Central in 3:30.

Oak Glen finished fifth in the field of 17 teams with Martins Ferry capturing the team championship for the seventh straight time. The champions scored 74 points while Bridgeport finished second with 66. Weirton was third with 57, Moundsville had 55 and Oak Glen 51.

Three other Oak Glenn wrestlers took third place in the meet, including Randy Hobbs (114), Ralph Louk (129) and Fred Miller (133).

Nicklaus Birdies Way To Golf Win

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, flashing home on a string of birdies while Arnold Palmer collapsed, has added the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament championship to his ever growing list of titles.

"I've wanted to win this tournament ever since I turned pro, and everything I did happened to come out right this time," Nicklaus said. He now heads for the Los Angeles Open starting Thursday.

With five birdies on the final seven holes despite a cold, biting wind over the tough Pebble Beach course, Nicklaus scored a 31 over the last nine holes. He passed Palmer and Bill Casper and won with a 72- hole score of 284, four under par, on a final round 68.

Head and head all three battled the final day. Three times they were in a three-way tie for the lead and the situation changed on 14 of the 18 holes. Palmer bombed himself out with two shots out of bounds and a 9 on No. 14.

First Casper led, then Palmer and finally on the 13th hole, Nicklaus dropped the second of three straight birds to go into a lead he kept to win the $16,000 top prize in the $104,500 tournament. Casper collected $9,600 for 74 — 289 and Palmer $6,000 for 75— 291. Other trailed.

Big Jack won the 1961 National Amateur title at Pebble Beach and since turning pro has won the U.S. Open, PGA and last year became the first to post consecutive victories in the Masters.

The final round in the storm-delayed Crosby Tournament matched the three men who led the 1966 money lists — U.S. Open champion Casper at $121,944, Nicklaus at $111,419 and Palmer at $110,467.

Casper held a stroke lead at the start. At the end of nine holes he had a 37. Palmer had a 36 to tie him and Nicklaus stood just one stroke back with a 37.

Deadlocked at 293 and collecting $3,493 each for fourth were Bob Rosburg and Jack Burke Jr., with 74s, and Bill Parker with 76.

Fists Fly As Buckeyes Top Purdue In Big Ten

By The Associated Press

Fists flew in Columbus Monday night during the Ohio State-Purdue basketball game, but over at Evansville, Ind., the Toledo Rockets, namely Steve Mix, concentrated on hitting the basket.

Both teams were successful as Ohio State downed Purdue 82-72 in the Big Ten "brawl," and Toledo remained Ohio's only unbeaten team with a 100-90 victory over the Evansville Aces.

A second half melee erupted in the Ohio State game, with police finally clearing the playing area. Players from both benches swarmed onto the floor when the Buckeyes' Steve Howell fouled Boilermaker Roger Blalock.

Heated words followed along with some punches, but there were no reported injuries.

In fact, the only injury in the game was to a Buckeye not involved in the fight—sophomore Joe Sadelfeld who suffered a possible broken left hand when he fell in the first half.

The fight was a draw—both teams were assessed technical fouls and Howell and Blalock were ejected.

The Buckeyes came on strong in the last five minutes to cut down Purdue and even their conference record at 2-2. Before the fight, Ohio State had a 13-point lead, but after the fracas a Boilermaker rally pulled Purdue to 57-56.

The Buckeyes, now 8-5 overall, were led by Bill Hosket with 28 points and Ron Sepic with 20. Herm Gilliam's 28 points topped Purdue, 1-2 in the Big Ten and 7-4 over-all.

In the only other contest involving Ohio teams, Toledo chalked up its 11th straight triumph on the strength of its foul shooting and sophomore Mix 15 of 18 field goals.

Evansville made two more field goals, but Toledo hit 26 of 30 charity tosses to the Aces' 12 of 15.

Toledo was behind 49-38 at halftime, but Mix put the Rockets ahead for good with a basket that snapped a 75 - 75 tie. Mix collected 35 points.

Robinson's Latest Award Is For Comeback Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Robinson, the Baltimore Orioles slugger who has added the Comeback of the Year award to a closetful of 1966 trophies, is anxious to begin another comeback—from knee surgery.

Robinson, who rebounded after the controversial trade that sent him from Cincinnati to the Orioles last winter and captured the batting triple crown in his first American League season, won The Associated Press' Comeback award by an overwhelming margin.

But, despite the latest honor -- he previously was named the American League's most valuable player, the S. Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year and The Associated Press Male Athlete of the Year — the 31-year-old outfielder remains concerned about his progress since the knee operation last Nov. 22.

Cracked medio cartilage was removed from his right knee, and Robinson contends his extensive travels on the banquet circuit have slowed recuperation.

"With some 20-25 dinners," he said, "I haven't been able to exercise my right knee as I should. My right leg is 1½ inches smaller, around the calf and thigh, than the other one, and I need to build it up."

Robinson, however, expects to be ready at the start of the 1967 campaign — for which he will be paid a reported $100,000 — and the lean Californian looks forward to surpassing last year's offensive figures.

"But I don't look to top 49 homers," he said. "I'll be satisfied to hit 40."

Robinson received 194 first-place votes and 685 points in the Comeback of the Year poll of sports writers and broadcasters. Golfer Arnold Palmer was a distant second, with 38 first-place ballots and 351 points.

Points were awarded on the basis of three for first place, two for second and one for third.

2 Of Rams Recover From Bowl Injuries

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — After visits to Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital, Dick Bass and Maxie Baughan of the Los Angeles Rams are recovering from Pro Bowl injuries.

Fullback Bass caught a knee in the face on the first place of Sunday's game in the Coliseum and underwent surgery for a fractured cheekbone Monday. The operation was a success, a Rams spokesman said.

Baughan, a linebacker, underwent tests Monday at the same hospital, and they indicated he was suffering a back abrasion, and not a ruptured kidney which was suspected at first.

Reds To Give Rose Chance In Outfield

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pete Rose, the Cincinnati Reds' All-Star second baseman, hasn't had much experience in the outfield but he's willing to give it a try.

"I've played only one game in the outfield," Rose said Monday after Manager Dave Bristol said he was considering a change.

"I'll tell you one thing, nobody will ever charge ground balls to the outfield faster," added Rose, whom other ballplayers nicknamed "Charley Hustle" because of the way he runs everywhere during a game.

The Reds tried Rose at third base last year, but this didn't work out. If he does all right in the outfield, young Tommy Helms will play second base.

Bristol, who came to Cincinnati Monday for the start of a promotion caravan and to talk with new General Manager Robert Howsam, also said he has been thinking about starting pitchers.

"You can't have too much pitching," he said.

Bristol said he will move reliever Billy McCool 8-8 last season, into the starting rotation. Jim Maloney, who won 16 of 24 decisions, will be another starter, along with Milt Pappas (12-11) and Sammy Ellis who won only 12 games against 19 defeats after a 22-10 season in 1965.

"Sammy is physically sound and I've got to believe he will have a much better season," said Bristol.

The fifth starter will come from a list that includes such veterans as Joe Nuxhall, Ernie Broglio and Jerry Arrigo, along with Dick Stigman, Roland Sheldon, A. Monteagudo, Gerry Nolan and Mel Queen.

Wtih spring training a month away, Bristol said he felt the Reds have a chance to win the National League Pennant and listed the teams to beat as the San Francisco Giants, Pittsburg Pirates and Atlanta Braves. Last season, the Reds finished seventh.

"The (Los Angeles) Dodgers certainly don't figure to repeat with Sandy Koufax, their 'meal ticket,' now in retirement," he said.

Wings Make Move In NHL

NEW YORK (AP) — It took awhile but Detroit's old pros have finally started the Red Wings rolling towards a National Hockey League playoff berth.

Norm Ullman, Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio, who have a total of 46 NHL seasons behind them, have lifted the Wings to within two points of fourth place Montreal.

Detroit swept three games last week while the defending champion Canadiens tied one and lost another.

Ullman picked up eight points on two goals and six assists last week and moved into second place in the scoring race. He has 16 goals and 27 assists for 43 points, 15 less than Chicago's Stan Mikita, who leads with 19-39—58.

Howe, playing in his 21st NHL season, took over sixth place with 14-23—37 and Delvecchio moved into a tie for 10th place with Chicago's Pierre Pilote. Delvecchio has 9-21—30 and Pilote 4-26—30.

Ullman is surrounded by Black Hawks at the top of the race. Mikita is in front of him and Chicago's Ken Wharram and Bobby Hull hold down the third and fourth spots.

Wharram, Mikita's right wing on the Hawks' Scooter Line, has 20 goals and 21 assists for 41 points and Hull, on another goal scoring tear, has 28-12—40.

Pizarro, Pagan Sign With Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Left-handed pitcher Juan Pizarro, purchased by Pittsburgh last month from the Chicago White Sox, signed his 1967 contract today with the Pirates.

Pizarro, 29, appeared in 34 games with Chicago last season, posting an 8-6 record and a 3.74 earned run average.

Also coming to terms for the new season was infielder Joe Pagan.

Pagan, 32, batted .264 and drove in 54 runs in 109 games for the Pirates in 1966. He was the team's regular third baseman from early June through August.

Tom Sides Appointed State Fire Marshal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tom Sides, 55, was named state fire marshal Monday to succeed George Schlotterbeck, who resigned last week.

Sides retired as a lieutenant in 1965 from the Columbus Fire Department and joined the fire marshal's office as an inspector.

Three More Ohioans Claimed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three more Ohioans have died in Vietnam.

The Defense Department said Monday Army Pfc. Rickey L. Gillum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beach Gillum, Franklin, and Army Pfc. Eugene T. Glowacki, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Glowacki, Cleveland, were killed in action.

Rescuers Reach Body Of Coal Mine Victim

BOBTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Rescuers reached today the body of a coal miner who was buried by a roof fall at the Shannopin mine of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. near Bobtown, Greene County.

The victim was Virgil Williamson, 59, of Dillner, Greene County.

A companion, Harry T. Silman, 57, of Morgantown R.D. 8, W.Va., was rescued shortly after the cavein Monday and taken to a hospital in good condition.

Nicklaus Birdies Way To Golf Win

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, flashing home on a string of birdies while Arnold Palmer collapsed, has added the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament championship to his ever growing list of titles.

"I've wanted to win this tournament ever since I turned pro, and everything I did happened to come out right this time," Nicklaus said. He now heads for the Los Angeles Open starting Thursday.

With five birdies on the final seven holes despite a cold, biting wind over the tough Pebble Beach course, Nicklaus scored a 31 over the last nine holes. He passed Palmer and Bill Casper and won with a 72- hole score of 284, four under par, on a final round 68.

Head and head all three battled the final day. Three times they were in a three-way tie for the lead and the situation changed on 14 of the 18 holes. Palmer bombed himself out with two shots out of bounds and a 9 on No. 14.

First Casper led, then Palmer and finally on the 13th hole, Nicklaus dropped the second of three straight birds to go into a lead he kept to win the $16,000 top prize in the $104,500 tournament. Casper collected $9,600 for 74 — 289 and Palmer $6,000 for 75— 291. Other trailed.

Big Jack won the 1961 National Amateur title at Pebble Beach and since turning pro has won the U.S. Open, PGA and last year became the first to post consecutive victories in the Masters.

The final round in the storm-delayed Crosby Tournament matched the three men who led the 1966 money lists — U.S. Open champion Casper at $121,944, Nicklaus at $111,419 and Palmer at $110,467.

Casper held a stroke lead at the start. At the end of nine holes he had a 37, Palmer had a 36 to tie him and Nicklaus stood just one stroke back with a 37.

Deadlocked at 293 and collecting $3,493 each for fourth were Bob Rosburg and Jack Burke Jr., with 74s, and Bill Parker with 76.

By The Associated Press

Fists flew in Columbus Monday night during the Ohio State-Purdue basketball game, but over at Evansville, Ind., the Toledo Rockets, namely Steve Mix, concentrated on hitting the basket.

Both teams were successful as Ohio State downed Purdue 82-72 in the Big Ten "brawl," and Toledo remained Ohio's only unbeaten team with a 100-90 victory over the Evansville Aces.

A second half melee erupted in the Ohio State game, with police finally clearing the playing area. Players from both benches swarmed onto the floor when the Buckeyes' Steve Howell fouled Boilermaker Roger Blalock.

Heated words followed along with some punches, but there were no reported injuries.

In fact, the only injury in the game was to a Buckeye not involved in the fight—sophomore Joe Sadelfeld who suffered a possible broken left hand when he fell in the first half.

The fight was a draw—both teams were assessed technical fouls and Howell and Blalock were ejected.

The Buckeyes came on strong in the last five minutes to cut down Purdue and even their conference record at 2-2. Before the fight, Ohio State had a 13-point lead, but after the fracas a Boilermaker rally pulled Purdue to 57-56.

The Buckeyes, now 8-5 overall, were led by Bill Hosket with 28 points and Ron Sepic with 20. Herm Gilliam's 28 points topped Purdue, 1-2 in the Big Ten and 7-4 over-all.

In the only other contest involving Ohio teams, Toledo chalked up its 11th straight triumph on the strength of its foul shooting and sophomore Mix 15 of 18 field goals.

Evansville made two more field goals, but Toledo hit 26 of 30 charity tosses to the Aces' 12 of 15.

Robinson's Latest Award Is For Comeback Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Robinson, the Baltimore Orioles slugger who has added the Comeback of the Year award to a closetful of 1966 trophies, is anxious to begin another comeback—from knee surgery.

Robinson, who rebounded after the controversial trade that sent him from Cincinnati to the Orioles last winter and captured the batting triple crown in his first American League season, won The Associated Press' Comeback award by an overwhelming margin.

But, despite the latest honor -- he previously was named the American League's most valuable player, the S. Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year and The Associated Press Male Athlete of the Year — the 31-year-old outfielder remains concerned about his progress since the knee operation last Nov. 22.

"With some 20-25 dinners," he said, "I haven't been able to exercise my right knee as I should. My right leg is 1½ inches smaller, around the calf and thigh, than the other one, and I need to build it up."

Robinson, however, expects to be ready at the start of the 1967 campaign — for which he will be paid a reported $100,000 — and the lean Californian looks forward to surpassing last year's offensive figures.

"But I don't look to top 49 homers," he said. "I'll be satisfied to hit 40."

Robinson received 194 first-place votes and 685 points in the Comeback of the Year poll of sports writers and broadcasters. Golfer Arnold Palmer was a distant second, with 38 first-place ballots and 351 points.

Points were awarded on the basis of three for first place, two for second and one for third.

2 Of Rams Recover From Bowl Injuries

Fullback Bass caught a knee in the face on the first place of Sunday's game in the Coliseum and underwent surgery for a fractured cheekbone Monday. The operation was a success, a Rams spokesman said.

Baughan, a linebacker, underwent tests Monday at the same hospital, and they indicated he was suffering a back abrasion, and not a ruptured kidney which was suspected at first.

Reds To Give Rose Chance In Outfield

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pete Rose, the Cincinnati Reds' All-Star second baseman, hasn't had much experience in the outfield but he's willing to give it a try.

"I've played only one game in the outfield," Rose said Monday after Manager Dave Bristol said he was considering a change.

"I'll tell you one thing, nobody will ever charge ground balls to the outfield faster," added Rose, whom other ballplayers nicknamed "Charley Hustle" because of the way he runs everywhere during a game.

The Reds tried Rose at third base last year, but this didn't work out. If he does all right in the outfield, young Tommy Helms will play second base.

Bristol, who came to Cincinnati Monday for the start of a promotion caravan and to talk with new General Manager Robert Howsam, also said he has been thinking about starting pitchers.

"You can't have too much pitching," he said.

Bristol said he will move reliever Billy McCool 8-8 last season, into the starting rotation. Jim Maloney, who won 16 of 24 decisions, will be another starter, along with Milt Pappas (12-11) and Sammy Ellis who won only 12 games against 19 defeats after a 22-10 season in 1965.

"Sammy is physically sound and I've got to believe he will have a much better season," said Bristol.

The fifth starter will come from a list that includes such veterans as Joe Nuxhall, Ernie Broglio and Jerry Arrigo, along with Dick Stigman, Roland Sheldon, A. Monteagudo, Gerry Nolan and Mel Queen.

Wtih spring training a month away, Bristol said he felt the Reds have a chance to win the National League Pennant and listed the teams to beat as the San Francisco Giants, Pittsburg Pirates and Atlanta Braves. Last season, the Reds finished seventh.

"The (Los Angeles) Dodgers certainly don't figure to repeat with Sandy Koufax, their 'meal ticket,' now in retirement," he said.

Wings Make Move In NHL

NEW YORK (AP) — It took awhile but Detroit's old pros have finally started the Red Wings rolling towards a National Hockey League playoff berth.

Norm Ullman, Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio, who have a total of 46 NHL seasons behind them, have lifted the Wings to within two points of fourth place Montreal.

Detroit swept three games last week while the defending champion Canadiens tied one and lost another.

Ullman picked up eight points on two goals and six assists last week and moved into second place in the scoring race. He has 16 goals and 27 assists for 43 points, 15 less than Chicago's Stan Mikita, who leads with 19-39—58.

Howe, playing in his 21st NHL season, took over sixth place with 14-23—37 and Delvecchio moved into a tie for 10th place with Chicago's Pierre Pilote. Delvecchio has 9-21—30 and Pilote 4-26—30.

Ullman is surrounded by Black Hawks at the top of the race. Mikita is in front of him and Chicago's Ken Wharram and Bobby Hull hold down the third and fourth spots.

Wharram, Mikita's right wing on the Hawks' Scooter Line, has 20 goals and 21 assists for 41 points and Hull, on another goal scoring tear, has 28-12—40.

Pizarro, Pagan Sign With Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Left-handed pitcher Juan Pizarro, purchased by Pittsburgh last month from the Chicago White Sox, signed his 1967 contract today with the Pirates.

Pizarro, 29, appeared in 34 games with Chicago last season, posting an 8-6 record and a 3.74 earned run average.

Also coming to terms for the new season was infielder Joe Pagan.

Pagan, 32, batted .264 and drove in 54 runs in 109 games for the Pirates in 1966. He was the team's regular third baseman from early June through August.

Tom Sides Appointed State Fire Marshal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tom Sides, 55, was named state fire marshal Monday to succeed George Schlotterbeck, who resigned last week.

Sides retired as a lieutenant in 1965 from the Columbus Fire Department and joined the fire marshal's office as an inspector.

Three More Ohioans Claimed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three more Ohioans have died in Vietnam.

The Defense Department said Monday Army Pfc. Rickey L. Gillum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beach Gillum, Franklin, and Army Pfc. Eugene T. Glowacki, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Glowacki, Cleveland, were killed in action.

Rescuers Reach Body Of Coal Mine Victim

BOBTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Rescuers reached today the body of a coal miner who was buried by a roof fall at the Shannopin mine of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. near Bobtown, Greene County.

The victim was Virgil Williamson, 59, of Dillner, Greene County.

A companion, Harry T. Silman, 57, of Morgantown R.D. 8, W.Va., was rescued shortly after the cavein Monday and taken to a hospital in good condition.

Both Parties In Solid Support

Pennsylvania House Eyes Eight Amendment Plans

HARRISBURG (AP) — Eight proposed constitutional amendments were up for consideration in the House today with leaders of both parties in solid support of the measures.

The proposals, which were passed by the Senate last week with no hitches, come up for a final legislative vote in the House Wednesday.

All eight were passed by the General Assembly last year. If the House gives its approval, they would go on the May primary election ballot for a vote of the people.

The key amendment in the package would entitle future governors to seek a second four -year term. Another would authorize the state to borrow $500 million for land and water conservation.

The amendments were viewed as noncontroversial, some of them merely making language changes and deleting outdated sections of the constitution.

They were given initial approval Monday by the House Judiciary Committee.

At the same time, the Appropriations Committee reported to the floor $642,400 in deficiency and supplemental appropriations for the current fiscal year. One of the bills would give the Revenue Department an additional $300,000. The bills were passed by the Senate last week.

In other House action, nine members, including one Democrat, introduced a bill which would legalize the use of wiretapping devices by public law enforcement officers.

Under the proposal, police investigators could use electronic devices for the purpose of listening to or recording the voice or actions of persons without knowledge or consent.

Under current law, wiretapping by anyone is prohibited, and House Democrats last year conducted a prolonged investigation into charges that the State Police had wiretapped.

Rep. Stanley R. Kester, R - Delaware, was the principal sponsor of the bill. The lone Democrat to add his name was Rep. Reid L. Bennett of Mercer County.

Another bill introduced in the House called for the establishment of a state crime commission to recommend amendments to the penal code and revisions to police policies.

The commission would consist of nine persons, including police officials, business, church and civic leaders and persons qualified in criminal law, psychiatry and penology.

The chief sponsor of the bill was Rep. Joseph P. Rigby, R-alleheny. House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson Jr., R - Allegheny, and Minority Leader Herbert Fineman, D - Philadelphia, also joined in sponsorship.

Other bills introduced in the House would:

— Create an additional judgeship in the Berks County Court of Common Pleas, Rep. William G. Piper, R - Berks.

— Authorize the death penalty for anyone convicted of rape, Rep. Harry R. J. Comer, D-Philadelphia.

— Authorize school districts to provide or pay for transportation of blind or deaf pupils outside the district with state reimbursement, Rep. James F. Prendergast, D — Northampton.

— Raise from $75 to $125 the monthly payments to those totally disabled as a result of miner's asthma, Rep. John Wansacz, D - Lackawanna.

— Require the election of councilmen in cities with a population of 75,000 or more from districts of equal population, Rep. Frank Polaski, D-Erie.

5 Pennsylvania Servicemen Are Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Pennsylvania servicemen are reported dead as a result of action in Vietnam, the Pentagon announced Monday.

Killed in action were: M. Sgt. Harry C. Mahoney Jr., husband of Mrs. Dorean Mahoney, 836-B Hutchison Place, Philadelphia; Spec. 5 John L. Wilhelm, brother of Mrs. Janet L. Bender, Rt. 4, Berlin; Spec. 4 James V. Ralston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ralston, 111 Babcock Road, Bradford; and Pfc. Gary O. Brennan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Brennan, 2522 Wadsworth St., Pittsburgh.

Dead of wounds is Sgt. Larry W. Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gardner, Rural Delivery, Box 83, Ridgway.

The Defense Department also announced Pfc. William J. Mack, son of Mrs. Dorothy H. Mack, 58 Smith St., Buffalo, N. Y.; was killed in action.

Navy Lt. Charles W. Kelly, husband of Mrs. Jeanne C. Kelly, 30 Hancock Ave., Willingboro, N. J., was listed as dead of nonhostile causes.

The insect kingdom numbers nearly a million species that are already known, and scientists find another 6,000 or so every year.

Both Parties In Solid Support

Pennsylvania House Eyes Eight Amendment Plans

HARRISBURG (AP) — Eight proposed constitutional amendments were up for consideration in the House today with leaders of both parties in solid support of the measures.

The proposals, which were passed by the Senate last week with no hitches, come up for a final legislative vote in the House Wednesday.

All eight were passed by the General Assembly last year. If the House gives its approval, they would go on the May primary election ballot for a vote of the people.

The key amendment in the package would entitle future governors to seek a second four -year term. Another would authorize the state to borrow $500 million for land and water conservation.

The amendments were viewed as noncontroversial, some of them merely making language changes and deleting outdated sections of the constitution.

They were given initial approval Monday by the House Judiciary Committee.

At the same time, the Appropriations Committee reported to the floor $642,400 in deficiency and supplemental appropriations for the current fiscal year. One of the bills would give the Revenue Department an additional $300,000. The bills were passed by the Senate last week.

In other House action, nine members, including one Democrat, introduced a bill which would legalize the use of wiretapping devices by public law enforcement officers.

Under the proposal, police investigators could use electronic devices for the purpose of listening to or recording the voice or actions of persons without knowledge or consent.

Under current law, wiretapping by anyone is prohibited, and House Democrats last year conducted a prolonged investigation into charges that the State Police had wiretapped.

Rep. Stanley R. Kester, R - Delaware, was the principal sponsor of the bill. The lone Democrat to add his name was Rep. Reid L. Bennett of Mercer County.

Another bill introduced in the House called for the establishment of a state crime commission to recommend amendments to the penal code and revisions to police policies.

The commission would consist of nine persons, including police officials, business, church and civic leaders and persons qualified in criminal law, psychiatry and penology.

The chief sponsor of the bill was Rep. Joseph P. Rigby, R-alleheny. House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson Jr., R - Allegheny, and Minority Leader Herbert Fineman, D - Philadelphia, also joined in sponsorship.

Other bills introduced in the House would:

— Create an additional judgeship in the Berks County Court of Common Pleas, Rep. William G. Piper, R - Berks.

— Authorize the death penalty for anyone convicted of rape, Rep. Harry R. J. Comer, D-Philadelphia.

— Authorize school districts to provide or pay for transportation of blind or deaf pupils outside the district with state reimbursement, Rep. James F. Prendergast, D — Northampton.

— Raise from $75 to $125 the monthly payments to those totally disabled as a result of miner's asthma, Rep. John Wansacz, D - Lackawanna.

— Require the election of councilmen in cities with a population of 75,000 or more from districts of equal population, Rep. Frank Polaski, D-Erie.

5 Pennsylvania Servicemen Are Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Pennsylvania servicemen are reported dead as a result of action in Vietnam, the Pentagon announced Monday.

Killed in action were: M. Sgt. Harry C. Mahoney Jr., husband of Mrs. Dorean Mahoney, 836-B Hutchison Place, Philadelphia; Spec. 5 John L. Wilhelm, brother of Mrs. Janet L. Bender, Rt. 4, Berlin; Spec. 4 James V. Ralston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ralston, 111 Babcock Road, Bradford; and Pfc. Gary O. Brennan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Brennan, 2522 Wadsworth St., Pittsburgh.

Dead of wounds is Sgt. Larry W. Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gardner, Rural Delivery, Box 83, Ridgway.

The Defense Department also announced Pfc. William J. Mack, son of Mrs. Dorothy H. Mack, 58 Smith St., Buffalo, N. Y.; was killed in action.

Navy Lt. Charles W. Kelly, husband of Mrs. Jeanne C. Kelly, 30 Hancock Ave., Willingboro, N. J., was listed as dead of nonhostile causes.

The insect kingdom numbers nearly a million species that are already known, and scientists find another 6,000 or so every year.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Fairfield - Waterford Board of Education at the Office of the Clerk of the Fairfield - Waterford Board of Education, R. D. 2, Columbiana, Ohio, until 12:00 Noon, E.S.T. on the 15 day of February, 1967, and opened immediately thereafter, for furnishing the material and performing the labor for the executing and construction of Remodeling of the Fairfield Elementary School and Annex for:

1. General Contract
2. Electrical Contract
3. Heating and Ventilating Contract
4. Plumbing Contract

in accordance with the Plans and Specifications prepared by Robert F. Beatty, Architect, 403 Potters Savings and Loan Building, East Liverpool, Ohio, and on file in the Office of the Clerk of the Fairfield-Waterford Board of Education, R.D. 2, Columbiana, Ohio.

Copies of plans and specifications and proposal blanks, together with any further information desired, may be secured from the Office of the Architect upon deposit of a check in the amount of $25.00 made payable to the Architect.

Upon receipt of a request, accompanied by a deposit as named above, the Architect will forward copies of the bidding documents as named in the preceeding paragraph SHIPPING CHARGES COLLECT.

Deposit will be refunded upon the return of plans and specifications in good condition and with postage or express charges prepaid within ten (10) days after the date bids are opened. Deposit will not be refunded upon return of documents at a later date.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a contract bond in an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the total sum of the proposal including all Add Alternates, supported by a Power of Attorney for the bonding agent, a Certificate from the Department of Insurance authorizing the Surety Company to do surety business in the State of Ohio, and a current financial statement of the Surety Company. A Proposal shall be invalid and not considered unless a bond, with sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates is filed with such Proposal, nor unless such Proposal and Bond are filed in one sealed envelope.

Bids are to be sealed and addressed to:

Clerk of the Fairfield-Waterford Board of Education
Fairfield-Waterford School District
R.D. 2
Columbiana, Ohio

And plainly mark on the outside of the envelope:

"Bids for Remodeling of the Fairfield Elementary School".

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 24, the 24th day of 1967. There are 341 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1908, the first Boy Scout troops were organized by Sir Robert S. Baden-Powell in England.

On this date

In 1848, gold was discovered in California.

In 1898, the U.S. battleship "Maine" was sent to Havana.

In 1924, the Russian city of Petrograd was renamed Leningrad in honor of the founder of the Soviet Union.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur revealed the liberation of the notorious Camp O'donnell in the Philippines where the Japanese had kept U.S. prisoners after the infamous Bataan death march.

In 1946, Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain denied he shared the views of Hitler and Mussolini and said Spain would become a democracy when his people were prepared.

A Junior Editors Quiz About SNAILS

QUESTION: Why does a snail move so slowly?

ANSWER: Most animals can lift their bodies up in the air and run along rapidly on their legs. If you took the position of the boy in our picture and tried to move ahead just on your body, without using arms and legs, you wouldn't get very far. This is the position the snail is in. The snail moves by stretching his body as far forward as he can. There is a kind of foot inside it which he keeps close to the ground so as to get a grip. He is also able to lay down a sticky solution which helps the foot to take hold. Then the snail contracts his body and this draws him, shell and all, up to the place where his foot has taken hold. He will then extend his body and repeat the process. The fact that he can only inch ahead a very short distance each time is what makes him so slow. The sticky solution he lays down acts as a kind of road bed, for it protects his soft body from sharp things which might injure it. In times of danger, a snail can withdraw inside his shell, sealing the opening with a kind of hard door he carries on his body.

Rosolyn Johnson of Hickory, N. C., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Ten years ago—West Germany named Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel as commander of NATO ground forces in central Europe.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy expressed regret over an agreement reached by Local 3 of the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the New York City construction industry earlier in the month. The agreement was over a new contract which called for a work week of 25 hours.

One year ago — President Johnson sent Congress a record-breaking $112.847 billion budget.

Seems January sales must end when January does, even No-Sale Sales! But don't worry . . . our low, low prices never end. They're already lower than everybody else's. That's why we can't reduce them any further, and have a real Sale-sale in January like other people do. Or we'd have to have a Going out of Business Sale. Meanwhile come to our No-Sale Sale for the same old Total Savings! Remember . . . 4000 ITEMS PRICED LOWER EVERY DAY!

★ Prices Effective Tues., Jan. 24, thru Sat., Jan. 28, 1967
